At the city council meeting tonight a new councilman to fill the long existing vacancy in the Second ward will probably make his bow to the public. H. U. Lumsden was elected by the councilmen to fill this vacancy some time ago, but declined to serve. It is understood that the man to be chosen tonight is also well qualified for the position and has agreed to serve.

We believe we can show you the very best values in splendid modern homes, and arrange the most reasonable terms. Brown & White. 361*

Pat Swayne, the Applegate rancher and cattle man, while cranking his tractor Sunday after having overhauled its mechanism and probably not adjusted it again properly, suffered a broken left arm in two places when the handle kicked back. He was brought to the Sacred Heart hospital in this city where the injury was attended to, and left the hospital this forenoon and went home. While Pat was coming out of the anaesthetic at the hospital his comments about the accident and tractors in general attracted much avid attention.

Medford high students are well pleased with the fair criticism of last Saturday night's basket ball game here published in the Ashland Tidings as follows: "The Ashland high school quintet defeated the Medford five at Medford in an easy game Saturday evening. The final score was 28-20. Eddie Durso refereed. The Medford boys put up a plucky fight during the first half, only needing one point to tie the Ashland hoopers, but they did not have such good luck in the second half. The Medford girls defeated the Ashland five by a score of 19-3."

A portion of the morning services at the Presbyterian church, Rogue River, on March 5, was devoted to a memorial of the life and services of Lester Jacobs, a former resident of Rogue River. Judge D. H. Gillmore, an old time friend of the Jacobs family, when they lived in Rogue River eleven years ago, assisted in the funeral services at Medford, March 4. At the memorial service, Sunday morning Judge Gillmore gave a sketch of the early life of the deceased soldier, emphasizing the bright and manly qualities which he possessed as a young lad and which prompted him to answer the first call of his country during the world war. The congregation were deeply interested in the review given by Judge Gillmore of the beautiful and impressive military service held in Medford on the occasion of the funeral March 4.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to keep her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the busy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft, lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
