CITIZEN'S TRAINING CAMP OFFICIAL AT HOTEL MEDFORD

An opportunity is being held out by the federal government at the present time to the young men of Oregon and Washington in the form of the Citizen's training camp, which will be conducted at Camp Lewis, Wash., this summer from July 27 until August 25.

Lieutenant James F. Powell, who will be at the Hotel Medford for the next two days will receive applications for entry. No special obligation to military service is incurred by attending the camp and no previous military training is necessary. High school boys above the age of 16 who expect to attend college, are advised to attend, as the intensive training received during the month in camp will be of the utmost value after entry into any state university or college in the country.

Drill, calisthenics, lectures, motion pictures, hikes and training in the use of the U. S. army rifle and pistol are included in the program of these camps. Athletic contests between different units are staged outside of training hours. Interesting trips through government institutions are taken and the cadet is taught the fundamentals of infantry, cavalry, artillery, signal corps and air service by competent instructors in the three courses offered.

Comfortable quarters and good wholesome food are provided for the cadets and each week-end from Saturday noon until Monday morning is the cadet's own time.

The government pays all transportation expenses to and from camp and defrays all expenses while in camp outside of the purchase of personal articles such as cigarettes, candy, toothbrushes, etc.

Young Americans attending these camps will return to school, office and home physically and mentally improved and with a strengthened realization of their personal value and responsibility to their country.

Further information as to the advantages of attending one of these camps may be had by seeing Lieut. Powell at the Hotel Medford.

PRESIDENTIAL APPOINTEE IS STRONGLY OPPOSED

Nat Goldstein of St. Louis whose appointment to the office of Collector of internal revenue for the district of St. Louis by President Harding is being met with increasing opposition. Republican leaders have hinted that the president might be asked to withdraw his name and democratic leaders have come out openly against him alleging that he was involved in the expenditure of large campaign funds of Frank O. Lowden in Missouri in 1920. A statement from the White House said that "the president never boasts nor apologizes for his nominations."

PREDICT A HOT GAME SUNDAY WITH LELAND

Manager Montgomery predicts the baseball game Sunday between the Medford city team and the Leland aggregation will be one of the hottest contests seen here this season. Leland is typical of many small towns where baseball is king and the interest in the team is intense. The visitors from the north have cleaned up everything in their neighborhood including two victories over the Grants Pass nine, and they declare they will add Medford's scalp to their belt also.

The locals have strengthened their lineup and have also put in a lot of time at batting practice and their smooth working infield is air tight. Harry Coffeen is to cover the hot corner of the diamond with Montgomery on second and Marshall on first.

McIntyre will occupy the mound with Hill on the receiving end and Fitzpatrick is in his regular position at short. The three outfield positions are covered by fast men including Clark, Gill and Higgins.

The game is scheduled for 3 p. m. Sunday on the North Holly street grounds and with the new netting across the bleachers spectators will be able to enjoy the game thoroughly.

WOMAN'S COMPLEX LIFE

Woman's complex life with its multitudinous calls is given as the reason for many a nervous breakdown. Home work, social obligations, dressmaking and the care of children keep the 20th century woman in a whirlwind of activity until headaches develop, backache, nervousness and oftentimes more serious ills which are peculiar to her sex alone. Such women should not despair, but be guided by the letters so often published in this paper from women who have been in just such conditions, but who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This is a root and herb medicine that contains no drugs and can be taken in safety by any woman. Adv.
