of the pupils' teeth in the public schools of America are usually in a condition which is a positive menace to the health and mental activities of these children.

Reports from clinics and examinations made in hundreds of schools show that the same conditions exist in every public school. WHAT ARE YOU DOING FOR YOUR CHILDREN'S MOUTHS?

Are you, as parents, recognizing the vital importance of preserving your children's teeth and preventing diseases in their mouths. Do you realize that neglect of your child's mouth now may mean eye trouble, bad tonsils, adenoids, acute indigestion and serious stomach trouble in the near future?

DEFECTIVE TEETH A PHYSICAL DEFECT

With adults as with children, bad and decayed teeth are a positive detriment. Dead and decaying nerves producing poisonous pus which finds its way in the blood stream, causing body infection and a decided deficiency in mouth action.

Give your mouth health care no matter how many things are pressing.
