The announcement that John Frederick Mason, the reader and impersonator, was to recite Van Dyke's great poem, "The Tolling of Bells," drew a very large and representative audience. It is no exaggeration to say that seldom has a Medford congregation listened to a more soul stirring message than that listened to Sunday night at the First Baptist church. The reading was interspersed with several selections by the choir. The attention of every person was held to the closing word. Mr. Mason is making many friends while in the city. He has accepted an invitation to entertain the young people at their social Friday evening at the church, in case he is not called out of the city. Rev. R. F. Leach announced that next Sunday evening the choir will give one of their monthly sacred concerts.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed with Sulphur it Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking 5c any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a faithful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
