Ye Smudge Pot

By Arthur Perry.

HEREAFTER

One evening, by some hearth, I know not when,

A stranger to my song shall come to read

What faring was my lot through times and men,

How I was proud, how sorry, with what heed

I was glad of women, and the stars, and corn

Swelling upon my windy Cotswold height,

What miracles I counted in the morn,

And how I was defeated at the night,

And he shall make some story, as I make

Of men who sang as Marvell and as Donne,

And he shall quick his wisdom for my sake,

And put the plumes of celebration on

And tell how, as of old, the clouded brain

Of man in song was a bright heaven

Then there is the question of the again.

(From "Seeds of Time" By John Drinkwater.)

Then there is the question of the divorce of the Espee from the Ceepee and the effects thereof, on the Youpee. Its befuddling qualities are beyond comprehension, and really ought to be an issue in the recall election.

"The American Society for Russian Relief" has closed its New York doors, the fat pickings are over, the office furniture is for sale. There is nothing left to fear, on the whole, and in general, but another book by a member of the cabinet during Mr. Wilson's regime.

The funniest thing in a long time is the yip of the Democratic candidate for governor of Oregon, that reduction of taxation is the issue in the campaign to come.

THE PEOPLE ARE SICK OF IT.

WE BELIEVE we are correct in saying the strongest sentiment in Jackson county regarding the recall is disgust.

This peddling of malicious gossip, this back-alley circulation of abusive hand bills, these noisy personalities signifying—to the fair-minded people of the county as a whole—absolutely nothing, has raised public feeling to such a pitch, that hundreds of people who favored the recall in the first place, are going to vote against it, simply because they are sick of the entire performance, and believe the only sure way to prevent a repetition and clear the atmosphere, is to vote the recall down by an overwhelming majority.

It is hard to believe that the W. C. T. U. or the Medford Ministerial association has had anything to do with the details of this recall campaign. There is certainly nothing to indicate it. We believe we are absolutely correct in saying that every charge brought against the sheriff but one,—the Antle ex-post-facto episode,—has been brought before some grand jury in Jackson county, the facts thoroughly investigated, both sides heard, and all thrown out as being unworthy of serious consideration or serious action.

Politics, politics, politics,—secret society and personal,—the desire of the "outs" to get in,—there is the whole depressing business in a nutshell. A few,—a very few self-interested individuals have seized upon what they believed to be the unpopularity of Sheriff Terrill and tried to exploit it for their own profit and advancement. There are good people, of course, behind this recall, who are probably perfectly sincere in it. But they are good people who are being "used."

This paper has neither the space nor the inclination to delve into details of the unsavory mess. Let those who have doubts simply run down any charge they consider serious enough to warrant a recall to its source, secure the sheriff's view as well and we will rely on the right result.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PEOPLE OF JACKSON COUNTY

There will be a special recall election held in this county on July 29th. My name will appear on the ballot as a candidate for the position of Sheriff, now held by C. E. Terrill. With reference to this election and my candidacy, I wish to say a few words to the Voters of Jackson County.

In the past two years the people have, to a great extent, lost confidence in the disposition or ability of the county police powers to control violations of the law. It has been necessary to bring in special officers, at great expense, to run down and secure conviction of law violators.

The sheriff's office has seemed to be helpless in dealing with certain classes of offenders. With an efficient, honest, and capable police and law enforcement administration working and cooperating with a vigorous prosecution, bootleg rings could have been broken up by the arrest and conviction of their individual members and their more or less prominent backers and defenders brought into wholesome dispute. This should and could have been accomplished by a capable and energetic local police administration and the tax payers saved thousands of dollars paid out for the assistance of special officers.

Another class of offenders directed against the majesty of the law would never have led to the division and bitterness now existing if they had been met promptly and vigorously by the sheriff and other law enforcement officers of our county. I refer to the so-called Ku Klux Klan outrages. For the past three or four months indictments and convictions have been of daily occurrence by the newspapers and other biased and interested groups, mostly for political purposes, but no arrests have been attempted by our lawfully constituted county authorities.

These crimes, however simple their nature, have been magnified and enlarged upon by rumor, hearsay and downright misrepresentation, both from home and up-state sources, until they are now the subject of a special grand jury investigation, with all its attendant expense and notoriety, with special correspondents from the big dailies, special prosecutors and assistants, ex-sleuths from Portland and witnesses from Southern California, with precious grand goblin records, all to make a Roman Holiday for the lawyers, and politicians, at the expense of the people. And still a great hubbub is being raised about the expense of a recall which is the only method under our electoral system whereby the people can have a chance to remedy an unbearable situation.

Now a word personal to myself. I have lived in Jackson County 13 years. All my life I have been engaged in productive and constructive pursuits. I have a great pride in my County and its institutions, the greatest and freest on earth, and its laws, which are the bulwark of our liberties.

If you elect me Sheriff at the coming election, I pledge you that I will give the people of Jackson County a sound, conservative business administration, and that the infractors and violators of our laws, whether they be individuals, class or clan, will have to reckon with the sheriff's office, and not with imported special officers and ex-Portland sleuths.

Sincerely yours,

D. M. LOWE.
