

'BOB' BOYL GETS PROMOTION VOGAN MANAGER SPOKANE

Robert H. Boyl, familiarly known as "Bob," received word today that he has been promoted by the Vogan Candy company of Portland to act as their manager in eastern Washington, with headquarters at Spokane, and he and his family expect to leave Medford in a few weeks.

Although Bob's many friends will regret to learn of his departure, they will be glad to know that this new position is the most important place in the company outside of an executive office, limited to stock holders and means a big step toward power and affluence for the popular Medford booster.

Bob Boyl came to Medford from Greensburg, Indiana, in June, 1912, was with C. E. Gates in auto business for several years, later going with Mason Ehlmen & Co., and was with them, serving in various capacities for about six years. In September, 1921, he went with Vogan Candy company.

Boyl is a member of Medford lodge B. P. O. E., No. 1148, Medford lodge No. 102 A. F. A. M., Woodmen of the World No. 59, Mr. and Mrs. Boyl are both members of Bismarck Chapter No. 66, Order Eastern Star of Medford, and with their two sons, Bobbie and Jack, are members of the Presbyterian church of Medford. Mr. Boyl is also a member of the Craters club of Medford, being one of the charter members.

Bob Boyl is the youngest man in both age and time of service with the Vogan Candy Co., and is very reluctant to leave Medford on account of his many good friends and being so pleasantly situated, but believes the opportunity is one he can't afford to reject.

"Motion picture people live more than the average person," she said. "They meet more people. To live right, they must be careful of their personal reactions. The feelings connected with love and marriage must be kept sacred—unshined, not toyed with. The emotions are too marvelous to be profaned, to be made commonplace."

Mae Murray's husband is big, blonde Bob Leonard, her director. She believes that marriage union should be a lasting one. At the same time she holds the opinion that fiction and drama and perhaps experience have spread wide among this generation, that it is immoral to remain married to one whom one cannot love.

In "Peacock Alley" she plays a French dancer who marries an American business man. Handicapped by differing traditions and experiences, stalked by barriers of race and tongue, stumbling through misunderstandings and knocked down by a tragic encounter, their married love triumphs.

HOPE IN THE TRIALS

Tom Moore is not only Tom of the golden smile in his new picture, "Beating the Game," which is being shown at the Rialto theatre this week, but he is also Tom of the strong arm and Tom of the fraternity of crooks. In this powerful story by the famous American playwright, Charles Kenyon, the dramatic theme is supplied by a ruse perpetrated on a clumsy crook by a United States senator, whose hobby is criminology. Mistaken by the crook (Tom Moore) for a master thief, the former obeys the latter's instruction to "go it straight" for a short time. Believing that this is part of a plan to make a great haul, the thief complies with the request, only to discover that his honesty has won the heart of a wonderful girl and the respect of the community. How the regenerated crook fights to continue his life, even at the risk of disclosing his past, are but a few of the climactic episodes.

RARE ILLUSIONS AT ELKS' SHOW

Some surprising stunts in the way of mystery and magic will be presented by Moraine and company at the 5th annual Elks' Minstrel to be held at the Page theatre Monday and Tuesday nights, March 13 and 14. Considerable arrangements will be made for the entertainment of the young and old. The box office sale opens Friday noon.

The same old men as appeared in last year's show, will strive again to get the laughs. It is a source of great satisfaction to them, that the winter season is lasting on so long as it will be quite difficult to prepare bouquets of carrots or spotted vegetables.

This Man Was Helped John Grab, 2539 Jackson Ave., New Orleans, La., writes: "My kidneys were weak and had a soreness and dull pain across my back. I felt dull and languid and my kidneys didn't act right. I began taking Foley Kidney Pills and they soon put my kidneys in a sound healthy condition." Foley Kidney Pills help the kidneys rid the system of acids and waste that cause lameness, backache, sore muscles, swollen joints and rheumatic pains. Time in effect, quick in action. Sold everywhere.

C. OF COMMERCE PRIMARY CLOSES ST. PATRICK'S DAY

The annual election for directors of the Medford chamber of commerce was ordered by the board at their meeting held yesterday afternoon.

The most democratic form of election will be used, being that of a sealed ballot sent to the members by mail.

A roster list together with a ballot will be mailed the members next Saturday for the primary election for the nomination of eight directors. The primary closes at 7:30 on the evening of March 17th. The final election ballot with the names of sixteen members who received the largest vote at the primary, will be mailed to the members on the following day and all of the ballots for the final election must be in by Friday evening at 7:30 on March 24th.

In a financial statement made to the directors it showed that no funds are on hand to pay the present obligations of $386.52. The statement however disclosed the fact that members owe $3296.14 and therefore they ordered a collection campaign to be instituted during next week.

This campaign will be in charge of nine committees of from three to five members each who will call upon every member of the chamber who is indebted to the organization to collect the amount now due.

Members are not eligible to vote at the primary election next week unless their dues are paid to April 1st.

The financial condition existing in Medford at the present time was never better, nor was there ever a more satisfactory indication of a prosperous future. The directors have been limited in their activities, which they could initiate for Medford, by lack of funds and therefore those in arrears are urged to send in their checks and save the time of the collection campaign committee members next week.

STATES ATTORNEY CHARGES CHICAGO JUDGE IS CROOKED

CHICAGO, Mar. 8.—Robert E. Crowe, state attorney, today asked Chief Justice W. B. Egan of the criminal court to empanel a special grand jury to investigate reports of what he termed "subornation of witnesses, perjury and bribery of jurors in recent cases."

Mr. Crowe said he had reference to the trials of William Quenne, Simon O'Donnell and other labor leaders acquitted of graft and extortion, and of Thomas Walsh, labor leader acquitted of murder.

Walsh was to go on trial today on a second murder charge before Judge Sullivan who was the judge in the first trial. The state obtained a transfer to Judge Fitch, but Judge Sullivan refused to heed it and ordered the trial to start this afternoon.

Mr. Crowe in arguing the matter told Judge Sullivan that he, the judge, had not given the state a fair trial in the first case and that Walsh's attorneys had been congratulated by other attorneys when it became known that the Walsh trial would be before him.

PENKNIFE SURGERY SAVES BOY'S LIFE

CINCINNATI, Mar. 8.—Surgery with a penknife yesterday saved the life of two-year-old John Washington, who was taken to a Cincinnati hospital with a peanut lodged in his windpipe, causing strangulation, the child had stopped breathing when Dr. C. C. Payne arrived at the ward.

Realizing that death would ensue before he could send for instruments, Dr. Payne took his penknife, slit open the boy's throat and incised the trachea just below where the peanut was lodged. This permitted the passage of air and the child was soon revived. Later the peanut was removed.

MRS. H. H. SARGENT CONTRIBUTES TREES FOR '46 PIONEERS

Mrs. Alice A. Sargent of Jacksonville widow of the late Col. H. H. Sargent has requested the Jackson County Fair association to plant fifteen American Elm trees at the county fair community grounds in memory of the fifteen pioneers who in the year 1846 blazed the first trail through the Rogue River valley.

A request is made that these trees be planted in a group so that all when named will be together. The pioneers for whom these trees are being planted are Lindsay Applegate, Jesse Applegate, William Parker, John Owens, Moses Harris, Levi Scott, John Scott, Henry Boykus, Rowen Smith, Bennet Osborn, J. Jones, David Goff, Samuel Goodhue, William Sportsman and Benjamin Burch.

This makes a total of 279 trees that will be planted at the fair grounds this year.

C. Dewey Brown, representing the A. C. Stevens company, is here to establish a local agency of that concern.
