BIGGEST BLDG. BOOM HISTORY OF MEDFORD

Over Quarter of Million Spent in First Six Months of 1922
On New Buildings in Medford and Vicinity—Fine Residences Now Going Up.

Over a quarter of a million dollars will be spent in Medford for buildings—homes, business, and industrial—for the first six months of the present year. This is the largest building boom in the history of the city.

For homes, approximately $50,000 was spent, for business buildings or alterations in old ones, $100,000, and the same amount for industrial and community structures.

The California-Oregon Power company has plans for a $50,000 warehouse, the business block at the corner of Sixth and Bartlett streets, to cost $35,000 is nearing completion, and alterations to the Medford National Bank costing $30,000 will be completed by July 1st.

Among the homes under construction or completed are the following: E. D. Petch, manager of the Oregon Gas company, who is constructing a new two-story home on the Pacific highway between this city and Phoenix to cost approximately $10,000.

Lewis Ulrich is building a $5000 home on Minnesota avenue, the Pennsylvania colonial style of architecture being employed. This home, according to Mr. Clark, is unique in arrangement, and different from anything in the state, the plans being largely the idea of Mrs. Ulrich.

Across the street from the Ulrich home, Bert Thierolf has completed a $6000 home following the New England colonial style of architecture, and adjoining the Thierolf residence George Porter has built a $5000 home. Roland Hubbard has plans for a $3500 bungalow on the same street. Dr. M. C. Barber recently completed a $6000 home in this section.

Larkin Reynolds is building a $3800 home, following the Pennsylvania Dutch colonial style.

Ed Miller has underway a $4000 home on the Pacific highway, south near the city limits, and this too will follow the colonial style of architecture, with a 50 foot frontage.

Among the handsome homes completed this year is that of C. I. Hutchins on West Main street, costing close to $15,000.

C. F. Nichols completed a colonial type home on South Holly street costing $3800. Arthur Tye also constructed a $2200 home on Ross Court.

It is not expected that the building boom will lag until winter, as the demand for homes is still strong, and many of the ex-service men plan to build as soon as they receive loans under the state bonus bill, now being issued.

Prosperity implies thrift, growth or success. Too often prosperity or success is measured by the amount of money or wealth a business accumulates without regard to the real service a concern or business renders to the public.

In four years THE MEDFORD EXCHANGE has grown rapidly to a big going concern because of our undaunted efforts to serve the public. In brief—by helping others to buy economically and thus prosper, we have helped ourselves to prosper.

Our method has always been to SELL AS LOW AS POSSIBLE, not for as much as possible. This is the reason of our success. The Buying Public know: THEY CAN BUY FOR LESS AT THE MEDFORD EXCHANGE.

We Want You to Prosperity
So we offer the following
