YE SMUDGE POT

By Arthur Perry.

The only charge against the nest of southern democrats, cleaned out of the government engraving plant by President Harding, was convincing to elect Crown Prince McAdoo president. It is enough.

An army officer, "prominent in capital social circles," became prominent in shooting circles yesterday, and died with his puttees on, in the front room. The bullet hit in a vital spot, according to the best social usage.

John Jones, who has been mining in the Nash dist. for years narrowly averted going to work Tues. during a mental lapse.

After the church vote (Eugene Register) "The voice is Jakob's voice, but the hands are the hands of Esau."

Something should be done to shut off and up the fanatics who are always predicting a "religious war." When they finally get it, they will be exempted on account of flat feet.

The pupils of the school at Alfalfa, Ore., got drunk on moonshine Monday and the teacher had to call for help when the party got rough.

Only 11,000 companies have been formed in the country to make various forms of Eskimo pie—a concoction having ice cream as the chief ingredient.

T. Bill Isaacs has returned from a trip to the music center of the north west. He is salivated with notes in the upper major, and never wants to hear another high C.

CRIME FORECAST (Pilot Rock News) Jake Marin, deputy sheriff, was here Sunday looking into the bank.

Billie Helms has a girl, it is said.

This year's bumper fruit crop is in worse shape than it has ever been on April 5th. Ruination is staring many horticulturists in the face as usual at this time.

Uncle Tom Kirk, one of the solid republicans of Umatilla county, is in town—(Pendleton East Oregonian). Also an upstanding citizen.

James J. Jeffries, ex-champion of the world has given up being an evangelist. He did not have the nerve.

THAT'S NICE (Albany Democrat) Mrs. Catherine Croft's old sow has 16 pigs. All are getting along well.

There is a lack of interest in baseball hereabouts. Nothing stirs civic enthusiasm like a good ball team, but it would enroach on co-operative community agitating over nothing.

Let the rest of the state be the middle of bass fiddling, Greek dancing and Psycho-Analysis. The valley is still the center of the Piscatorial Art.

Some of our Heaven sent candidates for the legislature, are running too long in the same place.

LOOKING BACKWARD.

YES, times change. If George Washington were alive today he would have about as much chance of being elected President as J. P. Morgan. This is no reflection on Washington. But he was the wealthiest and most aristocratic gentleman in America at the end of the 18th century, and Americans have long since abandoned the practice of choosing presidents from this class.

If Lloyd George had lived two hundred years ago, he would be king of England, and not the present George who occupies the throne. For Lloyd George has demonstrated he is the strongest man in Great Britain—probably in all Europe.

Instead of winning victory after victory in Parliament, King L. G. would be winning victory after victory on the field of battle. That was the political method 200 years ago. Kings were in keen competition. Holding a throne was decidedly a matter of the survival of the fittest.

All of which shows that times change and human nature with them.

THEM'S THEM.

MARY WETTIN, great granddaughter of Albert and Victoria Wettin, late of Winsdor, has married a princeling, and acres of newspaper space have been devoted to the event, which seems to be a most ordinary affair, somewhat of family convenience, complicated with a bit of romance in what might be called the second best social set in England.

But what of it? The happy couple differ only from other happy couples in the world in the fact that their children will not have the tremendous advantage in the race of life which comes to young people who have to get out and make names and fortunes and places for themselves, but instead will have these things all bred for them, great hindering humps on their backs grown there by other people's toil. And that's that.

Some time this spring the great granddaughter of a husky old, horny-handed American, who invented a binder and reaper, will be married to a Swiss riding master three times her age, and maybe four. The happy couple will differ from other happy couples only in the fact that her folks will sniff at his folks, instead of having his folks sniff at her folks, which is the general way in America. And that's that. And, also, them's them.

What of it? Why the excitement? What's all the shootin' about? Two decades, three possibly, four maybe, and at most five, and the happy couple will be as carefree of what happens as the royal mummies in the museum. How much white paper is covered with nothing in particular!

—Wm. Allen White in Judge.

Quill Points

God made the world round; only men can make it square.

"Man with eleven wives may be insane." It sounds darned reasonable.

A lot of people who are too nice to say "sweat" say "perspiration."

There is something wrong in Europe. Not a single cabinet has resigned this week.

As we understand it the effort of reformers is to place bucket shops without the pail.

A coal strike isn't wholly without merit. It always boosts the price of land in Florida.

Thrift consists in loving a savings account more than the good opinion of the neighbors.

Guns are commonly used; but the best way to protect the honor of your home is to marry the right kind of woman.

A European, touring America, says he could break Monte Carlo. But why should he, when he can lecture in America?

There will always be men to express honest opinions without fear of consequences. The poor we have with us always.

Now if there's any emotion, activity or ambition that hadn't had a "week" dictated to it, let it speak up promptly.

Evidently most of the modern evils are under control. The pure in heart have begun to jump on poor old Darwin again.

The original Homer never pulled down $75,000 a year, and from this we infer that it is more profitable to smite a horsehide than a lyre.

THE SLAYERS.

THE murderers, in countless scores, are loafing in a hundred jails, all hoping that the prison doors will open when their luck prevails. No doubt they think the law is rank that jails them, even for a time, for pulling off some playful prank, like murder, or a kindred crime. In cozy cells the slayers sit; and all around them quiet reigns; red-handed ladies calmly knit, and gory gents make horsehair chains. They loiter around in gilded ease, they labor not and bear no yoke; we used to hang such birds as these long since when justice was no joke. But now there's no such doom as that for those who butcher fellow-guys; the gloomy hangman's growing fat, for lack of wholesome exercise. The murderers are borne to jail when first their crimes have made us stare, and there's some piffle, flat and stale, about the gallows or the chair. And then we turn our thoughts away, to other grafts, the coin we chase; and on the street, some pleasant day, we meet the killers face to face. They've been paroled or pardoned out, some witness flunked, some juror died; some enterprising legal scout has found a loophole, big and wide. And thus our modern justice runs where it's concerned with slayer skates; they're going now to purchase guns to kill some other delegates.

Officer Disguised As School Boy, Gets Wine

OAKLAND, Cal., April 5.—Fifteen hundred gallons of wine were seized at a grocery store opposite the Technical high school here after a policeman disguised as a prep school sophomore, carrying his books on a strap, had bought a gallon and a half, according to a report on file at police headquarters today. The proprietor was arrested.

Largest Walnut Tree

OROVILLE, Calif.—Oroville claims the largest English walnut tree in California. The big tree, which grows on the property of Anna G. Hotzman in this city, has a trunk four feet in diameter and is more than 80 feet high.

LET'S PAINT, CLEAN UP AND BEAUTIFY MEDFORD.

THIS is the beginning of Paint and Clean-Up Week, locally and nationally and let's take this clean-up business seriously. The town is not distressingly dirty, but always at the end of winter a lot of trash is found kicking about that clutter up the landscape. Every individual householder can take an hour or two and find rubbish around the premises that went unnoticed before. And when he gets it cleaned up, he will feel as virtuous as a seminary student after his first sermon to a choice lot of hardened old sinners.

The dirt is going out, of course, going out in fine fashion. And when the backyards and the alleys and the basements and the woodsheds and all other trash-accumulating places have been cleaned out, let's keep them clean. Moreover, let's beautify the town this year. The past two or three seasons we have made a good start. A few householders have sledged up their front yards, planted flowers and kept the dandelions down, but the rest of us just poked along and allowed the weeds to take us.

That's bad. It is not in accord with Medford's clean-cut fashion of doing things. Let's expel the dirt and the rubbish, but let's plant beauty spots—flower beds and shrubs and trees—and keep the lawns and parkings cut and well watered, and watch the old town loom up like the Garden of Eden. There will be satisfaction and pleasure in doing this that will far outweigh the little effort and expense involved. Beautify Medford and keep her beautiful.

COMMUNICATIONS

Regarding Klamath Trade. To the Editor: Regarding the article by George T. Collins in Saturday Mail Tribune, entitled "Develop Trade With Klamath via Truck Line" Mr. Collins covers the subject very well, and he makes one statement that I wish to correct. He states, "The valley does not raise nearly enough berries to supply the wants of Klamath Falls."

That statement to me seems tinged with real estate buoyancy, as a matter of fact, Klamath at no time since the war, has been able to handle more than the berries offered them by the berry growers of this valley. Nevertheless, Klamath is our largest outlet for berries, and with a night truck line service all concerned will be mutually benefited. C. H. HOWELL, Berry Grower, Berrydale April 5, 1922.

TWICE PROVEN

Mrs. Wm. Charley, 395 N. Grape St., Medford, says: "I never had the slightest attack of kidney trouble until I fell and hurt my back. Soon after that, I began to notice my kidneys acting irregularly and I had severe pains in the small of my back. It pained so at times I couldn't stoop and I could get no rest at night. I used plasters and liniments, but got no help until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. In less than two weeks I felt better and four boxes of Doan's cured me." (Statement given September 14, 1907.)

On March 22, 1922, Mrs. Charley said: "I have the same good opinion of Doan's as when I first endorsed them. Their occasional use keeps my kidneys in good condition."

Price 66c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Charley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. Adv.

CURED BY A NATIVE HERB

On board a vessel bound for India recently, a man was bitten by a poisonous reptile; both the ship doctor failed to control the poison fast spreading through his system.

In a day the vessel reached port. An Indian medicine man was sent for who produced a native herb which quickly allayed the poison and the man's life was saved.

Roots and herbs are nature's assistants in combating disease. That well-known medicine for ailments peculiar to women, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is prepared from roots and herbs, possessing medicinal properties of great value in the treatment of such ailments.

This is proved by the letters of recommendation we are continually publishing in this paper for it. Adv.

A Catholic Removes His Hat

When passing a Catholic Church, as a mark of respect and honor to God who really and truly dwells therein, just as he, like every good American, removes his hat in respect and honor to the flag passing by.

THE FATHER OF AMERICAN SHORTHAND, THOMAS LLOYD, WAS A CATHOLIC
