There was a marked drop in patronage last night at the city auto camp in contrast to the very heavy attendance recently, only 14 new cars arriving Wednesday and up to early this forenoon, carrying 39 persons. A number of auto parties, however, which had stopped at the camp earlier in the week en route to Crater Lake, returned yesterday from the lake and stopped only an hour or two before proceeding elsewhere, and hence were not registered by William Davis, the caretaker.

Some folks make a pretense of being horrified at the recall election to be held next Saturday, the terrible injustice to the present incumbent and the enormous expense to the "poor down trodden taxpayer." Don't let anyone be fooled by these crocodile tears—for quite a number that are the loudest in denouncing the present recall were the most active in removing "Shortie" Garnett and J. B. Palmer from the Medford school board a couple of years ago by the same iniquitious process. Then thought the recall was a fine thing at that time. 109

Grants Pass is capitalizing the road to the Josephine marble caves and already foreign cars are flocking to the caves, according to F. H. Smith of Grants Pass, registered at the Perkins with his wife. An organization known as the Oregon Cavemen has been initiated at Grants Pass, and in the future when there is a Rose Festival in Portland or some celebration in some other Oregon town these cavemen intend marching with their covering of hides, bushy whiskers and immense clubs. The desire is to make the cavemen of Grants Pass as distinctive as the Irrigators of Crook county, the Cherrians of Salem, the Berrians of Newberg, or the Royal Rosarians of Portland.—Portland Oregonian.
