

JULY VERY HOT, MERCURY SOARED TO 108 THE 2ND

The outstanding feature of the July official weather report is that it was one of the hottest months in Medford and vicinity for many years with a mean maximum of 86 degrees. The hottest day of the month was 108 degrees on July 2. The mean minimum was 53.3 degrees, the minimum was 44 on the 23rd, and the mean was 74.7.

The first week of July was especially warm with the following maximum temperatures: First, 100; second, 108; third 105; fourth 100; fifth 101; sixth 104; seventh 99. The second week the maximum temperatures ranged from 91 to 100 degrees. In fact, the whole month was hot.

The mean maximum for July for the past six years was as follows: 1921, 90.7; 1920, 89.5; 1919, 94; 1918, 88.6; 1917, 94.9; 1916, 84.

The record hottest days in recent years was 109 degrees on August 13th, 1920.

Another feature of last month's weather is that not a drop of rain fell. Twenty-three days were clear, six partly cloudy, and two cloudy.

The official weather bureau report for the month is partly as follows:

HANGAR TENTS FOR EXHIBITS AT FAIR

Fair board directors are congratulating themselves upon the purchase some time ago at a nominal figure of several large hangar tents. The indications are now that the tents will have to be used in some departments to house the overflow exhibits. The directors are averse to using the tents except in an emergency but purchased them in order to provide against possibility of overflow exhibitions, which now seems likely in one or two departments.

The tents will make ideal display space their shape readily adapting them to the purpose. By fronting two of the tents a canvas-enclosed space of 108 feet by 54 feet is secured making a fine exhibition pavilion. Four of these pavilions will be available if necessity arises and the accommodations they will provide will guarantee ample exhibition space even though the entries exceed the highest expectations of the Jackson county fair board.

OUTING PAPER WILL BE ISSUED SOON

A special Outing and Crater Lake edition of The Mail Tribune will be featured next week. This edition will have articles covering road conditions in Southern Oregon, descriptions of scenic attractions tributary to Medford, including an article on the discovery of Crater Lake, information on various resorts accessible from Medford and appropriate illustrations. It will be interesting and instructive to eastern people as well as local residents and extra copies of this issue will be published to accommodate the demand.

THE LAST WORD

Regarding

Eagle Point Irrigation District

MUNICIPAL 6% BONDS

Maturities of 1945 and a few bonds due on other dates are all that are now available. The issue has sold well. The reputation of the Rogue River Valley greatly aided the sale.

Did you get yours? If not ask your bank to wire in your order or wire us direct if you prefer.

The Debt of but $63.49 per acre to be presently irrigated, is small and the debt of but $20.22 spread over the 19,800 acres is one of the lowest debts in Oregon. You know that the land is good and that Eagle Point people are there to stay and will pay their taxes.

The Water ample and constant in supply is owned by the District, awarded by the State. The reason for low debt is due to the fact that no reservoir is required and that no difficult engineering is involved.

The land, the water, the homes and farmers are there. The tax lien lies on the land till every last cent is paid. Construction will begin before long. The crops will be certain—every year—and bigger better crops will follow.

Eagle Point people bought the first $50,000 bonds. Evidence of sound faith. Can you beat 6 1/4% interest that works day and night, year in and year out, with principal secured like this?
