OVER A MILLION DOLLARS SPENT ON LOCAL ROADS, 1921

ASHLAND, Feb. 3.—Of the $18,245,281 spent in Oregon last year on highways, the amount expended in Jackson county was $1,124,675.46 to be exact, and it is fair to assume that a major portion of this sum was paid out in this vicinity, due to completion of the Eskiyou mountain unit, which is reported to have cost $600,000 from this city to the California boundary line. It is interesting to note through what channels this great highway revenue has been derived. Primarily, the sale of bonds by the state yielded nearly $10,000,000; motor vehicle licenses, over $1,600,000; gasoline and distillate tax, about $1,000,000, while the market road tax approximated another million. Federal appropriations amounted to $2,181,956; supplemented by a fund of $985,631 raised by the counties through the state. Of the total aggregate, the railroads contributed $46,378.16. In addition to primary construction work, the further sum of $15,000 was expended in Jackson county for maintenance and betterments.

The icy pinnacles in the park reservoir have taken on new growth, until now the altitude of Mt. Whitney far exceeds that of either Mt. Shasta or Mt. Ranier. If this cold spell keeps up, the park board will be impelled to import a polar bear and contingent of Eskimos, all of which with an igloo constructed on some of the ice floes nearby, would make the Arctic surroundings typically complete. Axel Amundsen, of Talent, near relative of the great Scandinavian explorer, pronounced the scene in Ashland park wonderfully realistic by way of comparison with aurora borealis surroundings in the far distant northland. Everybody should go and witness this icy spectacle, beautiful to gaze upon, before the frosty substance fades due to the advent of a February thaw which did not put in its accustomed appearance in January.

The local fish market has been purchased by W. H. Casebeer, of Central Point, who will continue the business at the old stand on North Main street.

Why Are Some Women Popular happy, beloved and successful, while others drag out a negative existence, of no use to themselves or anyone else? Except in a few cases the answer is to be found in a state of freedom from the troubles known as "female." The well woman radiates cheerfulness and serenity, while the ailing one reels because of her lack of these qualities. It is not necessary, however, to harbor aches and pains, and the "blines" that make one a detriment to society. Thouse of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought relief to such women, and given them a new lease on life.

DEDICATION OF CHURCH GYM. AT R. RIVER SUNDAY

ROGUE RIVER, Feb. 2.—(Special.) The formal dedication of the new gymnasium annex of the Presbyterian church will take place next Sunday evening. Rev. Morgan, with members of the Presbyterian church of Grants Pass, expect to come in a body. Besides Mr. Morgan there may be one or two others to assist the pastor in the services. Both the choir and quartet will sing, and an enjoyable evening is expected.

The building was the direct outgrowth of a real need for the community. Basketball so far is the leading game, but the smaller children also have an hour of play a week, under the direction of their teachers.

The floor of the building is two steps lower than the Sunday school room where it joins onto the church. A large opening was cut in the wall, so that this room serves now as a platform whenever it is desired to use the new building as an auditorium, for plays, programs, etc.

The large fireplace in the center of the sidewalk, opposite the main entrance, the old fashioned, small light casement windows, together with the beam construction, give the large room a quaint, home-like appearance. Two bracket lights over the mantel, crane on either side of a glowing fire, a motto in the panel in the mantel just over the fire, with the words "That Reminds Me," suggests story telling, laughter, and all that makes for a real good, sociable time.

The big event of the season will be the formal opening of the building, on the following Wednesday evening. A banquet will be given, with covers for at least two hundred people, including all who have donated money and labor with their families and friends of the church and community. Many prominent people will be present from different parts of southern Oregon.

Albert Van Goethen, one of our enterprising young men, did not think our girls basketball team would ever win a game from an outside team. Browne, the principal, enjoyed an extra fine dinner at the Waldorf. Albert Van Goethen served as host.

A meeting of the Ladies' Civic club was held last Friday at the Library. The roll call was responded to by each member reading a favorite quotation from the Bible. ## SAMS VALLEY IS BADLY SHOCKED BY PHONE WIRE

SAMS VALLEY, Feb. 2.—One of the most criminal acts of negligence was committed in our community Saturday by a Gold Hill truck driver which resulted in no end of damage as well as a most dangerous condition which lasted many hours. The driver had backed into the electric wire causing a connection on the telephone line, which is not protected at the crossing as it should be, and instantly charged the telephone wires throughout our community as far as the Gold Hill switch board burning out everything on its way excepting where disconnections had been immediately made. Several were severely shocked and if this had happened during a dry state of weather many homes would have been burned. Among other damage sustained was the loss of a valuable Holstein heifer belonging to O. T. Wilson.

One of the surprises of the season for the community was the news of the birth of a fine baby boy, born at Eugene to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Treham. It will be some time before assurance can be felt for the mother's health.

SEVEN OAKS HAS WHITE PIGEON AS NEW SPEED COP

WILLOW SPRINGS, Feb. 2.—(Special.) For the past ten years the W. B. Harris family have had a snow white pigeon as a pet. It has always stayed closely at home until the past week when it has appointed itself speed cop in the vicinity of Seven Oaks. It spends the day escorting fast-moving cars up and down the highway, fluttering in front or circling around and around the auto until a mile or more from home or until it meets another car, making the return trip in the same way.
