Ye Smudge Pot

The brazen blast of a man-sized saw mill is heard in the valley, and it intends "to ravish the virgin forests of Oregon, and invade the haunts of the notch-tailed woodpeckers."

Does anybody have any idea when the papers will quit printing stories headed, "Tells of Frightful Conditions in Russia."

The plan to have the Statue of Liberty hold aloft a coupling pin, instead of a torch, is petering out.

The Rev. Albert J. Hudson of Boston is proposing a movement to "have but one creed." The idea would put a million or so sects out of business, and is entirely too sensible to be successful.

A BLOW AT ROLLED SOCKS (Albany Herald) Miss Dorothy Scott escaped from serious injury a week ago Saturday when an auto hit her and then passed over her. The result was, however, that she only received a slight bruise on the knee.

"MONEY FOUND IN BANK"—(Hd. line Portland News). How unusual.

The bottom is dropping out of the charges filed by Mr. Hall of Coos county, who went crazy with the notion he was destined by Providence to be governor of Oregon. His political opponents committed every crime in the calendar except the one of voting for him.

AS IT HAPPENS

Oh, say can you sing from the start to the end, What so proudly you stand for when orchestras play it— When the whole congregation in voices that blend Strike up the grand hymn and then torture and slay it? How they bellow and shout when they're first starting out, But "the dawn's early light" finds them floundering about.

Hark! The "twilight's last gleaming" has some of them stopped. But the valiant survivors press forward serenely

To "the ramparts we watched," where some others are dropped And the loss of the leaders is manifest keenly; Then "the rockets' red glare" gives the bravest a scare, There are few left to face "the bombs bursting in air"— 'Tis a thin line of heroes that manage to save The last of the verse, and "the home of the brave."

"SEEK MEN TO SING PRAISES OF CRAFER LAKE"—(Hdline Eugene Register). The Amalgamated Basses stand ready to execute a few grunts.

NICE YOUNG MAN IS COP, PRISONER FINDS

CINCINNATI, Aug. 3.—(L. N. S.) "It was this way, Judge," C. L. Bowling explained in Covington police court. "I was walking along Seventh street when a nice young man drove up in a patrol and asked me to get in. He smiled and I just couldn't turn him down. Here I am."

The "nice young man" proved to be Policeman Moening, who had been sent to arrest Bowling. The prisoner was charged with being drunk and was released on his own recognizance.

TAMPERING WITH THE CONSTITUTION.

A VERY good American is supposed to revere the Constitution. Not only the constitution of his country, but of his state. For the constitutions of country and state represent the wisdom of our forefathers, the fundamental law.

But as far as the state constitution of Oregon is concerned, this reverence has, in recent years, been woefully lacking. Through the initiative at every state election, there is a perfectly inane and middle-headed onslaught on the state constitution, and only the saving grace of popular common sense has prevented the fundamental law from being scrambled and hashed and mutilated, beyond either recognition or comprehension.

At the coming election the usual onslaught will be made. And with the public mind, distraught and disorganized as never before, there is grave danger that some of these proposals to change the fundamental law will be adopted.

One is for a salmon fishing and propagation amendment. It would regulate through the state constitution, the operation of our fish hatcheries. Could anything be more preposterous? Imagine regulating the gentle art of angling, a necessarily changeable and romantic recreation, by a change in the fundamental law.

Still another is changing the interest rate, a third is grafting the Single Tax nightmare on the constitution, and then of course the much discussed Anti-Parochial school law, which would mark Oregon as the first and only state in the union, to deny religious and educational freedom.

With the possible exception of the income tax amendment, there is not a proposal, for constitutional amendment this year, which is desirable, either from a social or business standpoint, and yet the issues, thanks to the Initiative, have been raised and must be met.

There are only two ways to meet them. Either the people must effectively crush this tampering with the state constitution, by voting down each constitutional amendment that is offered, regardless of its merits, leaving the initiative in such fundamental matters, to the legislature, or there must be an awakening of public interest to such an extent that the voters as a whole, will study every proposal so that its exact meaning and effect may be clearly understood.

The last plan is the better. But it will never work unless every voter assumes his and her share of the responsibility.

Quill Points

A good reputation, like charity covers a multitude of sins.

Some men go through life with undiminished faith in their fellow men, and some sign notes.

The chap who rocks the boat soon gets a chance at the one Charon poles across the Styx.

That prominent churchman, who says sex novels sell by the ton doubtless means the sexton.

These hot days, she is a fortunate woman who has leisure to lie about home wrapped in thought.

When you observe mangled political hopes along the highway, you always know that a tariff bill has passed.

If an Irish business man eats a very light lunch, he usually can get an extra thirty minutes for sniping.

That Texas girl who married a ball playing poet probably doesn't know whether she took him for batter or verse.

You can't really buy a nomination, but in process of getting it you can spend more money than it is worth.

The world isn't really growing better. It just seems that way because people have quit saying "camouflage."

Impossible happenings: "Take her boy," said the fond parent. "She has been badly spoiled and a little poverty will do her good."

It is pleasant to live in the country where you know so many people, and pleasant to live in the city where so few people know you.

A physician says: "If you would get a rest, tour the country during your vacation." He probably means: "If you would get arrested."

VEGETARIAN.

OUR DOCTOR is a wise old lad, and oft he says to me, "The whole blamed world is feeling bad, as sickly as can be, because the people are galoots who seem to want disease; they will not live upon the fruits that grow upon the trees. The wholesome turnip they traduce, they shy at beets and prunes; they will not look on onion juice, or pour it in with spoons. They all must have their roasts and steaks, and victuals fried in grease; and so their forms are filled with aches, which aches destroy their peace. You've eaten many cows, my friend," the good old doc declares, "and pigs and chickens without end, and geese and Belgian hares. And now your bones are full of lime, you are a wreck no doubt, and you are groaning half the time with rheumatiz and gout. If you had eaten pears and plums and rice and lemon peel, you would not have scorbatic gums, or anthrax in your heel. Right gladly would I now explain the evil of your way, but I must go and see Bill Blaine, who has the cramps today. He ate too many apricots, the contents of a can, and now a hot-tailed spasm trots around his inner man."

Bible Thought for Today

HAVE ALL GOOD:—The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger; but they that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing.—Psalm 34: 10.

"Bought and Paid For." George Broadhurst's hardy perennial, reached the screen of the Page theater this week as a William De Mille production, with Agnes Ayres and Jack Holt in the leading roles.

In its camera reincarnation "Bought and Paid For" has lost none of the fundamental appeal which made it a phenomenal stage success. William De Mille has not taken any liberties with the story and has given it much the same setting that was seen on the stage.

"Bought and Paid For" remains at the Page theatre only two days more.

"Golden Dreams" at Rialto

Spanish intrigue and American pluck face one another in "Golden Dreams," a picture made from a Zane Grey story which is now playing at the Rialto theater. And the craft of the Latins goes down before the onslaught of open-hearted courage.

The picture is one which the much abused word "thrills" expresses best. One must see "Golden Dreams" to get the full enjoyment of its thrills.

It is well acted by a cast of players folk with big names, Carl Gantvoort doing the Scotchman and Claire Adams the lady of his heart. Bertram Grassby is the handsomer of the two principal villains and Frank Leish gives a great performance of the crafty old Spaniard. Lesser roles are well done by Mme. Rose Dione, Little Mary Jane Irving, who owns the monkey H.; Gordon Mellen and Walter Perkins.

Two Texas inventors have patented a wheel scoop for handling grain and other loose material with which one can do the work usually requiring three.

An Open Letter to Clients and Friends regarding Eagle Point Irrigation District Bonds

MEDFORD, Aug. 2.—Although $150,000 bonds of this issue were reserved especially for residents of Medford and vicinity, already more than $50,000 of the bonds have been sold. It may be impossible to personally meet all my clients and friends before the balance has been sold. This letter is therefore written to get the facts before as many as possible.

Reason for Low Debt Big Butte Creek furnishes the water supply, a positive, adequate, reliable supply. No reservoir is required; only a small diversion dam. No difficult engineering problems are presented.

Tax Lien General No land under this District can be released until every cent of principal and interest of every last bond has been paid.

Beats 7% Mortgages Figure it up. Night and day, year in and year out these bonds pay interest—there is no period of idle money, no time taken out for re-investment, no delay in payment of interest, no Federal Income Tax to pay, no expenses and no requests for favors, extensions or delays.

Better Security In these bonds you have better than 3 to 1 security and the joint and several obligation of 91 owners and their families (that's what it amounts to.) The principal and interest is collected through taxes by the Sheriff and the terms of payment are easy, 6% small annual installments over a 25 year period.

A Time to Play Safe All the affairs of the world are not yet settled. Our people have been loaning the world. You cannot afford to go up in the Balkans to collect 8% or 10%, and you cannot afford to pass the best home investment that may be offered in years.

I have sold bonds for 28 years, but have never offered any bond with greater confidence in its security. With kindest regards to my friends, WILDES VEAZIE, Temporarily at Medford Hotel. Adv.
