

U. OF OREGON GLEE CLUB TO SING AT NAT. WEDNESDAY

With Aubrey Furry of Phoenix and Carl Newbury of Medford as singers, the University of Oregon men's glee club will appear at the Nat. under the auspices of the high school, Wednesday, March 29. Vernon Vawter is in charge of the alumni work of receiving the club.

Former Oregon university students and music lovers generally are looking forward with considerable interest to the appearance of the club here. A number of social functions are being planned, according to those in charge.

The work of Ronald Reid, a former Ellison-White artist of pianoforte, is a feature of the program, which includes everything from the lightest numbers to the massive operatic selections.

The stunt work of the club is especially well prepared, with "The Gass-hopper" as the main vehicle. A number of clever readings and monologues are also scheduled.

According to present plans the club will sing at the high school in the afternoon, because of the fact that the trip is being made for the purpose of carrying harmony to as many people as possible.

Word received recently from the university campus indicates that the program is in good shape for presentation. John Stark Evans, one of the best known musicians on the coast, is director of the club.

MINE DIRECTOR AT FORUM WED.

The last forum of the fiscal year of the Medford chamber of commerce will be held at the Medford hotel, Wednesday, H. M. Parks, director of the Oregon Bureau of Mines and Geology will speak on the development of mines in southern Oregon.

The mining industry of this district has made greater strides in the past year than for some time past, and when fully developed it will be a source of wealth that will greatly influence the growth and prosperity of this valley and it should be fostered by everyone.

The business men will find this forum topic very interesting and they are urged to attend the luncheon.

Bandits Spare Life On Plea of Child

CHICAGO, Mar. 27.—A child's plea "master bandit, please don't shoot my daddy; he'll give you his money," caused one of two holdup men who were robbing a drug store late yesterday to withhold fire from a pistol pointed at Thomas Murphy, a customer. Murphy, in the store with his son, showed fight and one robber had knocked him down. He surrendered $75. The robbers stole 64 pints of whiskey, a quantity of narcotics and $75 from the drug store.

CENTRAL POINT

Mr. and Mrs. John Hurley of Hornbrook, Cal., arrived here from the California town Thursday morning to spend a few days with the former's father and other relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Grieves and son and Mrs. Lewis Pankey, all of Prospect, visited their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Tex and their many friends here during the past week.

Mrs. Lulu Busselberry and small son, Arthur, of Gold Hill, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boswell.

Reverend Jones, the young pastor of the local community church, who came here some six months ago to preach as his conscience dictated him to in this field, resigned his charge here last week on account of some dissatisfaction which arose in the church several weeks ago over his utterances and his presentation and delivery of his messages each Sunday.

Those people in the church who were opposed to their young leader maintained that they had hired a man to preach according to their doctrine, and that instead of that, he went contrary to their belief, and brought in the teachings, gestures, force and belief of another sect, and as they hadn't brought him here to teach them that doctrine, they thought they had a right to protest. In this they were right. On the other hand the pastor preached according to his belief and as his conscience dictated him to. He too was right.

Over this division and dissatisfaction arose, and all concerned finally saw that "A House Divided Against Itself Cannot Stand," hence the resignation. The large following of the young pastor, and the many friends of him and his family in the community regret keenly the state of affairs which prompted him to leave Central Point and his many friends. No one held anything, more than a difference in belief and way of preaching against him and all who knew the family esteemed them. On Sunday Reverend Jones preached his farewell sermon, leaving Tuesday morning with his family for Philomath, where he and his wife will enter the missionary field, later going to foreign fields. Many friends were at the station when they left to bid them Godspeed.

A bouncing baby boy made his appearance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Williams here Saturday evening. This is the first boy in the family, and he will be a great pet with his parents and two little sisters.

The body of Mr. Cornutt, former resident of Central Point, who passed away at Lebanon, last week, was brought here Monday morning by a son and daughter and services were held in the Christian church, Monday morning. Many friends of deceased and family attended the services. Interment was made in the Central Point cemetery, and Reverend Millard of the Christian church in Medford officiated. To the three children who survive their father, and especially to Jim Cornutt, resident of this city, all friends extend their sympathy.

The local boarding house, just off Main street, just behind the Thurber and Dixon store, which has been run for the past year, very satisfactorily to all patrons, by Mrs. Jess Neff, is to be closed in all respects the first of the month. Regular boarders by the week or month, Mrs. Neff will continue to take, but those people who come in now and then for a meal, will not be fed there after April first. Mrs. Neff gives for her reasons for closing the house to "Once in awhile" who drop in, too much work, too much expense and not enough returns, maintaining that some days she makes great preparations for feeding many and they don't come, then when no big preparations are made, several come and dinner must be gotten in a hurry, and all in all it's too variable and can't be reckoned with. Then too, there are two other eating places here on Main street, Joe Boswell's lunch counter and Thurber and Dixon's lunch place. Many traveling men who have been taking their meals at Mrs. Neff's while here will be sorry to hear of her decision to discontinue her services.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Betts and small son of Gold Hill, visited relatives and friends here during the week.

The many friends of Reverend and Mrs. Carlton Jones, about fifty in number, met at the parsonage last Friday afternoon, and gave them a very pleasant farewell reception and linen shower, which was greatly enjoyed by all, although there was an undercurrent of sadness all afternoon as thoughts of losing this very worthy couple and these two loyal friends, came and would not keep out. The afternoon was spent in a good social time, and after Mrs. Jones had opened and exhibited each of the many beautiful and useful gifts given her—light refreshments of cake and punch were served to all present. Many expressions of regret were heard as the company went their homeward way, but all felt that although friends must part, they were all better for having met and known Reverend and Mrs. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Hootton of Trail visited friends and relatives here the first of the week.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. O. H. Vielt

Mr. Berrian, the superintendent of the fish hatcheries in Southern Oregon has had an electric pump put in near the fish trap on the L. R. Haak place for the purpose of pumping water to be used in developing the fish eggs to prepare them to be carried to the hatchery near Butte Falls.

Perry Foster of Beagle, one of the pioneers of Jackson county, was a business caller last Wednesday, and so was Marsh Garrett, who has a fine stock ranch near Lake Creek and another on the head waters of South Little Butte.

Mrs. Willard of Ashland was visiting Mrs. W. Miles on the Fred Pezouze place the first of the week.

Mr. J. F. Maxfield of Brownboro passed through here Wednesday and stopped a short time to have our blacksmith do a little repair work on a piece of machinery and then went on to see one of our prominent farmers and stock men, Charley Cingude, who I understand is afflicted with the rheumatism.

Mr. Cadzon, one of the leading merchants of Butte Falls passed through here Thursday on his way up home.

John Rader, another one of our prominent farmers and stock men was here on business, I understand, from what I consider good authority, that he is talking of giving up the farm work and purchasing property here in our town.

J. L. Hovey, foreman on the All-seva orchard, was a business caller Thursday. He reports that he has two families and two single men working most of the time pruning the orchard and was burning the brush when the big rain storm came Wednesday night and Thursday, one of the finest rains we have had for a long time. Mr. J. L. Robinson, one of our leading farmers, was in Thursday and in commenting on the benefits to be derived from it, remarked that it would be worth thousands of dollars to this end of Rogue River valley, although some of our pessimists are predicting that now the rain is over and that we will have no more rain until fall, but who ever heard of a crop failure in Oregon, especially in Rogue River valley?

William Burg and son, who are living on the old Caton place between here and Trail, near the Crater Lake Highway, were in town Thursday and report the ground thoroughly soaked and prospects fine for a big harvest this season.

Miss Ella Armstrong of Medford is here visiting Miss Myrel Smith.

Mr. Wm. L. Hurst and son Louis, started for the oil fields of California the first of the week on a prospecting tour, leaving the rest of his family here.

D. R. Patrick, our general carpenter, came in Thursday and engaged board and room at the Sunnyside for a while. He has been engaged by our postmaster, V. C. Clements, to do a lot of work on the postoffice and telephone building and make some decided and much needed improvements in the appearance and comfort, as well as convenience of the two offices.

Lois Martin, who has spent most of the winter trapping, made a business trip to Medford Thursday and spent the night, returning Friday morning.

Glenn Curtis of Chicago, came out from Medford Friday morning and went up to Lake Creek on the stage. Ray Davis and his brother, Roscoe, of Derby, came out Friday, took dinner at the Sunnyside and went on out to Medford.

Henry Trusty of Elk Creek, Trail postoffice, was a business caller Friday.

George Albert, the man who runs the accommodation car on the P. & E. railroad from Butte Falls to Eagle Point, came in Friday bringing a full load of teachers and others from Butte Falls and vicinity, among whom were Miss Alveld Itonstedt, Miss Ella Prettyman and Mrs. Everett E. Hara of Butte Falls, Mrs. Cephus Kingaid, who is teaching in the Crater Lake school district, Mrs. Graden Childreth, not a teacher, and five or six others, whose names I omitted to secure, and Mr. B. King, a home-steader. The teachers, all except Mrs. Kingaid mentioned, came to the Sunnyside and rested until their car came to take them to Medford and Mrs. Kingaid met her husband here, and after supper, both went on out to Medford. It appears that the Butte Falls teachers are taking a vacation of three days Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. S. L. Kidder, one of the post-office inspectors, came in Friday evening and spent the night and this Saturday morning, examined the books, etc., in our postoffice and went back to Medford.

Mrs. D. M. Davis of Ashland came in this morning and went up to Lake Creek to visit her son-in-law, one of the Graham boys, and family, near the summit, between Butte Creek and Antelope creek.

R. A. Petty was the only man I met in my rounds, from the country this forenoon, so I guess that the farmers and stock men are getting busy.
