FORESTRY SERVICE EXPERT AT FORUM

The least the business men of Medford can do to show their courtesy to Philip H. Dater of the forestry service is to attend the forum of the Medford chamber of commerce at the Medford Hotel next Wednesday noon, at which he will make an address.

Being the district engineer and in charge of distribution of forestry funds for road building purposes for the entire northwest, Philip H. Dater is in position to help communities solve their road problems and as there is a considerable area of Jackson county in the forest reserve, business men should show their interest in his coming extend him an enthusiastic welcome.

Organization plans for the Jackson County Golf club will be made at a public meeting of the charter membership signers and all other interested citizens at a meeting at the public library at 8 o'clock Friday evening.

The committee in charge of the solidification of membership has been so successful that it is believed the success of the undertaking is almost an assured fact.

The committee desires that not only those who signed the membership blanks be present, but everyone who is interested in seeing the golf club a success. The public is invited and urged to attend.

Notice to Dairymen

Dairymen of the valley are requested to be present at educational dairy meetings held at 2 o'clock on Friday and Saturday of this week.

On Friday, March 10 the meeting will be held at Mr. Ralph Billing's farm near Ashland, and Saturday's meeting at that of Mr. Geo. Hilton near Medford.

The premier dairymen, C. C. Dixon of Shedd, and a representative from O. A. C. will take up various phases of dairying such as "Calf Raising" and "Developing the Dairy Herd."
