The season's attendance record for one day was probably broken at Crater Lake yesterday. According to Medford people returning from the lake last night 221 autos for the day had registered at the west or Medford entrance to the national park by 7 p. m., and a number of cars enroute to the lake were passed later between Prospect and the west entrance. The previous day's record for this season at this entrance was 217 autos.

Mrs. Mabel B. McClure of San Francisco arrived last night for a several weeks visit with Mrs. Myrtle Blakely.

The California-Oregon Power company is putting a crew of 20 extra men on the new power line job out of Prospect and expect to have the line right-of-way cleared before the first snow falls.
