

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED EVERY AFTERNOON EXCEPT SUNDAY BY THE MEDFORD PRINTING CO.

The Medford Sunday Morning Sun is furnished subscribers desiring a seven day daily newspaper.

Office Mail Tribune Building, 25-27-29 North Fir street, Phone 75.

A consolidation of the Democratic Times, the Medford Mail, the Medford Tribune, the Southern Oregonian, The Ashland Tribune.

ROBERT W. RUHL, Editor. SUMPTER S. SMITH, Manager.

SUBSCRIPTION TERMS: BY MAIL—In Advance. Daily, with Sunday Sun, year, $7.50

Official paper of the City of Medford Official paper of Jackson County.

Sworn daily average circulation for six months ending April 1, 1922, 5228, more than double the circulation of any other paper published or circulated in Jackson County.

The only paper between Eugene, Ore., and Sacramento, Calif., a distance of over 500 miles, having leased wire Associated Press service.

Entered as second class matter at Medford, Oregon, under the act of March 3, 1879.

MEMBERS OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it, or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

Ye Smudge Pot

By Arthur Perry.

The only trouble with the Russo-German treaty seems to be that it is the only thing that has happened in Europe since 1914, that was not preceded by a speech by Lloyd-George, and a crisis in England.

Candidates for governor continue to love the farmer madly, for his vote, and are also keeping their parents pressed, and their hair combed for what it may get them with the Galshewiki vote.

All hope of defeating Sen. Jim Reed in Missouri has vanished. He is opposed by Woodrow Wilson, James M. Cox, and the Portland Journal.

The smart aleck Princeton professor who announces a new discovery of cold light, might try his hand on the Bank of Jacksonville evaporation of spondulicks.

HARD TIMES ARE HARDER

(Oregon City Enterprise) There is a letter addressed to Miss Emma Kelsey, which cannot be forwarded on account of the want of a stamp.

Len Carpenter has returned from where he was, to where he is, after a long period, and three exclamation points.

The human eye and ear were stuck on the human topknot for use at railroad crossings, as well as elsewhere. A train cannot get out of the way so an autolist must. An engine has two rails to run on, and can not duck up the county road in an emergency. Contests between Tin Lizzie and Iron Horse, always result fatally for the former.

Efforts to keep the Irish from shooting gospel into each other with sawed-off shotguns is progressing slowly owing to the unwillingness of both sides to accept anything that seems sensible.

Halry Manning executed 4 songs at the D. Antio shrine of the silver sheet last eve, and acquitted himself, as usual.

Two more 100 per cent Americans have had the temerity to come out in the open wearing straw hats.

Non-cussable weather continues, and the horticulturists are put out to think they can sleep night, and not be ruined by John (Jack) Frost.

the spelin match tomorrow eave beetene Kort Haul and Guss Nuberie promusses tu b ann innteleckshuall treet offe the furst water.

ON TAKING ONE'S SELF

IN A SERIOUS MANNER (Chico Enterprise)

A man is lucky who has for friends a sort of irreverent crowd Who make gay sport of his aims and ends

Of which he is over-proud; Though on occasions he may object To some of their ribald mirth, Their irrepressible disrespect Is keeping his feet on earth!

There's many a chap who ought to tread

The pathways that lead to fame, Who's handicapped by a swollen head Because of some small acclaim; And much too often his chance is wrecked

Because, when he seeks renown, He lacks good comrades whose respect Might whittle his ego down!

A certain amount of fulsome praise And flattery has its charm, But to hear naught else as you go your ways

Is certain to lead to harm; So, though the laurels you may collect Rest pleasantly on your crown, Don't shun your comrades whose disrespect Is keeping your ego down!

Quill Points

So are taxes, Sherman.

The Europeans may have another war some day if we can afford it.

There will still be enough chronic kickers left when they're all gone.

An ounce of warm weather on the thermometer is worth a pound of the weather forecast.

Most of the literary critics praise Homer, but "Babe" Ruth knocks him nearly every day.

We doubt, however, whether a radiophone will ever be as interesting as a party line.

Why is it that some man with real knowledge of the facts always has to butt in and spoil the conversation?

Depend upon it. The flapper who constantly boasts that she never has been kissed is out to break a record.

We've made a strange discovery. Re-arrange the letters in the word "baseball," and you have "all's Babe."

Mr. Edison has invented some more questions. The market was flooded already. What the world needs is answers.

Couldn't the boys of the stock exchange let crops alone and have as much fun with craps?

The Congressional record could be worse. Let's give the congressmen credit. They could print their pictures in it.

A pessimist, again, is the man who doesn't bother with the rack under his restaurant chair, but throws his hat on the floor to start with.

Advice to young men: If the color of her eyes and the number on her auto license tag start sticking in your memory it's time to watch your step.

It would simplify matters for the short-term-marriage-and-divorce addicts if marriage licenses could be allowed to lapse and expire like other licenses.

Why Crime Is Rampant in U. S. A.

These serious outbreaks of crime have been too easily ascribed to the lawlessness growing out of the war. But there are more homicides of record in New York in a year than in the whole of Great Britain. In burglaries and highway robberies the comparison is just as little to our credit, while minor crime flourishes, as might be expected, on the demonstrated inability of the police to deal effectively with major crime. Why is not war lawlessness equally destructive in London?

It is because the law there is enforced in a way it is not enforced here. There the arrested criminal is rarely admitted to bail, never released in the hands of professional bondsmen nor, upon conviction, released upon suspended sentence. His trial is quick. In the majority of cases he is serving his sentence within less than a week of the commission of the crime. He is allowed an appeal but is not released on bail pending that appeal. The appeal is heard promptly and only on proved misdirection of the judge, or a verdict not justified by the evidence, is the appeal sustained. Permission to appeal on technicalities is not given.

Man for man the London police are not more intelligent than those of New York. But they are incomparably better led. Humanitarians and sentimentalists, anxious to deprive imprisonment of its terrors, say that mitigation of the severe punishments of a century ago was responsible for the decrease in English crime. The institution of the metropolitan police by Sir Robert Peel, in the first half of the last century, was the real agent in checking crime. People did not hesitate to take the risk of hanging when all they had to fear was the superannuated watchman in the street or the Bow street "runner," often a criminal himself, or at least what our police call a "stool pigeon."

Our criminals do not hesitate to take chances with the odds five to one against conviction. Every criminal anywhere is a gambler. In England he knows that there are actual odds on conviction and he takes fewer chances. It all goes back to the administration of the law. We cannot check the crime wave until we have radically reformed the enforcement of law. We cannot as a nation afford to take the chances we are taking now.—Wall St. Journal.

Man for man the London police are not more intelligent than those of New York. But they are incomparably better led. Humanitarians and sentimentalists, anxious to deprive imprisonment of its terrors, say that mitigation of the severe punishments of a century ago was responsible for the decrease in English crime. The institution of the metropolitan police by Sir Robert Peel, in the first half of the last century, was the real agent in checking crime. People did not hesitate to take the risk of hanging when all they had to fear was the superannuated watchman in the street or the Bow street "runner," often a criminal himself, or at least what our police call a "stool pigeon."

Our criminals do not hesitate to take chances with the odds five to one against conviction. Every criminal anywhere is a gambler. In England he knows that there are actual odds on conviction and he takes fewer chances. It all goes back to the administration of the law. We cannot check the crime wave until we have radically reformed the enforcement of law. We cannot as a nation afford to take the chances we are taking now.—Wall St. Journal.

Our criminals do not hesitate to take chances with the odds five to one against conviction. Every criminal anywhere is a gambler. In England he knows that there are actual odds on conviction and he takes fewer chances. It all goes back to the administration of the law. We cannot check the crime wave until we have radically reformed the enforcement of law. We cannot as a nation afford to take the chances we are taking now.—Wall St. Journal.

Our criminals do not hesitate to take chances with the odds five to one against conviction. Every criminal anywhere is a gambler. In England he knows that there are actual odds on conviction and he takes fewer chances. It all goes back to the administration of the law. We cannot check the crime wave until we have radically reformed the enforcement of law. We cannot as a nation afford to take the chances we are taking now.—Wall St. Journal.

Our criminals do not hesitate to take chances with the odds five to one against conviction. Every criminal anywhere is a gambler. In England he knows that there are actual odds on conviction and he takes fewer chances. It all goes back to the administration of the law. We cannot check the crime wave until we have radically reformed the enforcement of law. We cannot as a nation afford to take the chances we are taking now.—Wall St. Journal.

Our criminals do not hesitate to take chances with the odds five to one against conviction. Every criminal anywhere is a gambler. In England he knows that there are actual odds on conviction and he takes fewer chances. It all goes back to the administration of the law. We cannot check the crime wave until we have radically reformed the enforcement of law. We cannot as a nation afford to take the chances we are taking now.—Wall St. Journal.

Our criminals do not hesitate to take chances with the odds five to one against conviction. Every criminal anywhere is a gambler. In England he knows that there are actual odds on conviction and he takes fewer chances. It all goes back to the administration of the law. We cannot check the crime wave until we have radically reformed the enforcement of law. We cannot as a nation afford to take the chances we are taking now.—Wall St. Journal.

Our criminals do not hesitate to take chances with the odds five to one against conviction. Every criminal anywhere is a gambler. In England he knows that there are actual odds on conviction and he takes fewer chances. It all goes back to the administration of the law. We cannot check the crime wave until we have radically reformed the enforcement of law. We cannot as a nation afford to take the chances we are taking now.—Wall St. Journal.

Our criminals do not hesitate to take chances with the odds five to one against conviction. Every criminal anywhere is a gambler. In England he knows that there are actual odds on conviction and he takes fewer chances. It all goes back to the administration of the law. We cannot check the crime wave until we have radically reformed the enforcement of law. We cannot as a nation afford to take the chances we are taking now.—Wall St. Journal.

Our criminals do not hesitate to take chances with the odds five to one against conviction. Every criminal anywhere is a gambler. In England he knows that there are actual odds on conviction and he takes fewer chances. It all goes back to the administration of the law. We cannot check the crime wave until we have radically reformed the enforcement of law. We cannot as a nation afford to take the chances we are taking now.—Wall St. Journal.

Our criminals do not hesitate to take chances with the odds five to one against conviction. Every criminal anywhere is a gambler. In England he knows that there are actual odds on conviction and he takes fewer chances. It all goes back to the administration of the law. We cannot check the crime wave until we have radically reformed the enforcement of law. We cannot as a nation afford to take the chances we are taking now.—Wall St. Journal.

Our criminals do not hesitate to take chances with the odds five to one against conviction. Every criminal anywhere is a gambler. In England he knows that there are actual odds on conviction and he takes fewer chances. It all goes back to the administration of the law. We cannot check the crime wave until we have radically reformed the enforcement of law. We cannot as a nation afford to take the chances we are taking now.—Wall St. Journal.

Our criminals do not hesitate to take chances with the odds five to one against conviction. Every criminal anywhere is a gambler. In England he knows that there are actual odds on conviction and he takes fewer chances. It all goes back to the administration of the law. We cannot check the crime wave until we have radically reformed the enforcement of law. We cannot as a nation afford to take the chances we are taking now.—Wall St. Journal.

Our criminals do not hesitate to take chances with the odds five to one against conviction. Every criminal anywhere is a gambler. In England he knows that there are actual odds on conviction and he takes fewer chances. It all goes back to the administration of the law. We cannot check the crime wave until we have radically reformed the enforcement of law. We cannot as a nation afford to take the chances we are taking now.—Wall St. Journal.

Our criminals do not hesitate to take chances with the odds five to one against conviction. Every criminal anywhere is a gambler. In England he knows that there are actual odds on conviction and he takes fewer chances. It all goes back to the administration of the law. We cannot check the crime wave until we have radically reformed the enforcement of law. We cannot as a nation afford to take the chances we are taking now.—Wall St. Journal.

HOW MUCH DO YOU KNOW?

1—In what city was the first monument erected to George Washington? 2—Where are the Aesabe mountains?

3—What city in this country has the largest Negro population? 4—How far above sea level is the highest point in Florida?

5—How many concerns in Canada make motor cars? 6—What was the name of the first Chinese emperor and when did he reign?

7—In what country did "glee clubs" originate? 8—Has the number of deaths from drinking increased since prohibition became effective?

9—How much money does the United States government award each man upon leaving the penitentiary? 10—What is a madrigal?

Answers to Yesterday's Questions 1—Which birds have the most dark meat on their bodies? Ans. Those which have well developed powers of flight.

2—Are electric headlights compulsory on locomotives? Ans. Such an order has been in effect since 1917. 3—Who was president of the senate during Johnson's administration? Ans. Senator Daniel Clark of New Hampshire.

4—Which is Shakespeare's shortest play? Ans. Macbeth. 5—What are Very Lights? Ans. Lights used to signal between airplanes or stations and between the ground and airplanes which a code is pre-arranged.

6—What is the color of an army officer's hat cord? Ans. Chief officers of divisions wear gold hatcords. All other officers wear gold and black hatcords. 7—How many adults have perfect sight? Ans. One out of every ten over 21 years of age.

8—How long does it require to hatch pigeon's eggs? Ans. Seventeen days. 9—How long will champagne keep? Ans. If stored properly it will keep 15 or 20 years.

10—In what language must all patents be applied for in this country? Ans. The English language.

11—Which is the largest city in the world? Ans. London.

12—What is the largest city in the United States? Ans. New York.

13—What is the largest city in Oregon? Ans. Medford.

14—What is the largest city in Jackson County? Ans. Medford.

15—What is the largest city in the Pacific Coast? Ans. San Francisco.

16—What is the largest city in the United States? Ans. New York.

17—What is the largest city in Oregon? Ans. Medford.

18—What is the largest city in Jackson County? Ans. Medford.

19—What is the largest city in the Pacific Coast? Ans. San Francisco.

20—What is the largest city in the United States? Ans. New York.

21—What is the largest city in Oregon? Ans. Medford.

22—What is the largest city in Jackson County? Ans. Medford.

23—What is the largest city in the Pacific Coast? Ans. San Francisco.

24—What is the largest city in the United States? Ans. New York.

25—What is the largest city in Oregon? Ans. Medford.

26—What is the largest city in Jackson County? Ans. Medford.

27—What is the largest city in the Pacific Coast? Ans. San Francisco.

28—What is the largest city in the United States? Ans. New York.

29—What is the largest city in Oregon? Ans. Medford.

30—What is the largest city in Jackson County? Ans. Medford.

CATARRH of head or throat is usually benefited by the vapors of VICKS VAPORUB Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

Dr. Johnson Says REMEMBER All the king's horses and all the king's men, can never replace that lost sound tooth again.

MORAL Don't waste time and loose them.

YES We give gas in dental operations where indicated or desired.

Dr. O. J. Johnson DENTIST 228 East Main St. Phone 669

SALT LAKE LEADER IN COAST RACE SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—First place position in the Pacific Coast league race was held today by the Salt Lake Bees, a team which was generally described at the opening of the season as being able to hold the other end of the percentage column. This is the first time in several years that ANNOUNCEMENTS STATE REPRESENTATIVE I hereby announce my candidacy for the republican nomination for representative in the state legislature at the May primary. JOHN H. CARKIN.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER Thos. H. Simpson, of Ashland, authorizes his announcement as a Candidate for the nomination for the office of County Commissioner of Jackson County, subject to the decision of the Republican voters of said county at the Primary Election, May 19th, 1922. ADV. RALPH COWGILL.

I announce myself as a candidate for Representative in the Legislature, on the Republican ticket, subject to the primaries in May. ADV. GEORGE ALFORD, Phoenix.

I am a candidate for the nomination for County Commissioner of Jackson county, on the Republican ticket, subject to the decision of the voters at the primary to be held May 19th, 1922. ADV. GEORGE ALFORD, Phoenix.

DOLLAR DAY At MANN'S April 27, 28, 29 Thur., Fri., Sat. 3 Big Bargain Days Athletic Union Suits, 2 Hats, Dress Shirts, Night Shirts, 9 Pair Sox, 2 pair Sox, Linen Handkerchiefs, Boy's Caps, Phoenix Silk Sox, Blue and Gray Shirts, Boy's Khaki Pants, Boy's Shirts, Linen Collars, Boy's Blouses, Men's Caps, Mesh Knit Union Suits, Black Sateen Shirts, Boy's Overalls, Leather Gloves, Men's Overalls, 3 Pair Sox, Boy's Wash Suits

Mail Orders Filled Mann's Department Store THE STORE FOR EVERYBODY MEDFORD, OREGON Postage Prepaid

Two-Piece Suits $35 to $50 Three-Piece Suits $40 to $55

We Make Them 'Nuff said GUS THE TAILOR

419 MEDFORD BUILDING

GIM CHUNG China Herb Store This is to certify that Gim Chung of Medford, Ore., has cured me of gottle and stomach trouble. R. M. Leonard, 509 J St., Grants Pass, Ore.

This is to certify that Gim Chung of Medford, Ore., has cured me of rupture of four years' standing. E. G. Isham, 112 S St., Grants Pass, Ore. Medford, Oregon, Jan. 13, 1917.

This is to certify that I, the undersigned, had very severe stomach trouble and had been bothered for several years and last August was not expected to live, and hearing of Gim Chung (whom I had heard of in the Medford, Ore. Herald), I decided to get herbs for my stomach trouble, and I started feeling better as soon as I used them and today am a well man and can heartily recommend anyone afflicted as I was to see Gim Chung and try his herbs. (Signed) W. R. JOHNSON.

Witnesses: Wm. Lewis, Eagle Point; W. L. Childers, Eagle Point; M. A. Anderson, Medford; S. H. Holmes, Eagle Point; C. E. Moore, Eagle Point; J. V. McIntyre, Eagle Point; Geo. Von der Hellen, Eagle Point; Thos. E. Nichols, Eagle Point.

LADIES Tweed top coats, full silk lined $30.00 Sport Suits, Silk lined $40 to $50

Skirts $9.00 up Knickers $9.00 up

GUS THE TAILOR 419 MEDFORD BUILDING

WOOD! Fir $3.00 Tier and up. Utah Fir Coal $16.50 Ton. MEDFORD FUEL CO. Cor Fir and Third Phone 249

Rippling Rhymes by Walt Mason GUNS.

O H, THE SHOOTINGS every day! Some one's always being shot, and the dead are borne away to the shady churehyard lot. Some are shot for fifteen cents, some are stricken down for fun; the most frivolous of gents may with ease acquire a gun. There are laws forbidding this, there are laws forbidding that; but no law forbids the bliss of the tough who'd pack a gat. He may have a murder face, he may have a record bad, but he seeks the busy place where revolvers may be had; and if he can show the mon, foolish questions are not plied; he may bear away his gun, ripe for carefree homicide. Shooting, shootings all the time, voters killed, with no excuse; and the carnival of crime still is ramping, raging loose. If you'd buy a dish of beer, a prescription you must gain, from some learned physician near, who has found you have a pain. If you'd buy a poison dire to deplete the rodent swarms, then the druggist will require that you sign some drastic forms. But if you desire a gat, with manslaughter in your mind, there'll be no ordeal like that, no obstructions will you find.

Bible Not Complete Catholics believe the Bible does not contain ALL the truths Christ revealed, hence it is not necessary to prove every doctrine of the Christian Religion from the Bible. John 21-25. "And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself would not contain the books that should be written." Also John 20-30. The teachings of the Bible must be supplemented by the teachings of the Catholic Church. Luke 10 16. E ROSSI, THE FOUNDER OF THE SCIENCE OF CHRISTIAN ARCHAEOLOGY, WAS A CATHOLIC These advertisements inserted daily and paid for by two native Medford Catholic business men who believe in their religion.