

ENFORCE DRY LAW MORE EFFICIENTLY IN JOSEPHINE CO.

In sentencing a trio of bootleggers in the Josephine county court at Grants Pass Saturday, to county jail terms and heavy fines, Judge F. M. Calkins said from the bench, according to the Grants Pass Courier:

"I wish to commend the officers of Josephine county upon the fine piece of work done here. They have been more successful in their endeavor to stamp out this class of crime and at a lesser expense than have the officers of Jackson county. The methods employed in obtaining evidence are upheld by the better class of thinking people, and the law has placed its seal of approval upon these methods."

The men sentenced were Sid Appleby, Bert Lewis, and Bob Blackburn, and they had been found guilty of selling intoxicating liquor.

Judge Calkins, in reply to a plea for leniency for Lewis, replied that in his mind there was no excuse for committing a crime of this nature, as might be found in a case of stealing, and that in his estimation there was but one lower class of men, the one that derives his living from the earnings of a fallen woman, and that any man who sold intoxicating liquor, especially the kind that is generally sold, would receive no sympathy from him.

K. OF P. MINSTREL SHOW THIS WEEK TO BE A HUMMER

Littered to the lid with mirth and melody, customized like the queen of Sheba out on a camping tour, and with a cast that will crack 'em dizzy and knock 'em defunct, the K. of P. Modern Minstrels will regale the admiring and gasping multitudes which will grace the Page theater Thursday and Friday nights, January 19th and 20th, with a molang of minstrelsy which is a riot from the lifting of the curtain to the final clang of the song.

Teaming with the latest song hits fresh from Broadway pastures, which the jaded Gotham theater goers are still humming, with the most complete and beautiful array of costumes which have ever appeared here on the human frame and crowned with up-to-the-minute screaming sketches and monologues, the show will surpass all previous efforts along this line.

Prominent among those who will be in the glare of the calcium light will be Tom Rouse, who needs no introduction in the minstrel field, Tom loves the taste of burnt cork. When he sings "Aht the Oregon World's Fair," old heads in the audience who haven't had a cackle since July first, will see joy in everything, even prohibition. Tom promises to create a riot. Nothing strange in that! And, Oh Boy, wait 'till you see the boy with the unhuman dogs. No other than our Charlie Talent. Save your votes for Charlie!

W. Y. Crowson, as Prof. De Kakelee, the world's most noted monologist is booked to have the limelight in act two, and will put across one of the big crashes of the show. W. Y. almost became a stage actor but he became a "candy kid" and declares the only thing that hindered him from realizing his ambition was the low price of eggs in his youth.

An imposing array of talent makes its appearance in the first part, "A Kentucky Dokey," with Ben Lindas aided and abetted by Capt. A. J. Vance, Ed Gere, Roille Beach and Howard Grover. The balladists include Everett Brayton, W. R. Gaylord, Forest Edmeads and George Maddox. Knights who fear their dark past will be revealed can wear ear muffs, for the end men have unearthed a vast number of jokes which will be sprung at their expense, in addition to the usual line of humor which is peculiar to the race of end men, making just another feature of the big show.

A special feature of the minstrel show will be a short concert by the augmented D. O. K. K. band.

Among the numbers presented by them will be Graingers Irish tune from County Derry. This number is considered among the foremost of modern compositions.

Christian Church Debt Is Over Subscribed at Sunday's Meeting

Sunday was one of the biggest days in the history of the Christian church in Medford. The people not only responded to the call to raise the $2550 to free the church building of debt, but over subscribed the amount, which will be used in making necessary improvements on the building.

The day opened with the next to the largest Sunday school ever assembled in the church and the amount of collection asked, $100, was exceeded.

A big audience assembled at the 11 a. m. service although it had been advertised that the balance necessary would be raised at that service. There was good music by the choir and special numbers after which it was stated the amount necessary to raise at the service, including the Sunday school collection was $450. Mr. Millard had charge of raising the funds.

members of other churches and friends thanking them for their support to the church, morally and financially, complimenting the members of their congregation for their ready response to this call and all other calls made on them before and on having a church free of debt. He paid a splendid compliment to the work of the pastor, D. E. Millard and Mrs. Millard and gave a short review of their work, showing about 200 new members had been added in less than three years, that all departments were active and that one of the aims of the five-year period, the raising of the church debt, amounting to about $5000 had been accomplished in less than three years. The speaker then presented the note and mortgage to E. Schuler, one of the trustees of the church when the building was erected.

and in about an hour over $600 was subscribed, which was the cause of much rejoicing.

The church was packed to overflowing, all the standing room being taken and many were turned away at the evening dedicatory service and the program was highly enjoyed, all the churches joining in the service. The program was as follows:

Rev. F. H. Leach of the Baptist church gave a short address on behalf of the pastor and members of the other churches, complimenting the congregation on having a vision to build a church several years ago, adequate to the needs for years to come, for their success in raising funds to lift the mortgage, on the excellent work they are accomplishing and on having such a splendid, progressive pastor as Mr. Millard.

He then told of the church of yesterday, today and tomorrow and of the different conditions and problems they had and will have to meet, and closed with an appeal to everyone to devote some of their time, talents and money to the work of the Lord and his churches.

Rev. E. P. Lawrence led the audience in prayer, after which S. S. Smith, chairman of the board, made a short talk welcoming the pastors.

MAY ALLOW U. S. STEEL TO OPERATE SHIPS THRU CANAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The fight of the United States Steel corporation and its subsidiaries to operate steamships by way of the Panama canal is upheld in a tentative report submitted today to the interstate commerce commission examiner designated to take evidence. The examiner's report, if sustained by the commission will settle the controversy hanging about that point.

Steamship lines operating through the canal attacked the steel corporation's right to participate in the business on the ground that it was also owner of a number of railroad lines, some of which are engaged in trans-continental traffic. Railroad lines so engaged are prohibited by law from entering into direct competition with ships in the canal trade.

The examiner decided that none of the corporation's railroads could be considered competitors for trans-continental business and that the ownership of merchant vessels by the manufacturing industry had not been forbidden by congress.
