

CENTRAL COUNCIL JACKSON COUNTY TEACHERS MEET

Teachers of the Central Council in Jackson county met last Saturday at Central Point to consider educational matters pertaining to their zone. About thirty-five teachers representing sixteen districts were present and responded to roll call. Mr. J. H. Tyrell of Phoenix, county superintendent, presided. Miss Bessie Hunter, county superintendent, led in a round table discussion and presented the progressive educational program for the county schools. Miss Katherine Nealon of Central Point with a class of nine fourth grade pupils demonstrated silent reading. This proved to be helpful and interesting. The class used the natural method and botanist readers. Physical training also was discussed during the morning session.

Mr. Ray Henderson of Central Point presented spelling and a lively discussion followed his talk. He advocated the elimination method. Miss Elizabeth Burr, rural school supervisor, talked on round table topics and led in the uniform county drill which is being taught in all the schools of Jackson county. Matters of business closed the day's program, the chairman appointing Mrs. Mona Ferns, Miss Irene Franka and Miss Katherine Nealon to serve on the resolutions committee.

Next Saturday, April 1, the west council will convene at the Rams Valley school and a most cordial invitation is extended to those interested in school affairs to visit this meeting and to take the opportunity to inspect a modern rural school building.

FROBACH SEARCHED BY POLICE CHIEF

The Eugene chief of police was notified last night by telegraph to search the baggage and person of H. O. Frobach of Medford, who is in Eugene attending the University of Oregon short course for secretaries of chambers of commerce.

No specific charge was made against Frobach, who left here Sunday for the north, but it was the general belief among those who know him that a search of his effects might bring most to prominence and although wishing to be entirely fair in the matter the Craters club last night notified the Eugene official to take the necessary steps to prevent the Medford man getting into any trouble.

DISCUSS PLANS SUMMER CAMP COUNTY Y. M. C. A.

Some scores of boys in Jackson county will have opportunity to camp this summer under the care of the county Y. M. C. A. At an enthusiastic meeting last night the committee in charge talked over ways and means, locations and dates. Diamond Lake, Lake of the Woods and other places were canvassed as to suitability. A number of points are essential to a successful boys' camp. For example, the place must be fairly accessible, yet not too much so, for overnight and Sunday visits of parents and friends do not make for contented youngsters nor good discipline. There must be, of course, an adequate and safe water supply; there should be a fairly level, open place to play; there must be a "swimming hole" of some description and mountain streams are not suitable for this. So it is seen that the location must be carefully chosen. Long familiarity with the best methods and the help of experienced men leaders will make the camp fully up to the regular Y. M. C. A. standards. Members of Y. M. C. A. boys' clubs will be largely drawn on in recruiting the camp, but any boy of suitable age and judged physically fit will be accepted. The camp will take place in July.

NIGHT SESSIONS TO SPEED UP TARIFF

WASHINGTON, Mar. 28.—Night sessions for speeding up the permanent tariff bill have been decided upon by the senate finance committee republicans, following a visit to the White House by Senator Curtis of Kansas and Watson of Indiana where they were informed by President Harding of his desire for an early reporting of the measure.

Some committee members said the bill ought to be ready for the senate by the middle of next week.

Alleged Murderer Acquitted.
OLYMPIA, Wash., March 29.—"Not guilty" was the verdict returned late last night by the jury trying Henderson's Riley on a first degree murder charge for the killing of M. F. ("Cy") Nogal at the Fairview dance hall on the morning of February 5. The verdict came after only 20 minutes of deliberation.

EVERYTHING SET FOR U. O. CONCERT AT NAT TONIGHT

Featuring college harmony the Men's Glee club of the University of Oregon will sing at the Natatorium tonight at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the high school. A real "big town program" is promised by Art Rudd, manager of the club who has been in town since yesterday making final arrangements.

The 20 men with the club arrived this afternoon and sang at the high school. A ticket selling contest has been going on at the high school and a big crowd is expected.

The program is the same as was given at the Hellig in Portland last month and is declared a "knockout" by Portland dramatic editors.

Two local boys are on the program. "Doc" Furry, who lives at Phoenix is a bass soloist, rendering "The Greensiders." Carl Newbury is also on the program.

Alumni and friends of the university are planning on showing the boys a good time while here. They are being entertained at local homes and tonight, after the concert a dance is being given in their honor, to which the public will be invited.

The club sang last night in Cottage Grove, where they received a big ovation. Tomorrow they go to Ashland, then to Roseburg. The tour is being taken during the spring vacation period, which lasts one week.

Local students who are planning to attend a higher educational institution next year are urged to make the acquaintance of any of the singers who will be glad to give them any sort of information about the university.

"Where Lights Are Low." Sessue Hayakawa's new starring vehicle, was screened for the first time at the Page theatre yesterday. The noted Japanese American picture star who undoubtedly ranks at the top among dramatic artists of the screen has just the sort of role for which his unusual talents best fit him.

Adapted from the novel "East is East", this picture unrolls a story of adventure and romance. Mr. Hayakawa interprets the role of a Chinese prince who is in love with the daughter of a gardener on his uncle's estate and his experiences in winning her form the background for a story of vivid color and exceptional dramatic interest.

From the time Larry Seaman first appears in "The Sawmill," which was shown on the same program, fun runs at full tide until the final close out.

The comedian appears in an iris, and one imagines he is paddling a canoe. As the iris opens to full shot it is discovered that the comedian is sliding down a flume on a log. Then the fun commences. He gets into white wash, falls off the roof of a building, gets mixed up with the camp owner's daughter, hides with the girl in a safe, is blown sky-high by the villain, but lands uninjured in a roadway nearby. Larry sits on a log as it goes through a buzz-saw, and loses the back of his coat, rim of his hat and seat of his trousers, swings with the heroine from a tree to a neighboring tree by means of a rope, puts the villain to flight, and then when he thinks he will win the hand of the owner's daughter for his bravery, the funny fellow gets stage fright and runs away.

Vivid Sea Picture, Rialto
Another masterful sea role falls to the lot of Hobart Bosworth in "The Sea Lion," the star's latest screen offering which comes to the Rialto theatre today for the remainder of the week.

In physical domination and the exhibition of sheer force and daring, the role of Nels Nelson, captain of the whaling schooner "The Fair," equals anything the star has yet undertaken. It is said that three life boats were smashed, a schooner wrecked and several principals and extras almost drowned in the taking of the scenes off the Catalina Islands.

The story is one that gives Bosworth the fullest opportunity to display his ability, mingling a plot of strenuous sea life with a love appeal that finds a double response both in the story of the father nursing a twenty-year-old grievance and the daughter with her suitor.

The star is supported by a capable cast.

M'ARTHUR URGES A LID ON NARCOTICS

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Representative McArthur, republican, Oregon, today asked the house immigration committee to report his bill tightening up the narcotic act, declared he acted in response to a public demand from Oregon officials.

GOV. M'MASTER LEADS PRIMARY SOUTH DAKOTA

SIOUX FALLS, N. D., March 29.—With returns from yesterday's primary election coming in slowly, Governor W. H. McMaster's lead over George W. Egan of Sioux Falls for the republican gubernatorial nomination is being gradually increased. Reports from republican state headquarters at Huron show that with 922 precincts out of 1711 in the state reported, the governor's majority has reached 21,296. The vote stood: McMaster 48,396; Egan 27,199.

The contest for the republican gubernatorial nomination was the only contest of state wide interest before the people yesterday, both L. N. Crill, democratic candidate, and Miss Alice Loraine Daly, endorsed by the non-clear he acted in response to a public demand for an unusually light vote was polled.

LILLIAN RUSSELL READY TO REPORT ON ALIENS

WASHINGTON, Mar. 29.—Mrs. A. P. Moore, formerly Lillian Russell, is in Washington to present her report as a special United States immigration inspector to Secretary Davis.

Mrs. Moore in an extended tour of Europe made a study of the influences which are causing the migration to America of numerous aliens and the character of the populations which have furnished the immigrants. It is understood that her conclusions are in support of increasing strictness of regulations.

Sensible, Thinking Women

no longer doubt the efficacy of that old-fashioned root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because it relieves the ailments to which they are afflicted. In almost every neighborhood there are living witnesses of its wonderful effects. Therefore, if you doubt its value or power to help you, ask your neighbor. In nine times out of ten she has been benefited by its use or knows someone who has. It will pay you to give this root and herb medicine a trial.
