Fire Chief J. W. Lawton was seriously injured when he discovered the grass on fire at the side of the road adjoining the corner of the Dodge ranch plowed field and the big field of wheat and hay of the Gore ranch. By some lively work the chief succeeded in stamping out the fire, which a moment or so later would have reached the Gore field and caused a large loss.

A remarkable auto accident in which a Ford overturned and was badly smashed after having collided with another car and in which none of the occupants of the car were injured occurred Friday night about 12 miles this side of Grants Pass on the Pacific Highway. A Ford touring car driven by Burriel McLean and owned by William Dittmore was rounding a corner when it collided with a Hudson and was thrown across a six-foot ditch. It landed rightside up and then turned completely over. The occupants of the car were practically uninjured. The gas lights on the Hudson, which was an old one, are partially blamed for the accident.

Norma Talmadge

"Smilin' Through" Norma Talmadge's best film, the picture that is creating a sensation wherever it is shown, is to be seen at the Page theater four days, beginning tomorrow matinee.

When Miss Talmadge entered on the production of "Smilin' Through" she started work on her even two hundredth picture and during the making of these two hundred films she has climbed into the hearts of all picture fans throughout the world. Popularity contest after contest has shown Norma Talmadge the universally favorite actress of the silver screen and her newest picture (being her very best) cannot fail to please.

Miss Talmadge appears in the dual role of Mooney and Kathleen and she is ably supported by Harrison Ford who also plays a dual role. The cast includes some of the most famous members.

Elusive, tender, dynamic, overwhelming, her drama knows no bounds other than those of the human heart. There is but one artist who could bring "Smilin' Through" majestically to the screen and that artist is Norma Talmadge.

Western Film at Rialto

C'mon, see the west, young man. It certainly is in "Man To Man," the attraction at the Rialto theatre. The broad sweeps of unfenced grazing kingdoms of Arizona and California furnished the background against which Harry Carey and a strong cast of players were photographed in the action of a virile story.

The stampede of 900 head of cattle gives
