A BUYER'S PHILOSOPHY

"When I buy for service I would rather know the firm which makes the machine than to listen to wearisome talks about superior metal and brilliant engineering skill."

"I don't know much about those qualities of different metals which makes them best for different purposes—nor do I know anything of the technical laws of mechanical engineering—but I do know human nature."

"I know that a concern with the right ideas, of service to its customers—has done so because its product has made good with the people who bought it."

"I'll bet on that concern—and I feel comfortable when I have bought its product. It isn't good business for me to trade anywhere else. I cannot afford to do so."

We consider that our success—our nineteen years in business and the fact that our business is a growing business—has been due largely to the very fact just quoted. In no line is a greater degree of confidence placed in the seller by the buyer than in the nursery line. Therefore the nursery with an established reputation for good goods and a square deal is worthy of your patronage.

For nineteen years, we have grown and delivered from Toppensish, clean, well rooted, thoroughly matured trees to thousands of orchardists in the State of Washington and throughout the west. We are still in the same old spot, in the same old pleasant occupation and our greatest satisfaction today is in meeting the smiling owners of productive, profit-making orchards the trees standing in which were propagated in our nursery.

Our trees are grown on clean, new soil, of the Yakima Indian Reservation. Rich soil, abundance of sunshine and moisture under control are all basic factors. But equally necessary is a continuous cultivation to develop the root system for which our trees are famous, and the hard wood fibre which is only made possible by the combination of the above necessary elements.

You can't produce good trees without brain and muscle intelligently applied. We think we know how to grow them. Our customers are sure of it.

WELL KNOWN MINER FOUND DEAD IN SISKIYOU CABIN

George Bennett Whitecomb, mining man and owner of the Grubstake mine in Siskiyou county, was found dead Thursday, in his cabin by E. C. Fawcett. It is estimated that Whitecomb died about February 7th. He was 61 years, 3-months and 17 days of age. Men were sent out from Coroner Perle's office of Jackson county and the body was brought to this city yesterday morning. Due to the isolated district in which the cabin is situated and to the snow in the mountains, it was necessary to transport the body by pack horses a portion of the distance. Coroner Turner of Siskiyou county held an inquest over the body of the deceased this morning and it was decided that the death had come from natural causes.

Mr. Whitecomb was identified in the local mining industry, being a partner in a large group of claims in this district. He put the first truck on the road from the Blue Ledge mine to the railroad and assisted in numerous other ways in furthering the interests of mining in this district.

The deceased is survived by a mother, two brothers and three sisters in Los Angeles and a son, George E. Whitecomb of Foster, Ore.

A brother, Carroll S. Whitecomb, of Los Angeles and the son, George E. Whitecomb, are in this city and will accompany the body to Los Angeles.

TINY TOT IN BED SEES MURDER OF PARENTS AND BOY

WACO, Texas, Feb. 12.—A dragnet by county and city officers around Concord, a village near here where W. H. Barker, merchant and his wife were slain Saturday night, and Homer Turk, 13-year-old son of a neighbor, dangerously wounded, had resulted today in the arrest of 9 negroes. None of them corresponded to descriptions given by Barker's four-year-old daughter.

Officers said they were uncertain whether the motive was robbery or revenge. Barker had been shot through the head and his wife's head had been cleft with an axe. Homer Turk's skull was crushed and his condition is critical. Willie Lou Barker, the little daughter was a witness to the tragedy.

The girl remained in bed and alone in the house from the time of the attack, which was about ten o'clock Saturday night, until after daylight Sunday. The wounded boy lay on the floor beside her bed unconscious and she, hearing him come in, thought he was one of the assailants and was afraid to move. She was in bed when J. L. Turk, the boy's father, entered the house and discovered the crime.

AMERICANS IN 'SPIK' WAR COMING HOME

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Plans have been completed for the repatriation of Americans who enlisted in the Spanish foreign legion for service in Morocco. It was said today at the state department. The men seeking return, approximately 80, have been collected at Cadiz and will be escorted by the American vice consul to Cherbourg, France, where they will embark for New York February 23.

Expenses will be borne by the American Red Cross.

Claude E. Normand, of West Brighton, worry either.

Mr. Normand made public today one of a number of telegrams they have received from their daughter since Taylor was slain.

"Don't worry, Mamma and Papa," the message said. "Unfortunately I was at the Taylor house a short time before he was killed. Had I not gone there for some books, my name would never have been mentioned in the affair. They all know but here that I know nothing about the sad affair and that I will be exonerated—Mabel."

TREE CAMPAIGN STEADILY RISING TOWARD 200 MARK

The interest which the citizens of Jackson county are taking in the "Buy a Tree" campaign, according to a statement made by the chairman, W. H. Gore of the committee in charge of planting trees at the county fair community grounds, is most gratifying and will result in the beautification of the grounds to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Recent purchases include five trees by Mrs. L. A. Salade of Central Point for Helene Salade; Joanne Louise Salade, Beaulieu L. Hunt and the Salvation Army.

B. R. Wood, Medford, Route 2, requested that trees be planted for Josephine N. Taylor, Margaret Jane Gould and William Dennison Wood.

Belle Daley asks for two trees to be planted in the names of Andrew McNeil and Richardson Harrison Daley.

Groven Peiffer of Central Point one tree for Grover and Jennie Peiffer, Mrs. L. C. Williams of Talent one for Viola Pearl, and Elizabeth Beeson of Talent has ordered one tree for Earl Beeson.

Trees reported last Saturday as having been bought, 111, to which the above 13 make a total of 124 purchased so far.

Citizens of the county who intend to "Buy a Tree" should do so this week to enable the committee to know as soon as possible how many they will be required to get.

RETAIL PRICES FOOD DECREASE EASTERN CITIES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Further decreases in retail food prices are shown in statistics issued today by the department of labor for 27 of the country's large cities for the month ending January 15. The decrease in that period for the various cities was given as follows:

Salt Lake City and Savannah, nine per cent; Providence eight per cent; Manchester, N. H., New Haven and New York seven per cent; Louisville, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Norfolk, Pittsburgh, and Rochester six per cent; Birmingham, Chicago, Columbus, Peoria and Seattle five per cent; Baltimore, Kansas City, Little Rock, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Springfield, Mass., and Washington, D. For the year period, January 15, 1921 to January 15, 1922, the announcement said, there is a decrease of 21 per cent in Salt Lake City and 15 per cent in Seattle.

As compared with the average cost in the year 1912, the retail cost of food in last January 15, the department said, showed an increase of 29 per cent in Seattle and 21 per cent in Salt Lake City, the latter being the smallest increase in any city where statistics were taken.

The increase was highest in Washington, D. C., being 50 per cent.

BURGLAR RIFLES TILL AT PEERLESS BAKERY

The Peerless bakery on East Main street was entered last night and the cash register was pilfered. The thief secured $5 in cash—about $3.50 in silver and $1.50 in pennies. It has not yet been ascertained whether any of the pastry, manufactured by the firm, was taken or not.

Entrance was gained by kicking the lower part of the glass in the front door from its frame and crawling through the hole. The robbery was discovered about three o'clock this morning.

IRISH SITUATION CRITICAL

of armed men was made upon the hall. The Hibernians sallied out and repelled with stones. Two were wounded by bullets. Local unionists special constables drove away the attacking party which the constables declared, was composed of Sinn Feiners.

The two newspaper men from Belfast who were arrested in the interior last week, reappeared in Belfast this afternoon. Their release was obtained through the interposition of Owen O'Duffy, republican army chief of staff. Although the reporters had been moved from point to point while held prisoner, they never once came into contact with the kidnapped unionists.

Curfew Reimposed.

BELFAST, Feb. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Beginning tonight the curfew extending from 9 o'clock in the evening until 5 o'clock a. m., will be reimposed. This action was decided upon today in a conference between the lord mayor, the military commander and the police commissioner as a result of renewed disorders yesterday which continued sporadically today.

Up to three o'clock today a total of eight persons had been killed since Saturday.

Owen O'Duffy, chief of staff of the Irish republican army, who visited Clones yesterday said in an interview today he found feeling very tense in Monaghan county because of the unlawful arrest and detention of the entire divisional staff of the republican army at Dromore, county Tyrone.

(This probably has reference to a number of Gaelic football players, wearing Irish republican army uniforms, who were arrested on January 15 while on their way from Monaghan to Londonderry. Several of them were declared by the Royal Irish Constabulary to have carried loaded revolvers and arms were alleged to have been found in the automobiles in which the football players were riding.)

"In this area," said Chief O'Duffy, "I succeeded in allaying the feeling somewhat. If the army officers are not released I cannot promise or guarantee peace in this part of the country. I cannot conceive that the British government will continue to hold these men. I they do, I am full of gravest fears for what may happen in the north."

DENBY STARTS SLASHING

The secretary said figures on personnel he presented were based on that assumption and that his belief that the navy could not "dispense with any of its present personnel" with the exception of the reduction in enlisted strength of 10,000 men.

Mr. Denby said army officers had "loyally and earnestly" co-operated in the efforts at naval retrenchment. Since he took office he added, 248 naval ships had been sold and the money turned into the treasury.

The navy revolving fund of $250,000,000 would be reduced $100,000,000, he said, and the money turned into the treasury in cash.

McArthur Cleared From

Indications of considerable opposition for a $350,000,000 appropriation, about $40,000,000 of which would go for building developed during the informal discussion of the naval program between Mr. Denby and members of the committee.

Representative McClintock, democrat, Oklahoma, told the secretary reports were current that congress was preparing to cut the appropriations to $150,000,000 or $200,000,000.

"I am a big navy man myself," said Representative McArthur republican, Oregon, "but from what I gather an attempt will be made in congress to cut the figure to $150,000,000. How it can be done, I cannot say."

Chairman Butler wanted to know if Mr. Denby felt assured that war was less probable as a result of the arms conference.

"I am absolutely certain of it," the secretary replied, "but until other nations have reduced their armament we ought not to go about it too rapidly. In other words, the treaty should be ratified first."

- (1) Studebaker had the biggest volume in its history in 1921.
