

ASHLAND CANYON ROADWAY WORK WILL BE RUSHED

ASHLAND, Aug. 21.—Beginning the present season without further delay, it is planned to go right ahead with the Ashland Canyon roadway, both city and county to join on an equal basis in the notable improvement. Members of the city council and county court, reinforced by the presence of State Engineer Reyming and Road Supervisor Bruhn, have made a personal inspection of the route which will practically follow the line of the old roadway modifying some of the grades and extending the width in instances on the safety first principle. The work will be divided into sections, the initial one extending from city limits to the upper intake from three to four miles in extent, the plan outlined being to have the work thoroughly done "on the installment plan," instead of merely superficially treated as a whole. Already one may visualize a scenic mountain roadway which motor cars could easily negotiate, extending from Ashland to a point on the Southern Pacific either at Siskiyou or between that summit elevation and Steinman. The completion of such a project would permit autos to loop the loop over the Pacific Highway and return by the canyon route, or vice versa, a trip which would even rival the Green Spring Mountain roadway's attractions.

September 6 is American Legion Day, and taking advantage of this anniversary, the annual reunion of soldiers and sailors will be held at Rogue River this year, beginning on that date. In fact, the event will be a big reunion gathering of those who participated in various wars.

The presiding officer is a resident of Hood River. Her visit here will be made the occasion of a notable session exemplifying business routine matters, supplemented by the customary social activities.

A large tent on Park street does not house a merry-go-round, though located in that customary amusement center, but is headquarters for the camp meeting being conducted under auspices of the Free Methodist church with Elder Glazier in charge. Among teachers in Lane county, Mary Moore of this city has accepted a place in rural schools in the vicinity of Eugene.

After migrating all over the intermountain region and central west, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Freeburg are on the way home, having been absent all summer.

W. J. Beck, a newcomer from the province of Alberta, in the vicinity of Medicine Hat, has removed here to locate permanently in business. His family will occupy the Shinn property on Oak street.

The modern Woodmen meet in regular session on Monday evening, Aug. 21. In addition to a gist of routine business, the big picnic here on Labor Day will demand special attention by way of arranging details.

Miss Francis McWilliams has returned to her school work in Oakland, Cal., after an extended vacation here with the home folks.

Reports indicate that H. C. Sparr will not only return to Ashland, but is actually on the way from Iowa, the family making the long tour by auto.

After a lengthy visit with relatives and friends in Idaho, Mrs. S. A. Hawks has returned home, accompanied by a nephew.

Fred Neil, Hal Emery, Ray Jillson, Arthur Wick, Henry Enders and Frank Murphy are among those who struck the trail the last of the week for various sections where deer are supposed to congregate. The hunting season, however, will not be under way in earnest until Clyde Costello and Harry Hosier take to the tall timber.

One by one the former residents are coming back to old home surroundings. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Good, living for some time past at Dunsmuir, will relocate here.

At the Lyric theatre, on Monday evening this week, W. E. Van Amburg of New York, will give an address under Bible student auspices on the topic "Eden restored and where it will be."

Drs. Gregg, Brower, McCracken and Wood of this city, attended the gathering of the Jackson County Medical association, held at Medford last week, Dr. T. G. Heine being host to the practitioners.

Dr. R. L. Burdick is a candidate for the city council, nomination papers in his behalf being filed.

The Giants retained their 3 1/2 game lead over the Cardinals, winning from the Cubs 5 to 4 by virtue of a seventh inning batting rally. Scott, the Giant pitcher, weakened in the eighth, but young Claude Jonnard, who relieved him, stemmed the Cub assault.

Eight runs scored off three Philadelphia pitchers in the seventh and eighth innings enabled the Cardinals to beat the Quakers 9 to 6.

Cincinnati took two games from the Brooklyn club, pounding Grimes for 13 hits and ten runs in 7 innings of the first game, winning 10 to 5 and winning the second 4 to 3, a pitching battle between Cadore and Rixey, in ten innings.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Babe Ruth's home runs, especially the last four, have been blows of salvation for the Yankees.

The first of the four on last Friday won a much-needed game in the tenth inning and put the Yanks in a tie for first place. The second helped the Yankees to the victory that put them in undisputed possession of the leadership and the third and fourth, knocked yesterday, accounted for five runs. The fourth, coming in the ninth inning with two on bases, won the game.

Babe's season total now is 26, six behind Ken Williams of the Browns. In all his big league career Babe has knocked 188 home runs.

Velguth who played 144 holes of golf over the municipal links on August 7 was off at daybreak today in an effort to finish 22 rounds of the nine hole course before dark tonight. If he is successful, he estimates that he will have walked 53 miles during the day. Velguth, a road contractor, went to Spirit Lake, Idaho, yesterday and supervised the oiling of three miles of road. He rested last night for today's endurance play. He said his only concern was for his caddy, Bobby Willard who rested yesterday in preparation for his attempt to stay with Velguth throughout the day.

Velguth's former record was completed two hours before nightfall, and was challenged by Edward Styles, for whom it was claimed he had played a total of 180 holes in a day at the York Road Country club, near Philadelphia. Velguth has played golf only since last June.

Constance Talmadge's latest film production, "Wedding Bells," pictured from the very successful stage play of the same title, will be the attraction at the Page theatre, starting tomorrow matinee. Maintaining all of its original charm in humorous situations, but enhanced by the frolicsome personality of Constance Talmadge, "Wedding Bells" is a picture that comes strongly recommended as one of Miss Talmadge's best.

Round three of "The Leather Pushers" with more punches, thrills and humor than you ever saw before, will be an added feature on the program.

"They Like 'Em Rough" at Rialto

Another part has been found for Miss Viola Dana, the little star, which seemingly was especially constructed to provide her with an opportunity to display her reckless, devil-may-care vivaciousness in the portrayal of which she is surpassed by no actress.

"They Like 'Em Rough" is her newest vehicle and it opened yesterday at the Rialto theatre, where an appreciative audience gave every sign of complete satisfaction with both the star and her picture.

The story is a most amusing one, with a touch of adventure and well flavored with thrills.

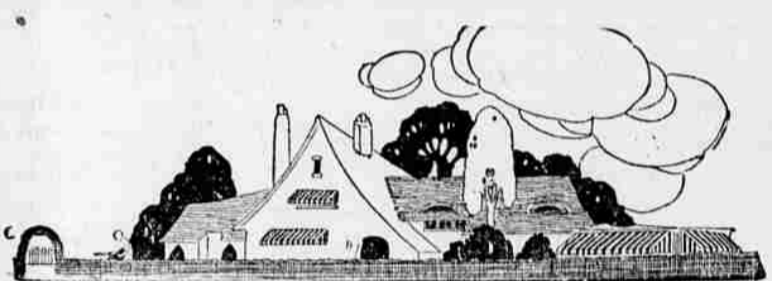

The approach of winter time calls forcibly for a Ford Sedan to solve the family transportation problem. This little car, although adaptable for all kinds of weather, is primarily a car for the cold, winter months when quick, economical transportation is desired with provisions for warmth and comfort.

Before winter weather actually begins, why not come in and see the Ford Sedan? We will be glad to demonstrate it to you.
