BIG TURNOUT IS EXPECTED TONIGHT AT BOXING SMOKER

Gordon McKay, Pacific coast middleweight champion, and Wildcat Welty will meet tonight at the Medford Athletic club in an eight round bout, and it promises to be the best boxing card ever presented to the fans of the Rogue River valley. McKay is en route to Oakland, where he will meet Panama Joe Gans next week, and has a bout scheduled with Harry Grob at Pittsburg in September. He is considered the class of the coast boxers and his training has shown he knows what he is doing.

The Wildcat has flattened out every corner since his appearance in this section. He knocked out Frankie Darwin at Idaho Falls, fought George Eagles a draw, won over Berdeaux, got the decision over Romeo Hagen, and has 24 other victories to his credit.

A large delegation of fans will be in attendance from all valley points and some will come from northern California to see the main event.

There will be six other bouts between local boxers, and the cream of the local talent will exhibit their wares.

URGE COUNTY CT. TO ACCEPT AID OF ROCKEFELLER INST.

Representative citizens of Central Point, Ashland, Phoenix and Medford appeared before the county court yesterday afternoon to urge the authorities to accept the offer of $5,520.00 from the Rockefeller Institute toward a $10,000 budget for a full time county physician, two county nurses and a clerical laboratory assistant.

The money now being spent for the present county nurse and county physician amounting to approximately $2,500 can be applied on account of the county's share so that with an investment of $1,000 more, the county would receive $5,520 to carry on this health program.

The offer is being made to but five counties in Oregon and Coos county has already accepted. The county court will again meet next Wednesday at which time a final decision will be made on the offer.

5 Cent Fare in Tacoma TACOMA, July 20.—The Tacoma Railway and Power company, operating all the street cars today met the demand of Mayor A. V. Fawcett for five cent fares.

Irish Comedy at Page Your feet will want to dance in time with the rapid comedy pace of Rupert Hughes' new photocomedy, "Come On Over," which is now on view at the Page theatre. It's Irish and it's American and it's funny and it has a dancing finish that will go straight to the heart—as well as the feet—of anybody who sees it. One of the highest steps hers is Florence Drew, a character actress of sixty-eight years, who studied the art of dancing in Europe, over fifty years ago.

Charming Colleen Moore has her best role as the Irish lass left behind by her sweetheart started for America to make his fortune.

Dorothy Dalton at Rialto

Without exception, one of the very best photoplays reviewed in a long time is "The Woman Who Walked Alone," the current attraction at the Rialto theater. Dorothy Dalton is the featured player; but in reality it is a three-star combination, as the cast also includes Milton Sills and Wanda Hawley.

This singularly interesting photoplay, which does not permit the attention of the spectator to wander for an instant, because the next instant brings a fresh surprise, culminating in a distinctly original situation, contains a charming romance, excellent acting, and has an abundance of originality. "The Woman Who Walked Alone" is distinctly different and will appeal to all fans who really like capital stories, capably enacted and splendidly directed.

INJUNCTION AGAINST RECALL

iff's office, the Rev. W. Judson Oldfield, pastor of the Congregational church at Ashland, John J. Hoogstraat, a kliegite of the local clan, George Iverson, a local carpenter, Clay Walker, a former Medford policeman, Howard Hill, an orchardist, W. D. Hughes, proprietor of a vulcanizing plant in this city, and R. L. Ray and Thomas E. Goodie.

Klan Members Named

The purposes and motives of the recall, which have been labelled by its proponents as a "righteous movement," and a "wet and dry fight," are set forth in Paragraph Three of the document, as follows:

"That prior to the circulation of the pretended recall petition herein-after set out a notorious secret political organization known as the Ku Klux Klan had been formed in Jackson county, Oregon. That among other purposes the said society had conspired to secure the secret control through the election of its members to the various public offices in said county. That coincident with the formation of said society certain acts and outrages of mob violence were perpetrated upon the persons of diverse citizens of said county, said society commonly and openly being charged with responsibility therefor. That at said time it was generally known and understood that a grand jury was to be summoned to investigate said outrages and the activities of said society. That the defendants D. M. Lowe, W. Judson Oldfield, John J. Hoogstraat, George Iverson, Clay Walker, Howard Hill, R. L. Ray, Thomas E. Goodie and W. D. Hughes, and each of them, were at all times mentioned herein, and now are members of said society. That on or about May 30th, the said last named defendants, together with divers and sundry other persons whose names to the plaintiffs herein are unknown, with the intent, desire, and purpose of perpetrating a fraud upon the plaintiffs herein, and upon the legal voters, citizens and taxpayers of Jackson county, Oregon, and with the intent to fraudulently deprive plaintiff, C. E. Terrill, of his office, and fraudulently usurp same to a member of said secret society and with the intent to obstruct justice in said county, they well knowing that the said sheriff's office in the selection of jurors to fill special venues, could select such jurymen out of and from the members of said society, said members being oathbound not to reveal the identity or secrets of its members, treason, rape and wilful murder alone excepted, said fraudulent intent being hereinafter specifically set out, they, and each of them wilfully and fraudulently contrived and conspired together to circulate a petition in and throughout Jackson county, asking for the recall of the plaintiff, C. E. Terrill, as sheriff of Jackson county, Oregon."

Misfeasance Denied

Relative to the report that the sheriff had been guilty of misfeasance in his said office as shown by the 1921 grand jury report, Mr. J. W. Elden, foreman, the application states:

"That there was, and is, no report of any kind by any grand jury of Jackson county, Oregon, made during the year 1921, charging said sheriff with any violations of his office or misconduct thereof, or misfeasance of any kind therein and that all of said statements as made in said recall petitions, specifically set out in "Exhibit A" herof, alleged to be the reasons of the recall of said sheriff, are so indefinite and uncertain that they constitute no reason of any kind whatsoever therefor, and charge and allege nothing that the purpose thereof was to permit the circulators of said petition to make false, scandalous, and untrue statements of an concerning said sheriff and to prevent the said sheriff from making any defense thereto because there was no charge set forth in said recall petitions, and no reason of any kind advanced for his recall therefor."

Charges Are False

After charging "that by reason of said false, scandalous, libelous, and untrue statements and misrepresentations" caused "a great many people to sign said petition," they are enumerated as follows:

"That the sheriff has appointed Dud Walgamott, as deputy sheriff" (it being well known that the said Dud Walgamott, had twice been convicted in the circuit court of Jackson county of selling intoxicating liquor.

"That the sheriff was drunk at Kingsbury Springs and Talent;

"That the sheriff had provided and loaned a still to certain benevolent and charitable organizations;

"That the sheriff had brought to a large quantity and amount of booze;

"That the sheriff did not enforce the law;

"That the sheriff was favoring the bootleggers;

"That the sheriff sells more liquor than any bootlegger in Jackson county, Oregon.

"That the sheriff took a still from an old prospector, and loaned it to one of the social organizations or judges for the purpose of illicit manufacture of liquor."

The document then asserts that this campaign of gossip was with the intent to "misrepresent the true facts," and perpetrate a fraud upon the legal voters and taxpayers of Jackson county."

Terrill's Stand Given

The stand of Sheriff Terrill upon the recall is set forth in the following:

"That the plaintiff, C. E. Terrill, has no desire to thwart the will of the majority of the electorate of Jackson county, Oregon, nor to hold said office against the plurality of said electorate, and is willing to submit the question of his recall to the electorate of said county at the general election, November 7th, 1922, when the matter may be determined without additional expense to the taxpayers, provided the proponents of said recall shall present at such time a proper petition setting out specifically any delinquency or maladministration of his conduct of said office so as to enable him to meet said charges in an open and honorable manner and provided said petition shall be signed by the requisite number of electors as required by the constitution."

Injury to Taxpayers

The document then sets forth the financial condition of Jackson county relative to funds, and indebtedness, and taxation, and further asserts:

"That if the said recall election is held the expenditure therefor will cause said Jackson county, and said defendant Chauncey Flores, as county clerk, to violate the terms and provisions of said sections X and XI of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of Oregon in that it will create an additional liability and indebtedness of said county of Jackson, which, together with its present indebtedness outside of its bonded indebtedness will be in excess of $5000."

It is also alleged "that grave, irreparable and irretrievable injury and damage will result unto Jackson county taxpayers, from "holding fraudulent and unlawful election." The following signed the application as attorneys and counsel, Briggs and Briggs of Ashland, C. B. Watson of Gold Hill; Reams and Reams, Porter J. Neff, George M. Roberts, Gus Newbury and B. F. Lindas of Medford.
