2 MEN DROWNED IN LAKE CHELAN ONE IN COLUMBIA

WENATCHEE, Wash., Aug. 9.— Searchers Tuesday found the body of J. C. Gelhar of Lakeside, Wash., in 25 feet of water at Point No Point on Lake Chelan. Gelhar drowned Sunday while rowing in an open boat from Prince creek to Safety Harbor. The body of David Barry of Malaga, Wash., who was with Gelhar in the boat, has not been found.
A party stayed on the lake shore Tuesday night and started hunting for Barry's body this morning. The bottom of the boat was found, indicating that it had been smashed on the rocks. It was a shallow boat, according to J. H. Mundt of Chelan, and not well suited for use on Lake Chelan.

WENATCHEE, Wash., Aug. 9.—
The body of Jesse V. Branham, aged 39, of Seattle, who was drowned in the Columbia river Wednesday, August 2, at the foot of Orondo street, Wenatchee, was found Tuesday night at Columbia river siding by D. H.
Satterholm, station agent at that place. He notified Coroner Templeton and the body was brought here Tuesday night.

ASHLAND PARK HAS GOOD AUTO CAMP

Ashland's Lithia park is one of the finest natural parks on the Pacific coast, built at considerable expense by a number of Ashland citizens. In this park many conveniences are provided for the comfort of tourists and a beautiful camping ground has been set aside as an auto camp. People from all parts of southern Oregon gather in Ashland park on Sundays and holidays and tennis courts, croquet grounds, a dancing pavilion and band stand and extensive picnic grounds have been provided for their entertainment.

Nearby is Ashland canyon, while through the park flows Ashland creek, a picturesque little mountain creek. Ashland Peak, with an elevation of 7,535 feet, is only a few miles from this park. Trout fishing and hunting is within easy reach. Two beautiful sky-line drives for automobile tourists afford them a splendid view of Ashland and the valley.
Within Lithia Park are many mineral springs, including lithia, hot sulphur, sodium, magnesium, white sulphur and cinnabar, also carbon dioxide gas springs.

Lithia park has such rare beauty and naturalness that it has become famous throughout the west.

U. S. GIRL ATHLETE SPRAINS HER ANKLE

PARIS, Aug. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—Miss Flora Batson of New Orleans, captain of the American girls' athletic team here for competition in the international games and champion girl hurdler of America, suffered a sprain of the left ankle and was badly bruised in taking the hurdles at the Colombes stadium this morning. It was feared the mishap would keep Miss Batson out of the championship competition.

Shriners Sail for Alaska SEATTLE, Aug. 9.—A delegation of Seattle Shriners will leave this morning on the steamship Alameda on Nile temple's eighth pilgrimage to Alaska points.

TIME FOR A SHOW DOWN.

IT LOOKS like a fight to the finish. The extension of the railroad strike to the Four Brotherhoods, brings the situation to a crisis.
The essential issue in the walk-out of the Chicago switchmen is this: Has the non-union man the same right to work as the union man.

The talk about the calling out of troops endangering the lives of union workers is the most transparent bunk—political bunk. It is an obvious effort to arouse public sympathy, when no public sympathy is deserved.

Little, if any, lawlessness by troops has been chronicled thus far.
Practically all the lawlessness has been on the other side. Non-union men have been stoned and beaten, some killed, and troops have been called, not to attack the strikers, but to protect law-abiding workers from attacks by the strikers, in other words to uphold the law, and maintain the principle that refusal to join a union does not deprive an American citizen of his life, liberty and pursuit of happiness.

Regrettable as any prolongation of the strike will be, the issue must be met some day and might as well be met now. The right of labor to organize, the right of collective bargaining must be maintained, because it is fundamentally right. Any effort to destroy organized labor as such, must be opposed because fundamentally wrong, but on the other hand the theory that the rights of organized labor are superior to the rights of the public, that union labor is justified in lawlessness, whenever non-union men are employed, must be put down and put down hard.

In short, both the radical labor minority and the radical capitalistic minority must be persuaded, or if persuasion fails, must be forced to abandon their extreme and essentially destructive views, and adjust their policies to those principles of abstract justice, which must be maintained if Democracy is to endure. And as in the present instance the radical labor leaders are the aggressors, they should be the first to be disciplined.

It is a tremendous job. No president ever faced a more trying domestic situation than President Harding faces today. But in any thorough-going effort to bring organized labor to reason, he will have the overwhelming support of public opinion, and with that support, he is certain, in the end, to win.

Quill Points

Hypocrite: A man who doesn't cuss a little when a rear tire blows out.

Masculine: bigamist; feminine, bigamistress.

"The American standard of living" is the one fixed by the neighbors.

And it may be that woman's mind is cleaner because she changes it so often.

When a man goes out for a while of a time, some woman usually makes a sucker of him.

Getting finger prints of suspected employees is all right, but the more sensible thing is to get foot prints on their pants.

The junior Rockefeller says the wood pile helped to form character in boys. So did the wood shed.

Most of the votes that appear to be cast for a candidate are merely cast against the other fellow.

When they meet their fate, he says: "This is the girl I want." and she says: "I guess this one will do."

And some double chins exercise so constantly that one can't tell whether that roll is fat or muscular development.

The man who whizzes by a pretty girl who has had a blowout, may not be discourteous. He may have on white flannel pants.

WASHINGTON FIRE SITUATION BETTER

OLYMPIA, Wash., Aug. 9.—Early reports today to the office of State Forester Fred E. Pope indicated a more hopeful forest fire condition throughout the state. With the exception of the big fire in Watoam and Skagit counties east of Wickersham, all blazes were reported under control. Fire wardens in charge of the work on the Whatecom-Skagit fire were reported as confident of their ability to control the blaze with the force of fire fighters now available.

Plane Lands Grand Canyon.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—The first airplane landing in the grand canyon of Arizona was made today by Lieutenant R. B. Thomas, officers reserve corps of Kansas at Turtle head, Ponto Plateau, near El Tovar, the national park service announced. The landing place was 3,000 feet below the rim of the canyon.

BE PATIENT.

LAST evening, as I drove my car along the thoroughfare, a tire blew out with frightful jar, at which I tore my hair. To me it is a punishment to change a rubber tire; for I'm a wide and portly gent, I fluently perspire. And so when I had stopped the bus, and it had ceased to choo, I roundly started in to cuss as Flanders troopers do. "Be patient," said my stately aunt, who on the back seat sat; "it makes me tired to hear you rant and see you smash your hat. Just wait till some one comes along and sees your damaged ear, some youngster who is hale and strong, with kindness in his heart. He'll note that you are too obese to ply an iron tool, that when you toil the melted grease forms round you in a pool. And he'll observe your martyr looks as you survey the wreck, and he will say to you, 'Gadzooks! I'll change your tire, by heck!' For human kindness is a star that glows with changeless fire, and when men see how fat you are, they'll gladly change your tire." My aunt, she wears Elijah's robe, her visions all come true; and soon arrived a youth named Job, who made things good as new. And when I paid him half a buck and gave him blessings nine, I said, while cranking up my truck, "This patience graft is fine!"

FOREST FIRE MENACE IN OREGON IS GETTING SERIOUS

"This is the most serious forest fire season we have had for several years, and unless the public who are using the forests are more careful even more serious fires than we have had are apt to occur," said George H.
Ceeli, district forester, recently.

"We have had few if any lightning fires to date, but we are very apt to have many of these during the early part of this month. No one can prevent the lightning fires, but if people who go into the woods, for business or pleasure, would only realize the constant danger from fires spreading, we would have far fewer losses of valuable timber.

"The U. S. air service is assisting in the patrol again. As a precautionary measure, we have been compelled to require all campers, fishermen and hikers on the national forests of Oregon to secure camp fire permits, as is being done in the national forests of Washington.

"If only the people who go into the forests would follow a few simple rules what a saving in valuable timber and expense to the government, states and forest fire associations would result," said Mr. Ceeli.
"What we call the six rules for preventing forest fires are short and simple, easy to understand and easy to follow," said Mr. Ceeli. "Here they are:

- (1) Matches—Be sure your match is out. Pinch it before you throw it away.
- (2) Tobacco—Throw pipe, pipes and cigar or cigarette stumps in the dust of the road and stamp or pinch out the fire before leaving them.
Don't throw them into brush, leaves or needles.
- (3) Making Camp—Build a small campfire. Build it in the open, not against a tree or log or near brush.
Scrape away the trash from all around it.
- (4) Leaving Camp—Never leave a campfire, even for a short time, without quenching it with water and then covering it with earth.
- (5) Bonfires—Never build bonfires in windy weather or where there is the slightest danger of their escaping from control. Don't make them larger than you need.
- (6) Fighting Fires—If you find a fire, try to put it out. If you can't, get word of it, to the nearest United States forest ranger or state fire warden at once."
