OKLA. GOVERNOR GIVES UP FIGHT

OKMULGEE, Okla., Mar. 4.—Defeated in his efforts to testify before the grand jury which is investigating the failure of the Okmulgee Bank of Commerce and banking transactions of several state officials, Governor J. B. A. Robertson returned today to his office at Oklahoma City.

Before leaving Governor Robertson announced that the mayor and other local officials had offered an apology for the incident yesterday at the court house where several blows were exchanged between Robertson and James Lyons, local oil operator.

Announcement by Governor Robertson that he had no intention of superseding County Attorney Hepburn in the conduct of the grand jury investigation was taken by officials here to mean that no further moves would be made by the governor until the grand jury returns a report.

County Attorney Hepburn reiterated that neither the governor nor anyone else whose acts were under scrutiny would appear before the grand jury. The grand jury has taken a recess until Monday morning.

BETTER BUSINESS CONDITIONS SEEN

NEW YORK, March 4.—Better business conditions continuing throughout the year were foreseen by Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the war finance corporation, in an address here today at a luncheon of the republican club. Every concrete and tangible piece of evidence, he asserted, pointed to an existing and prospective gradual improvement in the general situation.

Better financial conditions and the recent stabilization of the markets for agricultural products, he said, "furnished a sound basis for the business revival."

CURFEW LAW IN EFFECT, BUT NO ONE ARRESTED

The new curfew ordinance went into effect last night and will be enforced from now on. No arrests were made last night nor no minors under the age of 17 years were taken home by the police or any other peace officer, for the reason that no boys or girls under that age could be seen on the street unaccompanied.

By mistake the signal bell was rung by the fire department last night at 15 minutes of 9 o'clock instead of the proper time, 15 minutes after 9 o'clock. Tonight and every night hereafter the signal for minors to be off the streets and in their homes will be given correctly.

The ordinance forbids boys and girls under 17 years of age from being on any street or in a public place after 9:30 p. h., except when accompanied by parent, or legal guardian or other proper adult person. For the first offense any youth found violating this ordinance will be taken home by the police and the parents' or guardian's attention will be called to the violation.

If any youth under 17 years old is found violating the ordinance for the second time the parents or guardian will be subject to arrest, and if found guilty on trial in police court will be fined.

The ordinance virtually puts it up to the parents to see that the ordinance is enforced. The Medford-Ashland basketball game at the Nat tonight is expected to draw out a great crowd of youngsters, who if not accompanied by their parents or other proper adult, and not at home by 9:30, will be taken into custody by the police and escorted home.
