

SENATOR SMOOT FAVORS HARDING'S TARIFF SCHEME

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Provisions in the pending tariff bill, which would authorize the president to increase or decrease rates and prohibit American valuation were described today to the senate by Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, as not only offering a solution of the particular tariff problem now before congress, but also as suggesting a practical adjustment for a continuing scientific adjustment of the tariff in the future.

"Once they are understood," Senator Smoot said, "I believe every member of congress will welcome legislation which will in part free us from dealing with the burdensome details and from the excruciating procedure through a general tariff revision in a single bill."

Commenting upon the time necessary to bring out the present bill, Senator Smoot who is the ranking republican on the finance committee, said it must be expected that "every conscientious revision of the tariff will encroach to a greater extent than the previous one upon the time of the legislative branch."

"We are already in almost continuous session," he added, "and it becomes increasingly necessary for us to delegate to executive and administrative agencies the working out of detailed adjustments."

"It is impossible to frame a law on the basis of conditions today which will fit the conditions of a few years hence. We are, therefore, confronted either with the possibility of another general revision in a short time or with the reduction in legislation of the president's desirable proposals."

Calling attention that the finance committee had stricken from the house bill provisions authorizing the president to negotiate reciprocity treaties with other countries and to "impose penalty duties" against products of countries which impose what he might regard as unreasonable duties against similar products of the United States, Senator Smoot said the committee proposed that the United States should apply one tariff to all countries alike—with the natural exception of Cuba—and shall force all countries to give to American products treatment equal to that which they give to other countries generally.

PHOTOGRAPH VOICE ON MOVIE FILMS

NEW YORK, April 25.—Talking movies with the "lines" recorded on the film instead of photographed discs, have been perfected by Lee De Forest, pioneer in the wireless telephone field, he declared on his arrival from Germany, where he has been experimenting for six months. He said he had perfected the talking motion picture so that the human voice was "photographed" on the film at the same time the picture was taken. The invention was taken electrically through the action of light on a sensitive cell, he explained.

U. S. CORN FORCES FAMINE RETREAT IN VOLGA VALLEY

SAMARA, Russia, April 25.—(By Associated Press.) Famine is beginning to retreat in the Volga valley before the slow but steady arrival of American corn for adult feeding. It is due to vanish almost entirely when the spring sowing uncovers the black earth of this fertile region and brings out the early grasses and vegetables, which, added to the rations supplied by the United States, other foreign countries and the Russian government, will sustain most of the population until the rye and wheat harvest of late August and early September.

The retreat is slow, however, and the death rate from hunger is still mounting villages far from rail communication, which have not yet and may never be reached by aid.

Today, the beginning of the last month when wheat may be sown, it is still a gamble whether a majority of the peasants will receive any appreciable supply for spring planting. The railways through the heart of the Samara and Orenburg districts have been blocked by earthquake blizzards while Moscow was straining every effort to bring seed to the peasants.

The spring thaw is following and it now appears that, in many districts, the roads will be impassable when the grain finally does arrive at the inland stations.

HIGH PRICES IS BUSINESS HABIT

BALTIMORE, April 25.—All the open price associations thus far investigated by the federal trade commission have been found to have for their object the fixing and usually the enhancement of prices. Houston Thompson, a member of the commission, declared in an address here today before the National League of Women Voters. "I have never found one," said Commissioner Thompson, "that did not either fix prices or cause curtailment of production to the point where it ultimately paralyzed the market."

The one dominant note of the whole business was illustrated by the movement was "increase of prices."

SEATTLE, April 25.—A verdict of second degree murder was returned by a jury here last night in the trial of Atsushi Ho, Japanese accused of slaying his sweetheart, Tsuru Katashima and her mother, Mrs. Hana Katashima.

He pleaded guilty to second degree murder, claiming he was intoxicated at the time of the shooting.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. O. McVitt

Last Tuesday I took a stroll down into the lower end of our town to visit one of the old veterans of the civil war, and when I entered the house, who should I meet but one of his daughters, Mrs. Ora Henderson, who spent her girlhood days here but is now a resident of Portland. She had just come in to make her father and step-mother, and her own mother, Mrs. Susan Hart, a visit, also her sister Mrs. Mamie W. Brown of Los Angeles, who came up about a week before. While I was there, Mr. Woods took me out to show me a large Poland China sow and her litter of eight pigs. She had thirteen at first, but five of them were killed by the mother laying on them and from other causes, but the eight that she had left were surely beauties. He said that he was going to push them along, feed them all that they could eat until fall and then take them to the county fair, the mother and all, to show what fine pigs can be raised in our section of the country. The sow is two years old and is almost as large as a yearling calf that has been well cared for. I also noticed three large piles of sand and fine gravel in front of his yard, and enquired what he was going to do with that and he told me that he was going to have cement walks made back and in front of his house and have the place fixed up that he and his wife are both getting old, he about 85 and his wife about 80, and that they intend to simply spend the rest of their lives in pleasure.

Writing about pigs brings to my mind the item that V. E. Peterson the mail carrier on the Eagle Point-Perist route came out Tuesday with five fine Hampshire hogs from the McDonald ranch, taking them to a man living on the Jacksonville road, Mr. E. B. Fleming. They are ready to ship.

W. J. J. E. Peterson and G. M. Lowe were here for dinner Tuesday. Mr. Lowe is advertising agent for Foster and Kleiser advertisers.

Charley Patton of Butte Falls came out Thursday evening on the stage, took supper and after supper went on to Medford to consult a doctor about a badly bruised, if not broken finger. In working with a washing machine, he had his finger caught in the machinery with the result that the doctor thought that he might have a severed bone. He came back and spent the night here, going back to Medford to see the doctor the next morning.

George McDonald is in town on his way to Butte Falls to do some rock work for C. H. Natsick on the extension of the P. & E. railroad last Wednesday. George W. Sanders, formerly foreman on the Antelope orchard, but now on his own farm near the mouth of Big Butte, was also in town Wednesday.

A. E. Hildreth, Sam Courtney and a man and a woman were here for dinner Wednesday. Mr. T. A. Whaley of Butte Falls, came in the same afternoon, bringing his wife here for medical treatment as she is in poor health. They are both here at this writing. Mrs. Whaley seemed to improve in health as soon as she was comfortably fixed in bed.

Mr. W. P. Morgan, who owns the old Pool hotel property and about three acres of land beside in our town, is making some decided improvements in the line of fencing, tearing away his old fence and replacing it with new posts and wire fencing. And Mr. E. A. Denton, who bought the A. J. Daley house and land adjoining it has been replacing the old fencing on his property.

As I was looking around for something to write for the Medford Mail Tribune Wednesday, I discovered some stock in the pound, so going across the creek round by the old girl mill, I counted twelve head of cattle in there of different breeds and brands, that the "powers that be" had gathered, that had strayed inside of the little incorporation, for that does not include all of the town, but the next morning, noticed that there was none left and then learned that the marshal could get no hay to feed them so had to turn them out again.

In one of my recent letters, I spoke of Mr. D. B. Patrick, putting some new rustic on one side of the post-office and telephone building and building a very neat building that will be handy to use as a garage and a place where Mr. Clements can put his fixtures for his telephone, as well as making some very neat changes on the interior of the building, and now Sam Courtney, assisted by E. A. Nuting has covered the new, as well as the old with a fine coat of paint, so that one hardly knows "where he is at" when he goes to get his mail.

Mrs. Marguerite Peter of Medford came out Wednesday, afternoon with her sister, Mrs. Fay, can see Helen to see some of her old friends and neighbors.

Mr. Andrew Pool, Trail, one of the forest service men, was a business visitor Thursday morning. And so was Wm. Coleman on his way up the country. There was a man and woman came into the hotel on business with one of our boarders Thursday noon, but went on. They were headed for Butte Falls, and were from Central California.

Bert Clarno and brother, John Britton, Ivan Conover and wife and aunt, Mrs. Pukard of Stillwater, Ore. Mrs. Walter Wood and R. Conley of Butte Falls, were among the business callers Thursday.

A. G. Bishop, Wm. Holman, Lake Creek, Perry Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Mathew and Miss Lillian Cotteral were in town Thursday, and Perry Foster remained here for dinner, while Mr. and Mrs. Cotteral went on out to the Frank Rhodes ranch to visit Mr. Young and family.

L. G. Polman Butte Falls and G. F. Little, Klamath Falls, and Mrs. J. F. Colas of Newbery, Ore., who was returning from a visit to her daughter, who is teaching in Butte Falls school, were here for dinner Thursday.

H. Ditsworth of Medford and Miss Elizabeth Burr, rural school supervisor, were also here for dinner Friday. Miss Burr was on her way to Greese Creek school and was exhibiting some interesting and instructive pictures to the schools, as well as lecturing to the children.

PAINS ACROSS SMALL OF BACK

Husband Helped in Household.—
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Strong

Foster, Oregon.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for pains across the small of my back. They bothered me so badly that I could do my work only with the help of my husband. One day he saw the 'ad.' in our paper telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is doing for women, so I began to take it. It has helped me wonderfully. I am feeling fine, do all my housework and washing for seven in the family. I have been irregular too, and now am all right. I am telling my friends what it has done for me and am sure it will do good for others. You can use this letter as a testimonial. I will stand up for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound any time."—Mrs. WM. JUNNKE, Foster, Oregon.

Doing the housework for a family of seven is some task. If you, as a housewife, are troubled with backache, irregularities, are easily tired out and unable to do other disagreeable elements caused by some weakness, give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. Let it help you.

The Cleanest Farms In Any Community

FORDSON farms have that reputation. Early fall plowing is what keeps these farms weed-free.

"That's easy to talk about, but how are you going to plow when the ground is so hard and dry, and the weather so hot that a team can't work?" That, probably is your objection to the formula.

"Use a Fordson-Dray Plowing Outfit," is the answer. Heat and hard soil and dry weather don't bother a bit when you use a Fordson power instead of horses. Early fall plowing with a Fordson tractor and an Oliver No. 7 plow will enable you to turn over the soil the time you know it will do the most good.
