EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

A. C. Howlett

Charles Pettygrew who is working with the civil engineer's crew on the Butte Falls water canal leading not only to the immediate vicinity of Eagle Point but reaching beyond so as to take in a large part of the Alivista orchard but beyond reaching to Antelope valley, adding thousands of dollars of wealth to that part of the district.

Well, what I started in to say was that Charley Pettygrew was here Wednesday as the crew was changing their quarters and getting things shaped so as to have everything in shape for the fall and early winter run.

W. S. Baker and his two boys were also guests at the Sunnyside the same day. He had been over in the big orchard district, and bought fifteen hundred pounds of apricots the day before and started to take them to Butte Falls but sold them out on the way and was making the second trip and was succeeding well in disposing of them.

Mrs. Ed Gueches of Central Point, and Mrs. Walter Hawk of Medford, spent Thursday visiting Mrs. N. E. Watkins and her daughter, Miss Anna Watkins.

There were four strangers took dinner here Thursday and two others spent the night with us, but I failed to learn their names or residence. The reader will bear in mind that my health, hearing and sight are not as good as formerly and consequently I am not even trying to gather all the news but gather all that I can select, what I think to be the best, and forget the rest.

I met Walter Allen of Dorby, a son of one of the very early pioneers of that section, John Allen, at the postoffice Friday, and noticed that one of his eyes looked weak and asked what the trouble was and he reported that he had got a hayseed in one of them and had been to Medford to have it taken out and I naturally inquired who did the work and he replied Dr. Emmens had done the job.

Mrs. Geo. H. West who has taken up quarters at the Sunnyside missed her Daily Mail Tribune so sent in by me last Saturday to renew her subscription, and I suggested to her the idea of her getting some wrappers and sending the papers to her husband who is in the forest service near Baker City, Austin postoffice, and she replied that he was having it come to him directly from the office. They both believe in keeping posted on what is going on in the world.

L. E. Jackson called for dinner Friday soliciting for Ward's medicines. Marshall Linter who is working with the rock crusher gang as night shift crushing rock for the Medford-Crater Lake road is sleeping and taking a part of his meals at the Sunnyside.

Boyd Von der Hellen and a stranger from Prospect were here for dinner Saturday. Boyd's father has the contract to clear and grade the unit of the Crater Lake highway between Hole-in-the-Ground and Prospect.

Some lowdown person or persons Mr. John L. Robinson reports, went into his watermelon patch one night last week and pulled up and destroyed 250 vines just as the melons were getting ripe.

Last Friday afternoon while I was sitting out in the yard in the shade of the water tower reading with the aid of my large reading glass that was presented to me by my oculist, Dr. Emmens, a car came up to the gate and an elderly, fine looking old gentleman got out and as he came nearer I recognized our old friend of over fifty years ago, Thomas Collins of Medford, and he was soon followed by two strangers whom I had known in their childhood days, V. D. Plymale of San Francisco, and his brother, Dr. D. H. Plymale of Fresno, Calif., and I soon discovered that they were accompanied by their families. Thomas said they would drive out to Eagle Point by his old home about 60 miles below where the town is now located and told of his first visit to where Eagle Point now is located, in 1860, when he came up to the old McDonald grist mill, then situated on the L. K. Haak farm, when with a yoke of oxen and a cart with four sacks of wheat, and it took all day to make the trip and they had just made the drive in an auto in about twenty minutes, calling the attention of his friends to the wonderful change that has taken place. In the meantime the hostess and her daughter came out and a general introduction was had and scenes of our younger days discussed. I see that I have omitted to mention that the two Mr. Plymales were the sons of Hon. Tip Plymale who owned a fine farm nearby, directly across the road from the old Enoch Walker place about two miles north of Medford. We all had a joyful visit and it might have been prolonged but they had a cow at home that had to be milked at a certain hour so had to go home and milk that cow or the sun might stop moving on its axis. Nevertheless we enjoyed the short visit and will be glad to have the pleasure of meeting again when we are not so crowded for time.

Mrs. Thomas F. Nichols, wife of one of our hardware merchants, has been up on Little Butte creek visiting her parents and her husband is taking his meals at the Sunnyside during her absence.

There were quite a number of people who come in for dinner or supper, eat their meals and in the rush I fail to learn who they are, where they are going. Last Saturday there were five came in for dinner I did not know and if I did could not call to mind who they were, besides Wm. H. Brown, one of our leading merchants, and two
