

MRS. ANNA E. HUGHES

Mrs. Anna E. Hughes, 22 West Elm St., Chicago, an artist who enjoys a wide and enviable reputation for skill in china painting...

"I haven't enjoyed such good health or felt so well in every way in years as I do now. Before I took Tanlac I was so run down that half an hour of my work would tire me completely out and I was actually so nervous and weak that at times the brush would fall from my hands and I would have to quit work for the rest of the day. Every night I would lie awake for hours, miserable and nervous."

"My improvement after the first few doses of Tanlac was rapid and constant. I'm happy to say I'm well and strong now and feel better than in twenty years. Tanlac deserves every word of praise I can give it."

The Screen

A story of human interest and spectacular scenes in "The Son of Wallingford," the latest of the "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" series made popular by Mr. and Mrs. George Randolph Chester. It presents the son of J. Rufus as the hero—and he is surely a "chip of the old block." However, he has pangs of conscience, for he tries to make a fortune honestly and at the same time prevent his father from carrying out a scheme of crookedness. Wallingford, internationally famous, stages a big pageant to launch a fake building boom in the town where his son is drilling for oil and the heart of the girl. There are other scenes which carry rich interest. It is vastly entertaining. At the Rialto theatre till Saturday night.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Kowalt

Last Saturday Pearl Stowell and Thomas Given called in for dinner and when the Butte Falls stage came in there was an elderly lady came in on it and after taking dinner went on her way to Medford. She was on her way to her home in Portland and had been on a business visit to Butte Falls. I did not learn her name as she was very much averse to talking.

Saturday afternoon Rev. H. G. Adams came in from Butte Falls where he had been holding meetings the two weeks before, at least the two Sundays before and the most of the time during that time he reports that he had a good attendance although there was no special interest manifest. He expects to preach here next Sunday, Feb. 19, both morning and evening at the usual hour. He preached at Brownsboro last Sunday morning and here at night but his congregations at each were not very large owing, perhaps in part, to the prevalence of the flu.

F. A. Phelps and H. G. Kinney who were mentioned in my last letter as having held services here from Sunday, Feb. 5th, continued until Thursday night but I understand that the last night they had no one to attend, but Mr. Phelps remained until Sunday and preached to a very small crowd and left for other parts in the afternoon thinking that Eagle Point was a hard place to tackle.

I omitted to state in my last letter that Truman (Buster) McLellan came in last Thursday and is here at this writing.

Sunday we had quite a number of people here for dinner although most of them were people who live here and near town that come in quite often for a meal. But later in the day John Foster and Mrs. True of Medford called for supper. Mr. Foster, who is working at carpentering for the Fish Lake Canal company had been up to one of the camps along the canal for his tools and the lady simply went along for the ride and to see something of our fine Little Butte creek country and stopped for force of habit at the Sunnyside for supper and to receive acquaintance.

Monday afternoon I ventured out and went as far as the postoffice for my mail and on, and in my rounds met John Long of Derby. He had come out with a team for a few necessary supplies and was just ready to start for home and some one asked about what time he would get there and he said about 11 o'clock, and it was then near 2 p. m. Only think of a man having to take nine hours to travel over fourteen miles of one of our county roads when the U. S. mail is carried over six days in each week.

He was the only man from the country I met that day. I also met Mr. Muskopf and Clifford Hickson and Mrs. Radcliff who lives just above town and her son passed me as I was on my way. I also met Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stanley. I also met Mrs. J. Rigby formerly of Brownsboro, in T. E. Nichols' store. Mr. Rigby and family were just in from eastern Oregon where they had been for the past few years. Mr. Rigby, wife and six children have moved into a suite of rooms in the upper part of the Nichols store building and are planning to settle in this part of the country and we give them a cordial greeting as they seem to be people who will help build up the country.

Among the callers Monday night for supper and bed was Ira Tugate of Butte Falls. He had been to Medford and came out this far on the afternoon stage, spent the night and went on up home Tuesday morning. We also had Sam Courtney, our paperhanger and painter. He is engaged at this writing in re-papering the Sunnyside hotel. He has adopted a novel plan to secure business; he buys his wallpaper in quantities at wholesale prices and sells it to those who patronize him at cost thus saving the profit of the middleman. Mr. William Coy, a brother-in-law of our banker, H. E. Campbell, was also a guest for supper Monday night.

W. H. Rheb, who is the traveling agent for Watkins remedies and extracts came in for dinner Monday and supper and spent the night.

F. J. Ayres and wife who live on the P. & E. R. R., about six miles from here drove in with his team Tuesday to look after his interests here and do some trading with our merchants.

As I was crossing our footbridge Tuesday I met Mr. Turnbough, the section boss on the P. & E. and Wayne Moore, and Mr. Turnbough told me that they had moved their camp up the track about five miles and that they were pushing the work right along. Mr. Moore said that he had left his car in the old Daley barn and that some sneak thief had broken the lock on his toolbox and taken all of his tools and taken the radiator off his car, but that he had a clue to who it was and unless he returns them right away that he will be prosecuted. I hear of several instances where people have had articles taken without leave, and more than once where machines have been robbed of the gasoline out of their machines.

Among the guests here Tuesday for dinner were George Holmes, our garage man, and on inquiry learned that his wife was away on a visit, but he didn't say where. We also had a traveling agent for the Standard Oil Co., but I did not learn his name.

Mr. Peterson, the present mail contractor carrying the mail from here to Persalt via Trail, came in Tuesday evening with the mail, ate his supper and started back for Trail to take Mr. Chappell up as he had been sent for to come up and care for one of his large work horses. He is interested in a sawmill with Mr. Adamson and another man and Mr. Adamson had charge of the team but he and his wife and some of the children were sick in bed with the flu and the horse had been down in the barn and could not get up so Mr. Chappell was called to care for him, necessitating his going up in the night, but before he reached there some of the neighbors had come to the rescue and got him up.

Mr. Peterson also brought me two dollars to pay for the subscription for the Weekly Mail Tribune for George F. Hall of Trail.
