NEW DIRECTORS OF FARM LOAN ASS'N. ELECTED FOR 1922

The stockholders of the Rogue River National Farm Loan association held its annual meeting Tuesday for the election of seven directors, received report of officers and adopted several resolutions petitioning congress to restore the farm loan act to its original intent and purpose as a co-operative organization whereby the management of the federal land banks would be in the control of and six of the nine directors be elected by the farm loan associations, who own the capital stock of said land banks but are now denied any voice in the management of their own owned land banks because of the amendment of January 18, 1918, a so-called "war emergency," which will stand for twenty years unless repealed by congress or declared unconstitutional by the courts.

Resolutions.

"Whereas, the Farm Loan associations in a few years will own all the stock of the federal land banks and yet have no voice whatever in their management.

"And as the farm loan commissioner of the farm loan board fails or refuses to call an election to elect the six (6) permanent directors for the federal land bank of this district, and, as provided by section 4 of the farm loan act, and, Whereas, the amount of stock subscribed by the stockholders of the Federal Land Bank of Spokane, Wash., exceeded $100,000 at the time ary 18, 1918, making the temporary officers permanent and, whereas, said amendment is held to be unconstitutional so far as the same applies to the Land Bank of Spokane, and the land banks of seven other districts each of which had more than $100,000 subscribed by the stockholders of the Farm Loan associations in each of said districts at the titme of the passage of the said amendment of January 18, 1918.

"Whereas, as the first step toward remedying his situation a mandamus proceeding has been commenced, in the name of the Brentwood National Farm Loan association in the Supreme court of the District of Columbia, to compel the Farm Loan Commissioner to take the steps necessary to enable the associations to elect directors in the Berkeley Farm Loan Bank,

"It is therefore resolved that we authorize the board of directors of this association that should said suit be successful and the Farm Loan Commissioner fail and refuse to call an election of the Farm Loan associations of this land bank, Spokane district for the election of the permanent directors as provided in section 4, of the farm loan act, to bring mandamus suit in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia against the Farm Loan Commissioner to call an election of the Farm Loan associations of this land bank district to elect permanent directors in the name of this association.

"We unreservedly endorse the Walsh bill (8278) which restores to the local farm loan associations, the control of the federal land banks to which their ownership entitles them.

"We pledge our hearty support and approval of the Fletcher bill (8620) which will provide a broad and constant market for farm loan bonds by allowing such goods to be utilized as collateral security for rediscounts with the Federal Reserve Banks, according them the same privileges now enjoyed by government bonds."

"Be it resolved further, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to our senators and representatives in congress, to President Harding, farmers' organizations at Washington, D. C., and that our secretary be authorized to present a similar set of resolutions for ratification and adoption by the next annual meeting of the Oregon State association of National Farm Loan associations."

Seek Friends in Hour of Need

"In the hour of need we quickly seek our best friends," writes Chas. Schridd Ward de Wet, 957 73rd Ave., Oakland, Cal., "our little boy and girl had a severe dry, rasping cough without phlegm, a cough that chokes and flushes the face of the sufferers like unto convulsions. Foley's Honey and Tar was a wonderful emergency remedy." Cases like this give Foley's Honey and Tar its reputation as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Adv.

SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE IN THIS COUNTY JAN. 24

Jackson County Sunday School association will conduct a series of Sunday school institutes in this county the last week in January, with four one-day meetings as follows:

Ashland, Tuesday, January 24.
Medford, Wednesday, January 25.
Phoenix, Thursday, January 26.
Central Point, Friday, January 27.

Four leading Sunday school field workers have been secured for these institutes, viz: Miss Georgia Parker, state secretary for Oregon Sunday school association; Rev. W. L. Nuys, field representative for religious education, Presbyterian Sunday school board; Mrs. Clara G. Essen, Bible school superintendent for the disciples of Christ in Oregon, and Rev. C. C. Hulet, Sunday school missionary. There will be assisted by local pastors and Sunday school workers besides state and county Sunday School association officers who will be present at all these meetings.

An all-day institute will be held at each of the above points, with sessions at 10:00 a. m., 1:30 and 7:00 p. m. Leading features of the programs at each institute will be masterful addresses, practical conferences and inspiring music, each number given by a specialist in his line.

Complete programs are being printed and will be out in a few days. Watch your local paper for full program and further announcements of these meetings.

Jackson county is indeed fortunate in having these specialists of Sunday school activities come to us. Every pastor, Sunday school officer and teacher and all persons interested in Bible schools directly or indirectly, should not fail to attend one or more of these meetings and hear these specialists. The four points selected make them easily accessible from all parts of the county. You will find every session full of pep and inspiration,—a live program put on by a live bunch of hustlers. Don't miss the 10:00 a. m. session. You'll say it's a good one. A very hearty welcome awaits you at these institutes.

IMPERSONATOR AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The First Baptist church has secured John Frederick Mason, reader, impersonator and humorist to give one of his taking entertainments in Medford. He will appear Friday, January 20th, at the church. Mr. Mason comes with the highest recommendations and is known locally to some of our people, who highly recommend him to the public. From the many testimonials, the following are taken:

Mr. Mason is decidedly strong in both serious and comic veins. In portraying pathos or lofty emotions he holds his audience as few readers can; and as to the comic portrayals, they are certain to make everyone laugh until his sides ache. An evening of entertainment by Mr. Mason is sure to please.—Prin. W. L. Arant, High school, Oregon City, Ore.

High School Entertainment a Rel Success—With John Frederick Mason as the feature of the entertainment at the Astoria high school last evening, one of the best programs of the year was given before a large crowd of students and citizens of the city.

It has been my pleasure to attend the Lyceum courses for the past 12 years. In that time we have had several readers of almost national reputation, but none have furnished programs that I have enjoyed as much as the readings of Professor John Mason.—C.C.Jacobs, Lyceum committee, McMinnville, Ore.

The Screen

Remarkable Dog Leaves Tonight

A distinctly pleasing novelty is "The Silent Call," the current feature photo-drama at the Page theatre. The interlocking of the double plots is accomplished through the agency of Strongheart, the world's most marvelous police dog, who is the real hero of the photoplay. It is a picture for the entire family to see. It contains, besides the universal appeal of any other worth-while photo-drama, numerous distinct features that will endear it to the memory of its every beholder, irrespective of age, sex or economic condition. Every member of every family should visit the Page theater tonight before "The Silent Call" leaves.

At tomorrow's matinee the long awaited Charles Chaplin picture, "The Idle Class," will open a four days engagement at the Page theatre. Chaplin is seen in a dual role, as the happy hobo, ever persecuted by the cops and then as a Beau Brummel. While "The Idle Class" is shorter than "The Kid," from his first appearance Chaplin gives the signal for the laughs to start. Edna Purviance and Mark Swain are seen in supporting roles.

As an added attraction, the theater will present Wanda Hawley in a clever comedy romance of college life called "The Snob."

DOKKEY BAND TO PLAY AT MINSTREL SHOW

The D. O. K. K. band which is preparing a special number for the Knights of Pyhias Minstrel Show, which is to appear at the Page theater on Thursday and Friday evenings of next week, is a permanent organization composed of the best band instruments in this district, all local men, but that does not mean that they are at all limited in musical ability, and all who hear them on this occasion will readily agree to that.

F. Wilson Waite, the director of this band, has been a conscientious and consistent student of band and orchestra music ever since he started struggling with the local high school band in the old days at the old Washington school building, he has had splendid experience playing under competent musical directors in both band and orchestra, in local theatres and on the road with high class musical organizations, also over two year's in the service of his country during whichc time he did splendid work developing a high class military band. There are several members of this D. O. K. K. band, who have had many years of excellent musical training in different parts of the country, and have made good at all times, but are now permanent residents of the Rogue River Valley from choice, and that insures a high grade permanent musical organization.

The personnel of the band as it will appear at the Page on January 19 and 20, is as follows:

Conductor—F. Wilson Waite.
Clarinets—Edwards Chas. Root.
Flute and Picolo—Robert McIlveen.

MEDFORD SCHOOL PUPILS DESCRIBE THE BEST TEACHER

A recent symposium conducted by A. J. Hanby, superintendent of the Washington school regarding what the pupils of the school consider make up the best teacher has attracted considerable attention among educators throughout the country. The Hickory County Index published at Hermitage, Mo., recently printed the following article:

The following are characteristic statements about the "best teacher" found by Mr. A. J. Hanby, Medford, Oregon, in a study made of how 280 children estimated the best teacher: She had no pets. she was broad-minded. The children felt as if she was one of them. She always wanted me to be thoughtful. Her actions helped me to better. She helped me by her pure character. If you did not get your lessons, she was so sorry that it made you ashamed. She took a great deal of interest in us. Her manner seemed to give me an inspiration to work. She never punished the pupil because she didn't feel good. Does not scold us one time, and then be awful good for awhile. Always meant what she said. Always thought before she spoke. She don't feel satisfied when her pupils don't have a good lesson. By making things pleasant so I felt like working. She taught me to see the bright side of life. She helped by taking a personal interest in me. she did not have a beautiful face, but a beautiful spirit. She always said, "try, try again and never give up." She told us to face life squarely and do our best. She helped me to get a better view of life. She helped me by saying, "A No. 1 Excellent." She helped me to see what education would mean to me in after life. Her noble character and acts will always stay with me. Fifty different pupils used the expression, in some form: "She taught me to be self reliant."

Dentistry a Life and Death Problem

The condition of your teeth may mean a long life or an early grave.

Modern dentistry holds the highest rank in preventative medicine.

The object of a good dentist must be to prevent trouble and stop mouth disease.

Safer to Prevent Disease

It has been proven that it is better and a great deal cheaper to adopt measures for fire prevention than it is to fight fires and sustain losses on that account.

It is safer and better also to adopt measures for the prevention of mouth diseases.

Dentistry Insurance Against Disease

Disease lurks where bad teeth are found, and cleanliness should be taught in the homes and in the schools, and in all industrial institutions. Every measure should be taken against mouth infection.
