serve, association chiefs asserted that "the situation could not possibly become as acute as the one which prevailed during the switchmen's strike of 1920, when all equipment was in a dilapidated condition."

Maintenance of way men are nearly 100 per cent unskilled, it was declared. Recruits to take the jobs of the 230,000 union men contemplating a strike, could be recruited from the "floating army of unemployed."

Wages Explained
 CHICAGO, July 3.—The cut of about $135,000,000 in the wages of some 1,200,000 railroad employees which became effective at the same time that a ten per cent cut in freight rates amounting to about $400,000,000 went into effect, still leaves hourly wages measured in actual buying power above the wages of December, 1917, just before government control, according to figures compiled by the United States railroad labor board.

Machinists who belong to the shop crafts which have gone on strike were cut 7 cents an hour. They averaged 77.3 cents and now average 70.3 cents. In 1917 the rate was 50.0, the new hour rate being 39 per cent higher. Cost of living, according to labor board figures, is 17 per cent higher than in December, 1917. The board figures the new hourly rate for machinists 19 per cent greater in real purchasing power than in December, 1917.

Car men cut 9 cents an hour, now have an average hourly wage of 64.4 cents, as compared with 37.7 cents an hour in December, 1917, the board's figures show. This represents a net increase of 71 per cent in cash and an advance of 45.7 per cent in equal purchasing power of the hourly wage, the board maintains.

By a similar mathematical process the increase of machinists is figured as seven per cent. The $135,000,000 wage cut made effective July 1, is divided as follows:

Clerical and station forces $24,336,317.
 Maintenance of way, structural and unskilled forces $48,898,873.
 Shop employees $59,669,347.

Stationary engine and boiler room employees $551,954.
 Signal department employees $1,532,428.

Total $134,988,919.
 The national industrial conference board has made a comparison of the new wage rates with those in 1914, using its own cost of living index. It places the average earnings of the four main groups which had their wages cut at about 19 per cent higher than in 1914, measured in buying power.
