Bankers Refuse to Testify Against Siko Barghorn Trial Off

YAKIMA, Jan. 21.—Prosecutor Sydney Livesey announced today that he would ask dismissal of the charges of accepting deposits when they knew the Central Bank and Trust company was insolvent, which he filed against Siko Barghorn, Spokane, president, and J. B. Ellis, Yakima, cashier, following their indictment by the grand jury.

The case against Barghorn had been set for trial Tuesday. The motion to dismiss the charges will probably be presented later. Livesey said he took the action following advice of C. P. Hay, former state bank commissioner. Fred Stevens, deputy state bank examiner and Yakima bankers that they could not testify for the prosecution.

Head Ached and Body Ached There are various symptoms of kidney trouble—rheumatic joints, back-ache, sore muscles, stiff joints, and "always tired" feeling. Mrs. Geo. Morgan, E. Fairfield, Vt., writes: "My head ached and my whole body ached so I could not sleep. Foley Kidney Pills gave me relief." They heal and strengthen weak, disordered kidneys and bladder and help them in their work of filtering the blood and casting out of the system the impurities that cause pain and disease. Prompt in action. Adv.

SAMS VALLEY IS UP IN ARMS ON TAX INCREASES

SAMS VALLEY, Jan. 21.—The last few days of severe cold weather make Oregonians feel as if their state had been set many sections northward. Most of the snow which fell Tuesday was immediately melted away. The little that was left will remain till the cold spell breaks.

W. W. Edington, who has won a name throughout the valley for growing fine porkers, is still living up to the title. Having recently butchered a six-hundred and fifty pounder. Mrs. Dick Straus and infant son, Stanley, returned to their home from Medford Sunday.

Mike Koger and family have leased the Burford property for a term of two years and will take possession as soon as Mrs. Burford can dispose of the household furniture. Mrs. Burford, with her children will join her husband, who is in business near Eugene.

While returning from Selma Sunday evening, Bill Minnat and wife accompanied by Frank De Ford and wife, were stranded for several hours north of Grants Pass with a broken axle in their car. After summoning car service, they returned home, leaving the damaged car until necessary repairs could be made.

The intermediate school room under Miss Straus is busy preparing a play entitled "Playing Fair" to be given in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sage and children of Table Rock spent Sunday with the Wilson family.

Mr. Dougherty, our well known Raleigh man, was calling on patrons through this district Wednesday. Mr. Dougherty states he finds many of the farmers through his canvassed districts sorely pressed under the weight of our excessive taxes. There's no doubt the farmer has plenty of grounds for complaint, as many are paying a larger amount for taxes than the property can possibly be rented for even charging an excessive rate, and much more than the owner can begin to make with the low prices on grain and stock.

Mr. J. A. Cook, who has been under the doctor's attention most of the winter, is gaining slowly. The recent cold weather has forced some of our farmers to lay in a new supply of hay.

War Eagle Mining Company

This is a local company whose stockholders are men of standing in this community. A furnace of about 35 tons daily capacity has been built on the property and the company is planning to start operations in the spring.

Mr. Clifford G. Dennis of San Francisco, the engineer who made an examination of the mine in August, 1920, is recognized as one of the leading authorities on quicksilver in the United States.

His report gives the mine 48,000 tons of indicated ore with a value of $960,000 and shows a net earning of $85,500 per year for five years, or a total of $427,500.

Additional work since the date of the report indicates that the amount of ore will be doubled. His estimate of earnings gives a net return of 32 1-2 per cent per annum on the value of the stock, or in five years, principal repaid in full and 12 per cent annual interest.

His report covers only 900 feet of the fissure vein which has been traced on the surface by the forces of the Oregon Bureau of Mines for a distance of 4,500 feet, leaving 3600 feet of the vein yet to be developed.

In addition to the fissure vein there is running through the property a large dyke of low grade ore which with large furnaces and equipment will produce immense quantities of quicksilver.

These reserves indicate an operation covering many years after the stockholders have received returns to an amount exceeding their original investments. This property is a good one from the standpoint of investment and has wonderful opportunities for increasing in value.

The starting up of the furnace will provide another payroll for Medford and the valley. The company is offering some of its stock for sale. Apply to A. L. Hill, Phone No. 1055, Room 208, First National Bank Building, Medford, Oregon. Adv.

Dentistry a Life and Death Problem

The condition of your teeth may mean a long life or an early grave. Modern dentistry holds the highest rank in preventative medicine. The object of a good dentist must be to prevent trouble and stop mouth disease.

Safer to Prevent Disease It has been proven that it is better and a great deal cheaper to adopt measures for fire prevention than it is to fight fire and sustain losses on that account. It is safer and better also to adopt measures for the prevention of mouth diseases.

Dentistry Insurance Against Disease Disease lurks where bad teeth are found, and cleanliness should be taught in the homes and in the schools, and in all industrial institutions. Every measure should be taken against mouth infection.

Fuses and Safety

A fuse in an electric circuit is a safety device designed to open the circuit at a certain load. Its use is to prevent the wires in the circuit protected from carrying more than their rated capacity and to prevent fires and damage to electrical apparatus.

Fuses are placed at various points in the electrical circuits where the wires branch or change size; also at the entrance to the building to protect the wiring in the building, and on the pole outside of the building to protect the transformer and outside circuit.

When a fuse blows, there is usually a cause for it, such as an overload or damaged circuit and the cause should be found and repaired before replacing the fuse.

Better investigate and eliminate any risk that may exist. Your Contractor Dealer can protect you at a nominal cost.
