

HERMAN KURTZTISCH, Milwaukee, Wis.

"When it comes to eating, working and sleeping I'm like a different man from what I was a short time ago," said Herman Kurtztisch, 46 1/2 Norris Place, Milwaukee, with the Northwestern Life Insurance Co. in relating his experience with Tanlac.

"My whole system was about to give way as a result of two years' constant suffering from stomach trouble and I was so run down and worn out I was hardly able to work. I actually dreaded to eat, as after every meal I suffered so terribly from heartburn, and I was so nervous I got little rest day or night.

"If it hadn't been for Tanlac I'm firmly convinced I would have had to resign my place. It came to my aid in the nick of time and I am strong for it. Tanlac was worth at least fifty times what it cost me."

Tanlac is sold in Medford by the West Side Pharmacy and by leading druggists everywhere.

TOM THUMB WEDDING AMUSEMENT FEATURE, PLEASES CENT. POINT

CENTRAL POINT, Jan. 5.—The tiny tots of Central Point, numbering about 50, gave the amusement loving public here a rare treat Tuesday evening when they presented Tom Thumb's Wedding to a crowded audience. The entertainment was a decided success from the start to the finish and the children's acting was wonderful and reflected much credit on the lady who trained them, an out-of-town woman who makes a business of presenting the children's own play. Dainty Lucile Siler, with her long black curls and pretty wedding regalia blushing prettily and with her becoming seriousness and grateful song, made a charming bride, while little Mister Storm with just the proper amount of modesty and blushes made an ideal groom. Tiny Mona Lewis, weeping softly, yet proud withal, was the loving mother of the bride, while Jack Terrett, as the proud father was a decided hit. Close to the bride and groom hovered the grand parents, Elizabeth and Lester Scott, who delighted the audience with their rendition of Silver Threads Among the Gold. Chester Grim, with serious mien and solemn voice united the two and his faithful little wife, Geraldine Fox omitted not one of the duties that fall to a minister's wife. As no gathering is complete without its portion of old maids they were not lacking here, and Wyvette Boswell, Eunice Musty and Thelma Sullivan, as spinsters brought down the house with their clever impersonations of three Central Point young ladies, and with their lovelorn songs. There has never been anything given here better than Tuesday evening's entertainment.

Rev. John C. Stille, former pastor of the M. E. church here, but now of Derby vicinity, is here this week attending to business matters. Miss June Dunlap and Andrew Johnson, seniors at the Oregon State Teachers' college located at Monmouth, Ore., who have been spending the holiday season with their parents here, left for the Willamette valley college town Saturday evening. Miss Esther Pankey, former Central Point young woman who has been enjoying a week's vacation with her parents here, has returned to Dunsmuir, Cal., to resume her work as bookkeeper in one of the prominent business firms there.

Jack Cowley and Frank Ross, graduates of the O. A. C. class '21, who are engaged in work in northern California, spent the first of the week as guests of their relatives and many friends here. Later the two young men left for Corvallis to attend and help in a ceremonial meet of one of their fraternities. Miss Helen Norcross, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Norcross of this city, after a ten days' pleasant visit with her parents and many friends here has returned to

Talk of High Cost of Medicine

"Although I paid only $2.00 for 2 bottles of May's Wonderful Remedy I wouldn't take $100 for what 2 doses have done for me. My partner also has taken a dose with wonderful results. He was threatened with an operation for stomach and bowel trouble and is sure he will be all right now. We both suffered from indigestion and bloating with gas." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all Druggists.

An interesting pair, a man and his wife, each on horseback, and with four pack horses in their train, stopped at the local boarding house Monday evening and stayed over night, then with the dawn resumed their journey, which took them over the Siskiyou and into the sunny clime of southern California. The happy wanderers hall from Maine and for many months have been traveling on horseback, finally reaching the coast. After resting for a time in California the homeward journey will begin, and it is the intention of the travelers to see the United States from every angle and to reach their home in the northeastern state next Thanksgiving.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Joe Boswell Wednesday afternoon and spent a very delightful afternoon. About 40 guests were present. Mrs. Josephine Kahler, former president of the organization for several terms, was guest of honor and was presented during the afternoon with the gift of a very nice fountain pen and a huge box of stationery, as a token of the affection and esteem in which she is held in the community. The refreshments were especially delicious and varied, this being due also to the presence of the honor guest there. Mrs. Kahler leaves about the middle of the month for Southern California to make her permanent home. She has been much feted and entertained of late, and the organization of which she has ever been a prominent member was not to be out done in this respect. During the afternoon keen regret was expressed concerning the departure of Mrs. Kahler, but it was the wish of all that great happiness would be hers in her new home. Miss Thelma Ellestad left Monday evening for Monmouth to resume her school work at the Normal school located there.

NEW YEAR TALKS PHOENIX CHURCH

During the present week there have been meetings every night in the Phoenix church in observance of the "Week of Prayer," until tonight (Friday), when the Brotherhood will hold its January meeting at Clyde hall at 7:30, with refreshments, music, short "New Year's Talks," etc. Members and other men and ladies invited. Last Sunday Rev. C. C. Hubert of Ashland, the new Presbyterian Sunday school missionary for southern Oregon, spoke at the Phoenix church, and captured his hearers, both morning and afternoon. The afternoon gathering was a Sunday school workers' conference, following luncheon in the bungalow, and was attended by a number of the Phoenix people and some from Ashland and Medford.

On the coming Sunday, January 8th, there will be the observance of the Lord's Supper in the morning at 11, with reception to membership of those desiring to unite with the church on profession of faith or by letter.

In the evening the pastor will begin a series of stirring messages gathered from the life of a "mountain peak man." These will be of special interest at this time, and will be given under the following chapter headings:

- 1. "Thunderbolt and Little Child," or "Unafraid."
2. "In the Smelting Furnace."
3. "450 to 1.—Who wins?"
4. "Down in the Dumps."
5. "Even-song and Sunset Glow."
"Truth is stranger than fiction," and some of the world's most striking occurrences will be touched in this series of life pictures. At 7:30 Sunday evenings, beginning January 8th, at the Phoenix church.

SPECIAL JAP NUMBER OF LITERARY DIGEST

The Literary Digest of January 7 will be a special Japanese number. Without deviating from the Digest's customary impartial presentation of current topics, this number will be a veritable encyclopedia of information about Japan, covering her history and achievements, and recording her enormous expansion that has brought her into friction with China, America, and British possessions in the Pacific. These difficulties and developments will be fully treated with facts and figures on every phase of the situation. The subjects will cover Japan's army and navy; her commercial and industrial growth; her internal political system and appreciations of her art and literature.

TRUST MAGNATES MODEL PRISONERS IN NEWARK JAIL

NEWARK, N. J., Jan.—Four wealthy manufacturers, powers in the tile, grate and mantel industry, the first men ever to go to jail for violating the Sherman anti-trust law, have been pronounced model prisoners by Richard McGuinness, warden of the Newark street jail, where they are spending four months.

The quartet—Frank H. Noble, Arthur Shilstone, Albert Shale and Herman Petri, who recently pleaded guilty to eliminating competition after their activities had been unthwarted by the Lockwood legislative committee in New York—apparently are quite content with prison fare. Although their funds are sufficient to supply them daily with an outside caterer's products, they seldom supplement the prison menu with anything but pie. All have developed a strong taste for this form of sweetmeat and the pie-boy never misses them on his daily round of the tiers. "Occasionally," said the warden today, "we have a particularly fine roast or fowl down at the staff dining room, and we will send some of the meat up to them. They could, of course, have meals sent in from the outside, but they seem satisfied with our regular food. That I take as a compliment to our kitchen." The quartet are all housed in one large cell in the hospital wing, because one of their number is suffering from an illness which requires constant medical attention. Therefore, they do not come into daily contact with the other prisoners—murderers, burglars, petty thieves. When visitors call, however, the four must follow prison routing and receive their visitors in the prison center or general entertainment room. On such days this center is uncomfortably crowded.

The four men of wealth while away the hours much as they would do in their clubs. They have their pipes, their newspapers, and their cards. But instead of looking out on the avenue through glass crystal clear, they gaze through bars upon the historic Morris canal, as from a feudal castle.

STRUGGLE FOR FOOD IS THE ONLY INTEREST MOSCOW

MOSCOW.—Signs grow as the winter deepens that even Moscow faces a long period of misery, notwithstanding the conditions here are far better than anywhere else in central Russia. The struggle for food and clothing is all absorbing. They are the only things that count. Home, family ties and obligations, friendship, art, politics, public and private ambitions—all are subjugated to these two elemental needs. Most Russians are convinced that the mere return to free trade and capitalism will not right the wrongs the country has suffered, nor the signing of new orders bring back the old life of the peasant, the bourgeois and the noble, nor make Russians again a wealthy people. The struggle for existence is so bitter that few have time to give much thought to the future. The needs of today are too pressing in such cases, for example, as the former wealthy noble and his wife from Smolensk who now live without fire or food in a Moscow garret which the husband can not leave because he has no shoes. His wife speaks half a dozen languages yet she can find no employment. In the same condition is a woman who once owned 200 miles of land fronting on the Caspian sea. Arrested as a spy, separated from her husband and children and shipped north to die, she is eking out an existence by peddling eggs and vegetables in Moscow. Speculation and robbery are the two favorite ways of obtaining the necessities of life.
