An attempt was made last night to raid Ralph Cowgill's watermelon patch but Ralph was alert as usual and caught the raiders in the act. He fired his shotgun and the shot frightened the intruders into taking to their heels and making a quick getaway. They were riding in an automobile and luckily Mr. Cowgill got the number. He will be able to identify the car should another watermelon pilfering expedition be made.

One of Oregon's promising composers is Miss Bruce Putnam of Salem, who, in company with her aunt, Miss Elizabeth Putnam, was a visitor in the city yesterday and registered at the Portland hotel. Miss Putnam is a member of the Oregon Composers' association and this spring was presented in recital by the Portland Woman's club in the ballroom of the Multnomah hotel. Her program included numbers of her own composition which display an unusual gift of composition. Miss Putnam is the niece of George Putnam, editor and publisher of the Salem Capital-Journal, and makes her home with him. She is a music pupil of Dr. John R. Sites of Salem and has attended Willamette university. An entire article in a recent issue of the Oregon Magazine, published in Salem by Murray Wade, was devoted to Miss Putnam and her aspirations. She has composed since she was a small child and also orchestrates some of her own works. One of her numbers was played by the Salem symphony orchestra at a last season concert and a song for which she composed the music was sung by the Salem Apollo club. Miss Putnam is a member of the symphony orchestra and plays the trumpet. She is accomplished on a number of instruments.—Oregonian.

GOOD BILL BOXING SMOKER TONIGHT

Lawrence Daw, the hard hitting 148 pounder will tackle Battling Frick, also 148 pounds in the main event of the Medford Athletic club weekly smoker tonight. Fans no doubt will see plenty of action and a K. O. is predicted. This will be some go, as both boys are in keen shape and hit very hard.

Semi-windup between the dusky Sonny Austin, known now as Young Abe Shadow, will swap punches with the hard-hitting Joe Harrell of the Medford Athletic club at 119 pounds. Thomas Meighan at Page George Ade's first original screen story, "Our Leading Citizen," with Thomas Meighan in the leading role, is a dandy entertainment, just as light and cooling as a mint julep and just as sure to please. It is probably the neatest little comedy that has reached the Page theatre screen in some months.

The title role was just made to order for Tom Meighan and naturally he is seen to distinct advantage in the part, that of a happy-go-lucky lawyer who adores fishing and won't leave it alone until the girl wakes him up. Then there is Lois Wilson as charming as ever and playing her role to perfection. Theodore Roberts in the sort of part that he has made famous and Lucien Littlefield as a small-town editor.

"Our Leading Citizen" is good, legitimate fun, and will be seen at the Page again today and tomorrow.

Northern Play at Rialto

A vital and vivid document of the frozen north is shown to motion picture lovers in Medford this week as the attraction at the Rialto in "The Man From Hell's River," based upon James Oliver Curwood's famous story, "The God of Her People." One of the best casts of this kind of a production, which has to do with the Canadian Northwest and the mounted police, includes Eva Novak, Wallace Berry and Irving Cummings. The story is tense with action and is different than the ordinary pictures of this kind. It depends for its appeal upon its abundant

OREGON FIREMAN BADLY SCALDED

LA GRANDE, Ore., Aug. 17.—Fred Crawford, a fireman, was severely but not fatally scalded here today by the explosion of flues in a freight locomotive which is believed to have been caused by their rusting. Strike committees meeting here deny reports that the shops can take care of the heavy repair on railroad equipment, declaring the only engine overhauled was in service less than 24 hours after leaving the shop. An unidentified shop worker was beaten by gangsters, who, eyewitnesses declare, were not strikers.
