BIG AUDIENCE AT OPENING REVIVAL FIRST METHODIST

With an audience that filled the auditorium the opening service of the revival at the First Methodist church Sunday night promised unusual interest and success.

Rev. Harcourt W. Peck of Long Beach, California, impressed his hearers by his earnestness and sincerity. It was evident from his first word that he would hold the attention and grip the confidence of the people.

His sermon was on "The Wages of Sin." He brought out the fact that sin is a sure paymaster. One striking sentence was, "There has never been a cut in the wage scale of sin."

His sermon last night was addressed to the church workers.

Tonight is "Official Board Night," but Dr. Peck's subject will be of general interest. He will speak on "Can We Know God?"

ETHEL BARRYMORE'S ADVICE TO GIRLS

No stage celebrity can escape the question, constantly put by interviewers in person, and contained in countless letters from those youngsters, more often girls, who aspire to a theatrical career: "What advice would you give to a young girl who is eager to become a great actress?" is often asked of Ethel Barrymore, whom we are to see in Zoe Akins' play, "De-classee," at the Page theatre, Monday evening, April 3. A few days ago, to a newspaper representative, in one of the few interviews Miss Barrymore consents, she said: "Few girls indeed, I imagine, escape in their teens the ambition to become an actress. Even earlier, the love for 'playing house' or 'dressing up,' is merely a very childish love for drama. Some girls find the ambition a transitory one and take up some other career, for which they may be better suited. There are the others, however, who, convinced they have the 'necessary spark' so frequently mentioned in the autobiographies of earlier players, nurse their ambition and painstakingly go about their preparations for a livelihood in the theatre.

"I am so often asked to advise girls that I consider it something of a responsibility to give suggestions, but I certainly would not say no to any intelligent girl wanting to go on the stage, allowing that she has the proper equipment of adaptability, some intellect, and a bravery strong enough to carry her through a very great deal of very hard work. Only God has a right to dictate where genius or talent is concerned. How can we tell whether there may not be hidden in the veriest amateur that divine spark which keeps the theatre alive?"

This Man Was Helped

John Grab, 2539 Jackson Ave., New Orleans, La., writes: "My kidneys were weak and had a soreness and dull pain across my back. I felt dull and languid and my kidneys didn't act right. I began taking Foley Kidney Pills and they soon put my kidneys in a sound healthy condition." Foley Kidney Pills help the kidneys rid the system of acids and waste that cause lameness, backache, sore muscles, swollen joints and rheumatic pains. Tonic in effect, quick in action. Sold everywhere.

SCREEN

At the Page

A thrilling photoplay of Chinese love and vengeance—a vivid story of San Francisco's Chinatown is "Where Lights Are Low," featuring Sessue Hayakawa, which comes to the Page theatre today for a four days engagement. The eminent Japanese star has in this story a subject well fitted to his emotional capabilities. It is a story which has to do with the violation of an ancient Chinese custom. Hayakawa plays a son of royalty whose uncle has chosen his bride, also a daughter of the aristocracy. But the youth loves a poor maiden from a less fortunate station.

He is determined to marry her. His uncle sends him to America to be educated and in a few years is graduated. He still longs for the day when he may marry his beloved. He is shocked to discover that she has been smuggled into America and placed on the auction block.

Larry Senon's feature comedy, "The Sawmill," on the same program has many unusual scenes on it, which show several of the famous redwood trees, which grow to a height of 300 or more feet.

At the Rialto

A gripping story of theatre life will have its final presentations today at the Rialto theatre. It is called "At the Stage Door." It is a production that reveals intimate glimpses of life behind the curtain of the theatre and has chiefly to do with the experiences of a young and beautiful country-bred girl who goes to New York after a disappointment in love and gets a job in the chorus.

In "The Sea Lion" Hobart Bosworth actor-producer, has given to the screen another picture triumph which bids fair to rival "The Sea Wolf" in its appeal. In this picture are all the thrills, the suspense, the breathless moments of danger which make Bosworth's sea pictures ring true to life. Bosworth is supported by a strong cast, including Bessie Love.

"The Sea Lion" opens a four days engagement at the Rialto theatre tomorrow.

FIST FIGHT OVER LOG CAMP GRUB ENDS IN MURDER

TACOMA, Mar. 28.—James Brooks, 26, is dead at the Shelton, Wash., hospital and John Campbell, 60, is held in the county jail as the result of a shooting affair at Camp One of the Simonsen logging company, 20 miles west of Shelton, last evening.

The shooting resulted from a quarrel over the food served at the camp. Brooks was a logger and Campbell the camp cook. Brooks having worked in camps Shelton for the past 20 years, and Campbell for 15 years. Brooks' home is on a small farm near Centralia where a wife and four children live.

According to the story given to the authorities there had been bad blood between the men for nearly two weeks as a result of quarrels regarding camp "grub." After supper Sunday night Campbell was playing cards with other men at the camp when Brooks came into the room. The quarrel was resumed and Brooks grabbed Campbell, the authorities were told. The men fought for eight or ten minutes and then were separated and put out of the building. Brooks renewed his attack and got Campbell down, reports said. Campbell then drew a revolver, and shot Brooks through the hand. This did not stop him and Campbell fired again, the bullet striking the victim in the body.

No charge has yet been placed against Campbell, who fled to the woods after the shooting. He found shelter in a farm house and early today gave himself up to the authorities.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in a form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys; they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Salt Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Salt Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney diseases.

The Fordson Farmers' Calendar

The Cleanest Farms In Any Community

FORDSON farms have that reputation. Early fall plowing is what keeps these farms free of weeds.

"That's easy to talk about, but how are you going to plow when the ground is so hard and dry, and the weather so hot that a team can't work?" That, probably is your objection to the formula.

"Use a Fordson-Oliver Plowing Outfit," is the answer. Heat and hard soil and dry weather don't bother a bit when you use Fordson power instead of horses. Early fall plowing with a Fordson tractor and an Oliver No. 7 plow will enable you to turn over the soil the time you know it will do the most good.
