The new ordinance for the licensing and distribution of cream and milk, is now in effect and up to 9 o'clock this morning only 20 of the owners of cows who sell milk in the city had obtained their licenses at the city recorder's office. It is estimated that there are from 60 to 100 cow owners in Medford and outside who sell milk or cream at retail, and the dilatory ones are warned to hurry up and take out their licenses, in order to avoid a fine upon conviction of not exceeding $25, or jail imprisonment of not more than 10 days. The license fee is $1.

"From the depot to his office a path has been beaten by the feet of candidates, according to C. E. Gates, the well known "Pop" and mayor of Medford." says the Portland Oregonian of Saturday. "A few weeks ago "Pop" thought he wanted to be a candidate for governor, but when so many entered the field he decided to change his plans and announced that he will be a candidate for the republican nomination four years hence. Thus he is the early bird in the 1926 campaign. As the various candidates for governor arrive in Medford they look up the mayor and he trots them around to the local republican leaders and introduces them to such citizens as they meet on the main drag, the mayor being as impartial as a brass band."
