

ALLIES DEMAND GERMANY DISMANTLE FIRE CONTROL SCHOOL ON KIEL CANAL

PARIS, July 26.—(By Associated Press). The council of ambassadors today decided to send a sharp note to the German government demanding the immediate destruction of the fire control and range finding school which the German naval authorities have quietly established at a strategic point on the Kiel canal. The allied expert opinion has declared the school convertible into a fort commanding the entrance into the canal.

ed the school formed it the most flagrant of the long series of violations of the naval terms of the treaty of Versailles on the part of Germany. Experts reported these violations to have extended over a period of two months and strongly urged action by the council.

It is always a source of satisfaction to be able to knock someone who has touched the heights and then fallen. We therefore went to see Rex Ingram's new picture "The Conquering Power," featuring Rudolph Valentino, at the Page theatre yesterday, confident that it would show a marked drop from his earlier production, "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." We were disappointed; for, while it lacks many of the sensational dramatic qualities and most of the spectacular effect of the Ibanez piece, it is more coherent and more carefully balanced. The theme of "The Conquering Power," is furnished by Balzac's novel "Eugenie Grandet"; but Mr. Ingram has concentrated on reproducing the atmosphere of the original, rather than the actual story. He has brought it down to modern times, and has focused the spotlight of attention more on the miserly qualities of old Pere Grandet than on the silent sufferings of Eugenie herself. And yet, in spite of the numerous external changes, the true spirit of Balzac has been retained. This, of course, is the prime test of every adaptation.

Many of the players (and some of the scenery) of "The Four Horsemen" appear in "The Conquering Power," notably the wistful Alice Terry, as Eugenie, and Rudolph Valentino, as her lover.

AWARD MILLION STATE HIGHWAY BONDS TO BANK

PORTLAND, Ore., July 26.—One million dollars worth of 4 1/2 per cent state highway bonds were awarded today by the highway commission to a Portland firm at a rate of $1020.99 a thousand. The heaviest competition in nine sets of bids for these bonds were several thousand dollars less than the successful bid. The commission awarded $91,000 worth of Clackamas county 5 per cent road bonds to a Portland bank for a premium of $227.50. For $44,000 worth of 1 1/2 per cent Douglas county road bonds the bid of a Portland firm for $43,054 was accepted. The commission also awarded $6,697.37 street improvement bonds of the city of Rainier to another Portland bidder at $95 per hundred.

Eight bidders submitted offers to complete the paving of the Pacific highway through Jefferson with concrete or bituminous surfacing. Exactly .92 mile remains to be surfaced.

WIVES ARE INVITED TO ATTEND JOINT FORUM

Members of the Medford chamber of commerce who expect to attend the joint forum tomorrow evening at Lithia park, Ashland, of the Medford and Ashland chambers and who neglected to secure their tickets today will have the opportunity to do so until ten o'clock tomorrow morning. The committee in charge of the forum meal desire to know how many Medford citizens will attend so that sufficient food will be provided and that none may be disappointed.

It is understood that members of the Medford chamber are expected to bring their wives and as many members are out on their vacations, the number so far who will attend is not very satisfactory and for that reason all who can possibly go are urged to buy their tickets tomorrow morning.

LEWIS LAUGHS AT COAL FROM WALES

NEW YORK, July 26.—Importation of British bituminous coal to avert a fuel famine among American industries "is so apparently futile and absurd as to constitute a huge joke," John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America asserted today.

"They tell me 5,100,000 tons of coal already has been contracted for at the mines in Wales," he said, "enough to keep the miners of America digging just two and a half hours on a day of average production."
Mr. Lewis said he was not in communication with English union leaders or sought any agreement with Welsh miners which would result in refusal to load union-dug coal for shipment to America.
