Ye Smudge Pot

A "Magna Charter for Russia" as prepared by the allies listens good. France will furnish railroad material, England will furnish credit, Italy will assist with water transportation, and America has been invited to furnish the money.

Candidates for office are showing up with hides so full of ennobling virtues and stalwart qualities that a restraining order from the supreme court is in order to keep them from going to Heaven before election day.

WHERE'S THE AUDIENCE

(Pendleton Oregonian) Dr. George Wood Anderson, evangelist, preaches here tonight on "Fool Women." Men are barred from attendance.

There will be a circus in town tomorrow, and it will be July 4th ere the Sam Richardson kid gets through acting like a Bengal tiger.

Proof that the world is getting hotter faster than usual, is the news from Anseles that three brats averaging 20 years of age have been arrested for murdering an old lady aged 80.

THEY DO IT EVERY TIME

(Eugene Guard) Charles Croser came up Tuesday night from Eugene to the Tanglefoot club dance, his car died on him at Creswell.

The proposal that the world adopt the Golden Rule and the Ten Commandments, and Brotherly Love precepts, is entirely too sensible for the slightest consideration. Besides it would knock 900 billion petty officials loose from the public trough.

Weeds on the vacant lots gained a foot on Sonny Austin in the growing contest last week.

A NEIGHBORLY BACKHANDER

(Ashland Tidings) THE CONVALESCENT HOME is a nice quiet place now that the tourists are all in jail and the Medford auto camp. 203-1

A gent who has arisen from political obscurity to be yanked back again is one O. H. Fithian, seeking the republican nomination for national committeeman.

The country is going to get a great gassing in the fall. James M. Cox and William Jennings Bryan will both take the stump for democracy.

AN OLD TIMER TALKS

Time—Sunny Afternoon. Place—Jacksonville.

"Them son of a guns took my $67 when I was blind, and couldn't see, and had bad eyes, and the next morning the boys had them dangling out on the end of a scantling, and I don't think either of 'em had any breakfast. That was in '61, when I could play a better tune on an anvil than some folks can on a fiddle, and the sheriff went right up there and said, 'Why didn't you galoots wait till them maples in the courthouse yard grewed?' Well, sir, the next day he had a new pair of pants and a gold watch, and was re-elected again.

"An' another time on Mission Creek, when I was driving an express wagon in Grass Valley, some Injun followed my horse off, and long about sundown that Injun got his neck caught in a rope hanging over an elder tree back of the Gem saloon, and run out of wind before the fellers saw him, and the sheriff comes up three hours late, and says: 'You're a hell of an outfit, why didn't you hang the horse, for trying to alienate that buck from his wigwam.' I don't know for sure, but I never believed that Injun had any supper. In them days Justice was Justice, and had whiskers and when you got it you had it, but didn't know it."

HIGH OFFICE VS. LOW VISIBILITY.

IN THE WORLD WAR low visibility was often advanced as an alibi for defeat. A similar alibi promises to be used after the primary election this month.

For unless all signs fail, candidates of low visibility promise to have rough sailing. The people of Oregon may be old fashioned, but they are in no mood to vote for candidates they can't see.

As usual the public platforms are seductive traps to catch votes. But some of them have already raised the suspicion of underground connection with an Invisible Empire.

Now, when it comes to electing public officials, the people as a whole have a natural desire to know just where "they are at." They don't like empires, good or bad, they particularly don't like invisible empires.

Under the circumstances mere silence will probably not be enough. Only the candidates with the courage to stand against imperial invisibility will be above popular suspicion.

There is an increasing demand, therefore, to have every candidate submit to the acid test—to stand before the electorate in the high lights of sunshine and fresh air, so that everyone can not only see him, but see what is behind and around him.

High office and low visibility won't go down.

Rippling Rhymes

ANCIENT PHILOSOPHERS.

I CARE NOT MUCH for those wise birds, those famed and mighty sages, who handed out such weighty words they've thundered down the ages. In old Greek gardens once they sat, and lectured to their classes, on this philosophy or that, as proper for the masses. And while they jawed the eager hicks who paid their hard-earned nickels, the farmers plowed with crooked sticks, and raped their hay with sickles. Oh, any old bewhiskered gent much logic could deliver, but there was no one to invent a shotgun or a flivver. No screens were on the windows then, to make life calm and sweeter, and all night long the wise old men would swat the bug and skeeter. These wise old fellows never thought of any sane invention, and bughouse things were all they taught, and all they deigned to mention. While they were spiling of the gods and of Olympian scandals, they might have garnered decent wads inventing tallow candles. Oh, all their faculties they put on tales of gods and dragons, and men were drilling round on foot because they had no wagons. The wise men of these stirring days don't sit around in gardens, and talk to little Willie Grays and little Dollie Vardens; they take a long white sheet of tin, some bolts of steel or copper, and make an auto that will spin when gas is in its hopper.

Existence of Catholic Church Today a Miracle

The Catholic Church has changed the face of the earth. It found the Roman Empire Pagan, and it made it Christian—by means which, humanly considered, were utterly inadequate. Its members were poor, its rulers often martyrs, and the religion they preached opposed all that flatters human nature, since they inculcated the sternest virtue, the loftiest morality, and the greatest self-sacrifice. That the Catholic Church exists today at all is a miracle. Despite constant persecution, its hold on the hearts of men is ever increasing.

At the Rialto Gladys Walton, in "Playing With Fire," gives a fine interpretation of a flapper of a rather smart type. Miss Walton is something of a smart looker herself and she's the right age, hence the quality of "Playing With Fire," the current attraction which closes tonight at the Rialto theatre. After patiently waiting and anticipating, the photoplay fans of Medford are to be treated once again to a picture of another famous James Oliver Curwood story of the north woods, at the Rialto theatre tomorrow. This latest Curwood picture is entitled "God's Country and the Law," and is one of his most recently written stories.

Sports

Yesterday's Results. National League. Boston, 3; New York, 10. Brooklyn, 2; Philadelphia, 0. Cincinnati, 6; Pittsburgh, 7. No others scheduled.

American League. Detroit, 5; Chicago, 6. Philadelphia, 8; Washington, 5. New York, 2; Boston, 5. St. Louis, 13; Cleveland, 2.

Coast Schedule. SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—The week's Pacific Coast league baseball schedule: San Francisco vs. Vernon at Los Angeles.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Baseball history yesterday again was the work of a rookie pitcher—this time Harry Shriver, in his debut for Brooklyn—who played a leading role in the proceedings. Shriver's performance in blanking the Phillies, 2 to 0, with three lonely bingles, excelled the debuts of Mathewson, Johnson and other pitching stars.

The unique feature of the game, however, was the fact that Post, the Dodger first sacker, had only one out, a catch of a line drive in the ninth and no assists.

Only once before in the 48 years of National league pasturing has this record been equalled. The St. Louis Browns were perched on the top of the American league today as a result of slugging out their fourth straight victory over the Cleveland Indians, while the Yankees were outplayed for the third straight time by Boston, 5 to 2.

The Giants mauled three Boston twirlers and won their third straight victory, 7 to 2. The Philadelphians trounced the Senators and the White Sox made a clean sweep of their series with Detroit, aided by the Tigers' loose field.

MILWAUKEE—Richie Mitchell, Milwaukee, and Ever Hammer, Chicago, matched for ten rounds, no decision, May 12.

KENOSHA—Dave Shade of San Francisco defeated Dennis O'Keefe, Chicago, in ten rounds.

NW ORYEAANS—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul, knocked out Harry Foley, Hot Springs in sixth of scheduled ten-round bout.

MEMPHIS—Pal Moore, Memphis bantamweight, given referee's decision over Kid Pancho, San Antonio, at end eight rounds.

SALT LAKE—Midget Smith, Salt Lake, won a six-round decision over Leonard Melody, Laramie, Wyo. Kid Sparks, Pocatello, fought four rounds to draw with Jay Solomon, Salt Lake.

Koib & Dill There is over six hundred yards in the gold curtain carried by Koib & Dill in their production of "Give and Take" which appears at the Page theatre Thursday night, May 11th, and from this wonderful work of art to the back wall of the theatre the company uses nothing belonging to the theatre, even using their own electric switch board to operate the lighting effect used during the show.

"Give and Take" which was written special for Koib & Dill by Aaron Hoffman is a masterpiece and played by these two stars becomes a comedy in a class by itself and not to be imitated or to be compared to anything before presented.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backaachy or have bladder trouble—Take glass of Salts.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.
