Ye Smudge Pot
By Arthur Perry.

Social welfare workers report "that the young people are drifting inexorably from the small towns to the metropolitan centers," and one cannot blame them much. The city is gay, and wicked, and cruel, and crowded, bright with electric lights, and full of piffals for the giddy, but it does not leave its victims blithering hypocrites, nondeflatable windbags, ornery four-flushers, and whispering bushbodies.

A Mr. Forde narrowly averted having the trailer letter of his cognomen

WHERE IS MARX?

(Eugene Register)
HART-SHAFFNER—At the study of the officiating minister in Eugene, July 2, 1922, Charles Preston Hart and Miss Florence M.
Shaffner, both of Eugene, by Dr.
E. V. Stivers.

The government did nothing yesterday to antagonize the unions.

The Independence Day dancing debauch is ended, but the hangover causes some of the Galshevski to shimmy at every smooth spot in the sidewalks.

Waving fields of corn dot the valley, and there is no danger of running out of roasting ears and corn meal, before the first of the year.

The Jr. seeder from Ore. threatens to go back to Washington, D. C., the first of August, unless a sheep deal interferes. He is a great help to this state in the capitol, while operating in Idaho.

A CRISIS

(Coo's Bay Times)
W. H. Bunch took a trip to Marshfield recently to consult an oculist about his eye which is badly inflamed. He has nearly filled two silos and will be through that work in another day.

It is getting along towards the time when lifelong republicans, who have always voted the democratic ticket, begin to write letters to the papers.

"WETS TURN GUNS ON CON-GRESS"—(Hillside SE. Call). Why not the hose?

A superficial protuberance in the hippocket region of a Nash miner, under surveillance of the vested authorities, turned out to be a promising silver specimen.

HOO! HOO! DOCK!

(Chico Enterprise)
Dr. Poket was called upon Thursday to treat J. Melkle of Capay.

The heat, of politics, not Old Sol—is growing more intense, and some of the super-candidates stand ready to be asphyxiated with their own virtue, if there are enough votes in it.

The Henry Ford presidential boom is still in its infancy, but one of the features of the inauguration will be driving a Lizzie up and down the White House steps while the oath of office is being administered.

SHAKE, PARDNER!

(Harrisburg News)
O. Shook, known several years ago as the potato king of Minnesota, has been going over the Harrisburg vicinity very carefully and is very enthusiastic in regard to its productive qualities.

Mrs. Mallory Loses WIMBLEDON, July 6.—(By Associated Press). Mrs. Mollie Burnsted Mallory, the American woman champion, and Miss Edith Signourney of Boston, were defeated in the women's doubles of the grass court tennis championships today.

Mrs. Lambert Chambers and Mrs.
Pnecock, Great Britain, won from the Americans 6-2, 6-1.

DEFENDING THE PUBLIC OF OREGON.

THROUGH the Public Defense League, whatever that is—Charles Hall discovers illegal voting in every county that didn't return him a handsome plurality in the recent primary. In counties like Douglas and Josephine, where the Marshfield candidate had a walkaway, there was nothing at all suspicious, every ballot was correctly marked, not a single Democrat apparently changed his registration to vote the Republican ticket!

It was ever thus. Poor losers are always poor logicians. A supporter is always a saint, an opponent always a crook. Nothing is small or reprehensible that contributes to self-advancement.

But how about this Public Defense League, Mr. Hall explains it is composed of "some of his supporters." Well and good. But how are they to defend the poor public? By making Hall the republican nominee. By shoving an Independent candidate into the race to split the Republican party, and elect a Democrat? Probably.

But why not make a good job of it? The poor, suffering public in this state needs protection in other directions. It needs protection from increased taxes, which recounts, recalls and the like, contribute to so decidedly. It needs protection from self-seeking politicians who inject religious and racial questions into politics for their own advancement, regardless of the state and national constitutions. It needs protection to business which is being injured every day by this preposterous attempt to hand over the state house to some Invisible Emperor in Atlanta, Georgia.

In fact, the Public Defense League might leave politics entirely alone, let Governor Olcott and Walter Pierce fight it out, and the public could undoubtedly worry along some way. But if the league would get to work on real public defense, clean this state of the invisible carpet baggers, the hate inciters, the plain garden variety of mischief makers and scandal mongers, a great public service would be rendered.

Change the ship's course, Charley. Forget your own ambitions.
Steer the Public Defense League into sane and constructive channels, and while you may not become governor, you will earn the gratitude and affection of a vast majority of the people of this state.

Quill Points.

Strange how many people you meet now whose favorite time of year is winter.

Some grocers collect their bills promptly, and some sell to prominent families.

When a man grows weary of this sad world, he can walk down a dark street, satchel in hand, and pretend to be a paymaster.

The modern girl is full of a glorious independence, but she hasn't forgotten how to say: "Charge it to Dad."

Courtesy is the quality that keeps a woman smiling when a departing guest stands at the open screen and lets flies in.

As the coal strike continues, hotel keepers in California and Florida begin to rub their palms in gleeful anticipation.

Man gets thirty days for stealing 30 cents' worth of groceries.
We Americans have our faults, but we do hate a piker.

Let's see; what was that queer thing the women used to wear?
Yeah, that's it; a petticoat.

Greater love hath no man than this, that he takes his wife to a restaurant when the weather makes cooking an ordeal.

In a small town the gossips always feel cheated of their rights if a widower doesn't give them something to talk about in horrified whispers.

At first the bride thinks her husband's tough friends may degrade him, but after a few years she knows they can't teach him anything.

LOST LENORE.

BESIDE the sea I saunter, and long for Lost Lenore; I want her, oh, I want her, but she comes back no more. Here once we roamed together, when all the world was sane, and talked about the weather, the price of hay and grain. Then maidens were not flapping and they were full of grace; you didn't see them yapping around the market place. They thought of love and marriage, of wreaths upon the brow, of riding in a carriage to church to make a vow. And where is now the maiden who walked the shore with me? She chases voters, laden with handbills fierce to see. She's out electioneering, she wants a public snap, while modern dames are cheering and all the flappers flap.
She's making dippy speeches, she trots from door to door, and I can find no peaches along the sandy shore. The girls are all so busy! They leave no graft untied. I drive my old tin Lizzie, and no one wants a ride. And onto the laughing friskers came round me where I sat, and poured sand in my whiskers and kicked holes through my hat. But now the girls are flapping, or doing kindred chores, and I, an old man, napping, can't find my Lost Lenores.

COMMUNICATIONS

Answers G. O. P. Voter
To the Editor: "Honest To Goodness Republican Voter" may be—doubtless, he intends to be—a friend of Mr. C. M.
Thomas; but if so, then the candidate may well fervently pray to be delivered from his friends, for no more damaging statement of the case against his candidate could be made by an opponent than that published over the quoted signature in Wednesday's Mail Tribune. The blustering defense set up by the would be champion serves only to emphasize the fact that Mr. Thomas remains as dumb as an oyster on a subject which is of vital interest in this year's political campaign.

"Honest To Goodness" can put the value of his communication to a simple and convincing test: let him take a copy of the diatribe up to Mr. Thomas's office and ask the candidate if he would care to have him repeat the performance. REPUBLICAN VOTER.

Bible Thought for Today

GOD CARES FOR HIS OWN.—
And I say shall be mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him.—Malachi 3: 17.

Rocky's Hand Fractured.
CHICAGO, July 6.—X-ray pictures showed an oblique fracture of the small bone and it probably will be two months before he can return to the ring, according to Dr. C. W.

Briggs, of Chicago, who attended the Buffalo lightweight after his injury in his contest with Benny Leonard at Michigan City, Ind., July 4.
