

Local and Personal

The excellent band concert given in the city park last night by the Elks band was enjoyed by one of the largest crowds ever observed in attendance at a public band concert in this city. Cars crowded the streets around the park and library and in many places the streets were completely jammed with them so that traffic was impossible. Several persons were heard to remark that confusion would have resulted had there been a fire and had the fire apparatus found it necessary to go down any of the streets. The program given by the band was greatly enjoyed and was well selected to please the taste of everyone in the audience.
