Wages Too Low. WASHINGTON, April 7.—Miners' union representatives now on strike in central Pennsylvania backed up their national officers today in appearing before the house labor committee to urge federal attention to the industry.

"Our belief is that an industry which gives only 100 days' work a year needs reorganization," John Brophy, proprietor of district No. 2, United Mine Workers, testified. "To get this we must have the facts ascertained by an impartial federal commission."

Mr. Brophy took issue with T. H. Watkins, a Pennsylvania operator, who testified yesterday before the committee as to wages.

"Approximately 31,000 miners in central Pennsylvania last year earned $14.61 a week, or $2.08 per day for the year, because there was hardly two days of work a week for them," Mr. Brophy asserted.

Lewis Attacks Speech. NEW YORK, April 7.—Statements defending bituminous coal operators in refusing to negotiate a central agreement with the miners' union, made by T. H. Watkins, a bituminous mine operator of Pennsylvania before the house labor committee at Washington yesterday were attacked here today by John L. Mr. Watkins was quoted as having said that it would be "financial suicide" for operators to enter any agreement with the miners not based on conditions in each district; that consumers have grown disgusted with the constant failure to get deliveries from union mines; that Mr. Lewis' testimony before the house body had been "very misleading" and that in the anthracite field "these labor lords have been guilty of an abuse of power in calling a strike when the mine owners were meeting their every call for meeting and negotiation."

APPLE SHOW IS OVER, EXHIBITS GIVEN TO POOR

The first annual Rogue River Valley Apple Exposition in the chamber of commerce building, which has been on since October 25, last, came to an end today, when early this morning the carting away of the many exhibits began. The apples were presented to local Red Cross chapter and Salvation Army, to be distributed by those organizations among the poor.

Two notable things about the exposition just closed were the way in which the apples have kept in condition during the long period, and the economy in cost of establishing and maintaining the exposition.

The majority of the apples are still in a fair state of preservation and appearance. The expense to the chamber of commerce in establishing the exposition was only $36.59, of which $23 was for boxes, which are still on hand for next year's apple exposition.

The pear show of several weeks, which preceded the apple exposition, only cost $13.18. Of course, the fruit exhibits for both shows were donated as were the prizes which were donated by merchants and others.

NEW YORK, April 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Rose Coghlan, 74 years old comedy star of an earlier generation, has been delightfully converted from her belief that nobody in the world wants a broken old woman and she no longer prays for death as the only way out.

And Rose Coghlan walked for the first time in weeks. The doorbell buzzed and buzzed. Now it would be the postman with another sheaf of solicited letters, now it would be a florist's boy with more roses. Now, an old friend calling in person to inquire after the health of Rose Coghlan and offer aid.

The telephone too, poured in a steady stream of sympathetic calls, while all the way across the continent—from a woman who had never even seen Rose Coghlan came an offer of a big home, an automobile to ride in, pretty clothes to wear for the rest of her life.

"Mother thinks that is the most wonderful of all," said Mrs. Richard Pittman, Rose Coghlan's only daughter, when she was advised of the offer sent by Mrs. Tom Dolphin of Alameda, Cal., through the Associated Press.

For she already has accepted an invitation to spend the summer in a big house on Long Island, where all the old friends Rose Coghlan thought had forgotten her, can watch over her recovery. She plans to go next week.

FATHER OF 5 SONS HACKED BY AXE, TAKES POISON WHEN QUESTIONED

CONCORDIA, Kas., April 7.—L. H. Tremblay, five of whose sons were hacked with an axe, early Tuesday, resulting in the death of one of them and the probable fatal injury of three others, was found dead at the home of a neighbor today.

Officers expressed the opinion that Tremblay had committed suicide and advanced the theory that he took a drug last night. According to physicians, Tremblay's injuries were not sufficient to have caused his death and until last night it was thought he was recovering.

Tremblay's death took place at the home of a neighbor, Joseph Bachand, who found him lying dazed and bleeding in the yard. Bachand, who has been caring for the four younger Tremblay children, also found that a fire had been started in the father's room.

Tremblay, when questioned at length last night by a finger print expert, grew suddenly ill.

The authorities yesterday began to delve into the financial affairs of the family, especially those of the father, who was a trustee of Shirley township. It was ascertained that a $4,000 mortgage on the Tremblay farm held by a Beatrice, Neb., firm became due June 21 last and had not been paid off. Theodore, the boy who was slain in the barn, carried life insurance amounting to $5000.
