SUPREME COURT RULING RAPPED BY LA FOLLETTE

Fighting Bob Assails Chief Justice Taft and Associates for Decision Against Labor Unions — Animus Toward Labor Claimed.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Declaring that the supreme court decision in the Coronado coal case was the "most ominous in what it foreshadows for the future of union labor in this country," Senator LaFollett, republican, Wisconsin, today issued a statement in which he criticised the court. The opinion, he stated, was "significant because of what the court says on questions not involved in the case rather than because of anything that is actually decided."

After reviewing the conditions which led up to and prevailed during the strike in the Arkansas coal mines in 1914, upon which the case was based, the Wisconsin senator declared "a six line decision was all that was required to dispose of the case on its merits for the supreme court was reluctantly obliged to admit the fact as I have stated," the reference being to his assertion that "there is not and never was any case against the defendants in the federal court."

The supreme court, however, Senator LaFollette stated, "went out of its way through 29 pages to berate the defendants and to characterize them as outlaws and murderers, and the chief justice wound up his opinion by saying: 'The circumstances are such as to awake a regret that in our view of the federal jurisdiction we cannot affirm the judgment.'"

The court also went out of its way, the senator said, "to change the law as it has existed in the United States since the beginning of the government that unincorporated associations such as are involved here, could not be sued as an entity."

Reviewing what he stated was the authority of the court upon which it based the finding, Senator LaFollette charged that "Chief Justice Taft neglected to state as the result of the Taft-Vale case the British parliament passed a statute which cut up that decision, root and branch, and made it impossible for an English court to ever render a similar decision.

"No doubt our supreme court feels secure behind the bulwark of a written constitution, the meaning of which that court has arrogated to itself the function of finally determining," the senator concluded.

FORT SMITH, Ark., June 7.—A rehearing will be asked in the suit of the Coronado Coal company and associates against the international and district mine workers unions and others, it was announced here today by J. B. McDonough of counsel for the company.

STATE GRANGE IS OPPOSED, REPEAL OF MILLAGE TAX

McMINNVILLE, Ore., June 7.—The Oregon State Grange today had before it for consideration resolutions opposing leasing to or ownership of land within the state by Orientals and demanding that all Orientals be denied the right to become citizens of the United States.

Other resolutions introduced censured judges of the state for imposing too light penalties upon convicted violators of the prohibition laws. These resolutions complained of failure to impose jail sentences and suspending jail sentences and also declared that fines were too light and not in keeping with profits from sales of moonshine whiskey by bootleggers.

The present method of electing officers of the state grange by sending ballots to subordinate granges in November was attacked in another resolution and demand was made for the return to the old method of nomination and electing on the floor of the state grange sessions.

A resolution opposing repeal of the millage measure providing for higher education was adopted and another resolution protested against the use of oleomargarine on the tables of students at the Oregon Agricultural college.

C. E. Spence, master of the state grange, in his annual report approved pooling and selling grain association but said even this did not go far enough to secure for the farmer what is rightfully his. He pleaded against an unwise and indiscriminate reduction of taxes and declared for an increased income tax which he said he hoped would be on the ballot next November.

Women Graduates of English Universities After a Laundry Job

LONDON, June 7.—Eight women holding degrees in Oxford, Cambridge and other English universities underwent a competitive examination today for a position in a London laundry, the duties to consist of answering telephone inquiries.

The manager of the laundry received more than 800 applications for the position which carries an annual salary of 250 pounds sterling.

Nearly all the applicants possessed the qualifications of a university education which his advertisement demanded.

The manager explained that "the job essentialy requires judgment and tact of a high degree."

PRINCESS MARIE ALL READY FOR ROYAL WEDDING

BELGRADE, June 7.—(By Associated Press). Princess Marie of Roumania was making the final preparations today for her marriage tomorrow to King Alexander of Jugo-Slavia. When she arrived yesterday and put foot on the soil of her future kingdom, she was met by the mayor of Belgrade, who in token of friendship and loyalty, presented her with bread and salt.

The princess wore a white crepe de chine dress trimmed in silver and gold which she made herself. She and the royal party, including King Ferdinand and Queen Marie, seven ladies-in-waiting and the entire Roumanian royal household, came by boat on the Danube and were escorted into port by Jugo-Slav airplanes, British, French and Roumanian destroyers and a fleet of Jugo-Slav warships.

Great throngs welcomed the party.

While she was traversing Roumanian territory, the princess was showered with holy water, incense, rosemary and rice for good luck and when the party arrived at Belgrade their vessel passed under an arch bearing the legend "Long Live Our King and Queen! Long Live Jugo Slavia! Long Live Roumania!" while a chorus of 1200 sang a wedding hymn entitled "Queen Marie." The bride was met by King Alexander and his cabinet and was conducted in a procession through the crowded streets to the cathedral where a thanksgiving service was held.

The procession followed streets newly paved for the occasion, along which the old buildings had been demolished to make place for reviewing stands.

A new palace is ready for occupancy of the royal pair. It is situated within a stone's throw of the old royal residence which has been unoccupied since the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Braga in 1903. The Serbians, believing the old palace to be accursed have begged Marie never to cross its threshold.

POLICE SEARCH FOR RUNAWAY BRIDE

MUSKOGEE, Okla., June 7.—A warrant from Ardmore was received here today by Sheriff J. D. Robbins, for the arrest of Opal Rexroad Kinney, Ardmore, Oklahoma, heiress and principal in a sensational run away marriage, charging her with assisting and abetting a fugitive from justice. Mrs. Kinney's husband was arrested here Monday on a charge of deserting the child of a former wife in Morris county, Kansas.

Officers were unable to locate her today. The girl's father, U. T. Rexroat, a prominent oil man of Ardmore claimed that young Kinney had married Miss Rexroat to gain control of her fortune. They were married secretly on January 1.

OREGON CROPS IN NEED OF RAIN

PORTLAND, Ore., June 7.—Winter wheat in Oregon has been injured by hot winds and lack of moisture, according to the weekly crop report of the weather bureau. Spring wheat, oats and barley are generally in need of rain. Some rye has been cut for hay. Corn is growing well in most districts but needs rain in places

MANIFESTO BY LI YUAN HUNG STIRS CHINESE

Declaration Against Militarists Sent Broadcast By Presidential Candidate — Names Condition Under Which He Will Take Office.

TIEN TSIN, June 7.—(By Associated Press). In a remarkable manifesto telegraphed throughout the country today, denouncing scathingly the military cliques that have reduced China to political impotence, Li Yuan Hung laid down the conditions under which he was willing to accede to the request that he assume the task of attempting to head a new centralized government in Peking. Li was president of China in 1917 when the pressure of militarists forced him out of office.

Referring to the numerous requests he had received to resume the presidency Li said these petitions had not left him unmoved. He then recounted what he termed his "sin against parliament" for giving in to the militarists and dissolving it in 1917. He spoke of the ceaseless fighting in China in the last decade, fearing it was not yet over. Wherein lay the root of all this strife? He answered that it could be found in the Tuchun, or system of provincial military governors.

He declared that China excelled all other nations in poverty—and in the size of its armies. Disbandment, he added, invariably had been "farcial." The people "cry aloud for vengeance on the militarists." The Tuchun system he termed "the negation of democracy—ruinous financially." Efforts hitherto made to abolish the Tuchun had been futile; they merely emerged under other names.

Either, he said, the Tuchuns must sacrifice themselves, or the nation itself will sacrifice them. There must be no delay.

Taking up the various arguments against immediate abolition of Tuchuns, he insisted that if the militarists were sincere in their desire to unite the nation it could be accomplished in ten days. While warning the Tuchuns to see the signs of the times, he gave assurance that those of them worthy of consideration would receive liberal treatment from grateful countrymen.

Li declared himself reluctant to return to Peking but said he would undertake the responsibility if all Tuchuns and high inspecting commissioners would resign immediately, accompanying him to the capitol to confer on the welfare of China.

PEKING, June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Developments of the last 24 hours indicated early today that China, which a few days ago seemed on the verge of a unified government located here was in grave danger of a worse split than ever, with the north and south drifting only toward civil war.

Wu Pei Fu's plan for Li Yuan Hung to resume the presidency of a centralized government in Peking was feared to have shattered itself against a rock of opposition in the form of Sun Yat Sen, who according to advices received here yesterday, declared he would refuse to relinquish the presidency of his south China republic at Canton.

Wu had won the support of about 300 members of the old national parliament, now assembled at Tien Tsin, and they had urged ex-President Li to take back the executive office from which he was ousted by the militarists in 1917. Li, however, withheld his acceptance pending certain conditions, chief of which, was the dissolution of the South China republic.

Reports yesterday stated that Sun had persuaded many members of the old parliament—still in Canton—to rally around his standard.

NO COAL SHORTAGE ACCOUNT STRIKE

WASHINGTON, June 6.—There is plenty of bituminous coal in the country for everybody for the current month at least, it was declared today at the White House. Pointing out that there is a continuing slight increase in coal production, officials declared no new emergency or crisis was threatened by the continuing miner's strike. In explanation of Secretary Hoover's efforts to establish protection against run-away prices in coal, it was said that the government so far attempting only "moral suasion" although the result has been attained in this line by direct negotiation with the industry. It was pointed out again that no legal authority existed in law for price fixing and that the action so far taken was extra legal.

ANOTHER ENTRANT FOR HOME RUN HONORS

"Bing" Miller of the Philadelphia Athletics, who looms up on the horizon as a contender for home run honors. Miller has accumulated eleven four base knocks, only one less than has Ken Williams, of St. Louis. These two players are leading Babe Ruth a merry chase.

HALL'S EXPENSES LEAD LIST IN PRIMARY FIGHT

SALEM, Ore., June 7.—(Special)—Charles Hall, candidate for the republican nomination for governor at the recent primaries, spent $1030.05 and R. R. Coster, treasurer of the "Hall for Governor club," spent $1646.33 in Hall's behalf during the campaign prior to the election, according to their statements filed with the secretary of state today. This is a total of $2676.38.

Ben W. Olcott, governor, spent nothing in his campaign, but George E. Waters spent $1847.54 in his behalf, according to the statement filed.

Other expenses were listed as follows:

George A. White, republican, governor of the state of Oregon, $408.70; W. C. Hawley, republican, representative in congress, first district, $1124.38; N. J. Sinnott, republican, congressman, second district, $654.76; Fred A. Williams, commissioner public service commission, $54; J. N. Hart, republican, circuit judge, fourth district, department No. 5, $485.86.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Formal presentation of the soldiers' bonus bill to the senate on Thursday is the present plan of Chairman McCumber of the senate finance committee. The bill will be accompanied by the usual printed report and in addition Senator McCumber expects to address the senate briefly on the subject. The measure will be sent to the senate calendar committee to remain until an agreement is reached upon it.

IOWA PRIMARY GREAT VICTORY FOR BOURBONS

Democratic National Committeeman Declares Brookhart's Victory Direct Slap at Harding Administration—Opposed President's Policy.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(By Associated Press). Nomination by Iowa republicans of Smith W. Brookhart as the party candidate for United States senator was declared by Chairman Hull of the democratic national committee in a statement today to be "even a more emphatic repudiation of the Harding administration and the republican congress than the votes for Beveridge in Indiana and Pinchot in Pennsylvania."

The democratic chairman's statement added that Colonel Brookhart stood for definite policies, "to which the administration especially is opposed, while the votes for Beveridge and Pinchot were largely votes of protest."

"President Harding declared the Esch-Cummins act to be the greatest piece of railroad legislation ever passed," the statement continued, "and Colonel Brookhart ran on a platform pledged to repeal that act. His platform was not only progressive, but progressive in some features to the point of radicalism, including endorsement of the agricultural bloc, denounced by Mr. Harding, co-operative buying and selling, closer union of farm and city laborers, control of the federal reserve board by producers and government ownership of railroads."

G. O. P. Support Pledged

DES MOINES, Ia., July 7.—The senatorial primary vote in 2263 precincts out of the 2348 in the state, tabulated this morning stood:

Brookhart 130,196; Pickett 50,370; Thorn 50,277; Francis 30,168; Sweet 35,414; Stanley 12,682.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(By Associated Press). Republican organization support for Smith W. Brookhart, nominated as the republican candidate for United States senator in Monday's primary in Iowa, was pledged in a statement issued today by Senator McCormick of Illinois, chairman of the republican senatorial campaign committee. Brookhart defeated the commonly known organization candidates in the primary.

GRANGE LEADER FOR RETENTION DIRECT PRIMARY

YAKIMA, Wash., June 7.—Before about 700 members of the State Grange, Fred Nelson of Seattle, acting master, read his official message to the Grangers of the state, assembled for their 34th convention in the horticultural building at the state fair grounds.

Nelson in his address urged the farmers to make every use of the state college, to work for the amendment of the constitution so as to provide for its future amendment thru the initiative to co-operate with the farmers' union and farm bureau in trying to solve the farmers' problems, to work for the retention of the initiative, recall and direct primary, to combat the tendency to consolidate the rural schools with the city and to have the state print text books. He devoted some time to a discussion of the liquor and narcotic evil, saying that since the dry law was passed "thousands of stills have been established and moonshine is peddled just like any other commodity. The only way to stop this evil is to make it a criminal offense, punishable by a term in the penitentiary, for hte first offense. The drug evil is also steadily on the increase and more dangerous than the saloons ever were. We believe this should be referred to a committee at this meeting to work out a plan for a vigorous campaign against this vil, to be carried into every grange community."

Dr. Willing Put Out

VICTORIA, B. C., June 7.—J. F. Westland of Everett, Wash., a University of Washington student, furnished the surprise of the first round of the Pacific Northwest amateur golf championship tourney on the Colwood links yesterday when he won from Dr. O. F. Willing, Portland crack, by one up.

Westland dubbed his tee on the 16th and appeared to have lost out but after again dubbing his tee on the 17th he placed the ball close to the pin in the second shot and with a pretty putt won the hole.

Tchitcherin, Soviet Minister, Will Not Attend Hague Meet

BERLIN, June 7.—(By the Associated Press.) — Foreign Minister Tchitcherin of soviet Russia announced here today that he would not attend the proposed Hague conference decided upon by the principal powers at Genoa to consider Russian rehabilitation.

He gave as his reason that he could not longer absent himself from Moscow, whence he came two months ago.

The soviet foreign minister clared Russia was unwilling to have foreign commissions enter the country for the purpose of investigating governmental affairs and looking into records. He said the government would be unable to tolerate any such infringement of its sovereignty.

COAL OPERATOR MAKES APPEAL TO END STRIKE

COLUMBUS, June 7.—Announcement was made here today through the southern Ohio coal exchange that the George M. John's Coal company of Toledo, the largest operating company in Ohio, has appealed to Senator Pomerene and Congressman S. D. Fess to use their influence to bring about a conference between southern Ohio operators and miners with a view to ending the coal strike in that territory.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Secretary Hoover (commerce) in a report to the senate today disclosed that he and Secretary Davis (labor) had sought to present recently suggestions which it had been hoped would lead to settlement of the coal strike, but so far their effort had been without result.

The commerce secretary's statement, which was the first disclosure that the government had sought to intervene in the struggle between the mine workers and operators was contained in a response to the resolution of Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, adopted by the senate several days ago, calling for information regarding the coal situation.

Replying to the inquiry in the Walsh resolution as "to what action, if any, government agencies have taken to terminate the strike?" Mr. Hoover said:

"The government agencies have no legal authority to terminate or to intervene in the strike. Quite informally and repeatedly suggestions as to propositions on which the disputants might well confer and hopes for settlement have been made through the department of labor and this department, or both, but thus far the suggestions have been without result."

HAZELTON, Pa., June 7.—The anthracite miners scale committee today gave out a statement that it will ask for a referendum vote authorizing it to turn the hard coal suspension into a strike if the situation demands it. The reply to the operators which is believed to be a formal rejection of arbitration as submitted by the employers, will be withheld, pending the vote.

HERE COMES THE RADIO BRIDE, AT OAKLAND, CAL.

OAKLAND, Cal., June 7.—Here comes the radio bride.

Next Sunday evening Miss Vivian Kidd and Leland H. Hodgson of this city plan to broadcast their wedding ceremony to many of their friends and probably to numerous strangers. Instead of walking in dignified misery, down a church aisle, they will stand at ease before the big broadcasting instrument at Rock Ridge. The wedding march, every detail of the event, will be recorded for the radio phones.

RAILROAD PARALYSIS EXPECTED JULY 1ST

CHICAGO, June 7.—Strike ballots returnable June 30, went out today to railway employes effected by wage reductions ordered by the United States railroad labor board. The vote will be taken by individual unions, whose 1,200,000 members are affected in orders either issued or pending.

Paralysis of the nation's railways July 1 loomed as a possibility as a result of the reductions, which have already slashed $110,000,000 from the wages of the workers.

The wage cut is effective July 1.

CONDITIONS IN IRELAND SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Once More Hope of Peace Revives As Sanity Seems to Gain Ground—Better Feeling All Around Is London Report.

BELFAST, June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, while automobiling from Armagh to county Louth today with Archbishop O'Donnell, was held up at Lisnadilla, near Armagh, by a party of Ulster specials who intimated their intention of searching the car.

The cardinal objected and demanded their authority whereupon, according to a Dundalk report, one of the specials whipped out his revolver and said: "That's my authority!"

DUBLIN, June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Complete returns on nominations for the forthcoming Irish elections today show that 34 candidates for membership in the Dail Eireann—17 pro-treaty and 17 anti—have been returned unopposed.

HAGGARDSTOWN, Dundalk, Ireland, June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Cardinal Logu, primate of Ireland, in a sermon here today said that for 700 years the Irish had been sighing for their freedom and it seemed within their grasp at last.

Unfortunately, however, continued the cardinal, owing to the "folly of our own people, instead of taking what is likely to secure that great blessing there is danger, through dissension and division amongst ourselves of its slipping away altogether and of our being drawn back into the terrible state of chaos and confusion in which the country has been for the past two or three years."

BELFAST, June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Nearly all the noncombatants have left the Beleek district in northwestern Fermanagh and the abandoned cattle are wandering aimlessly over the countryside. Only Irish republican army patrols from the fort are seen moving about.

Entrance to the village of Pettigoe, ten miles to the northeast, has been prohibited except to those having permits. The city is practically deserted.

There is a growing belief that political influences are asserting themselves in the situation, in view of the London conferences and the protest over the Pettigo cincident by Michael Collins, head of the southern government.

Atmosphere Improves.

LONDON, June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The revised draft of the Irish constitution, brought to London today by Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann, provides among other things, says the Evening News, "that Ireland shall remain within the empire in the same way as a dominion."

"Decisions of the privy council," says the newspaper, "shall be final in all constitutional matters concerning the free state, subject to certain conditions. Assent of the crown must be obtained to all legislation in the free state. The oath of allegiance provided in the Anglo-Irish treaty shall be observed."

The News says it is understood there also have been some modifications in the treaty provisions in the draft giving the free state wider control over foreign affairs than the imperial government was prepared to concede.

The discussions are being renewed today, the News asserts, in a distinctly more promising atmosphere.

ED RICKENBACHER STARTS ON FLIGHT

MINEOLA, N. Y., June 7.—Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, leading American war ace, took off from Mitchel field today for Detroit on the first leg of a flight intended to carry him over every state in the union. Rickenbacker carried a letter from President Harding to the convention of Shriners in San Francisco.

The flier expects to be gone three months and to travel more than 15,000 miles by air, making a survey of the country and landing fields for the army air service.

In the cabin with Rickenbacker when the all-metal plane left the ground at 11:15 a. m. was Eddie Stinson, who set a new record for continuous hours in the air, and "Steve" Hannigan, mechanician. They expect to stay in Detroit tonight, flying to Chicago tomorrow.
