Hugh Burleson, bishop in charge of the North Dakota diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church, arrived in the city this morning for a few days visit as guest at the home of Mrs. E. B. Davis, 101 Geneva street, and he will probably preach at St. Mark's church next Sunday. It was noticed that the bishop, who is on the way to attend the National Protestant Episcopal convention at Portland, was armed with a fish pole and reel as he stepped from the train this morning and was met by Mrs. Davis, a former parishioner, in North Dakota, and Rev. Wm. B. Hamilton, indicating that he will soon turn up along the Rogue river.

POULTRY RAISERS URGED TO SHOW AT JACKSON CO. FAIR

The following notice has been sent to poultry raisers in southern Oregon: On September 13 to 16 the first Jackson county fair will be held on the newly constructed fair grounds near Medford. This undertaking is primarily and exclusively for the benefit of the entire people of Jackson county. At great expense and untiring effort the officers and directors are endeavoring to make this the best and most comprehensive exhibit of farm products, livestock, poultry, horticultural, floral, art, dairy, mineral and manufacturing displays ever undertaken in southern Oregon. The efforts of the officers and directors will of course be unavailing unless supported by just an enthusiastic and untiring assistance by all who are in position to contribute to the success of the fair, and it is with a view of enlisting your encouragement and help that this letter is being sent to you.

Having been appointed superintendent of the poultry and pet stock division of the fair, and being desirous of making this department one of the most complete and instructive in the entire list of exhibits, I earnestly solicit your assistance to that end by bringing in as many entries as you are able to furnish. Ample facilities will be provided for the accommodation and care of all exhibits that may be entered, a practical and competent poultry man will be in charge of your entries at all times, proper feed will be supplied without expense, and you are assured of the best expert judging obtainable.

Only by the united efforts of all can our poultry and pet stock division be made to measure up to the standard deserving of this great industry, which in recent years has made such great strides in this section. Can we not depend on your cooperation in assuring the best poultry exhibit ever produced in southern Oregon? Bring the best you have and in as great numbers as possible. Assurances have been received that many entries will come from a distance, and we must make our home exhibit measure up with any foreign entries that may be sent.

If you have not received a premium list, and desire one, it is only necessary to ask for it. If you desire any information, let us know what you want. This is your fair, and we are anxious to serve you.

We will appreciate being advised what may be expected from you in the way of exhibits just as soon as possible. Yours truly, A. J. VANCE, Supt. Poultry and Pet Stock. August 23.

WANT MORE CARS FOR COPCO TRIP

The officers of the Craters club are experiencing great difficulty in securing a sufficient number of cars to take all of the members who desire to participate in the pilgrimage to Copco next Sunday. In addition to members of the Craters club, transportation must be provided the thirty members of the Elks band who will accompany them and for that reason the Craters who have cars and who sent in their cards that they would prefer to ride with others are asked to take their machines if at all possible.

A great stunt is being planned by the Craters to advertise the Jackson county fair in northern California. For this reason alone the members should make every effort to attend and provide the transportation as requested.

COPCO OFFERS PREFERRED STOCK

The California Oregon Power company has announced an offering of its 7 per cent preferred capital stock to its consumers and the public. This stock will be offered at a price of $92 per share and as the dividend rate is 7 per cent per annum based on par the stock thus sold will return on par the stock this sold will return about 7.6 per cent to the purchaser. Payment for this stock may be made in cash or in installments of $5 per share down and $5 per share per month, with the privilege of anticipating any payments, and interest at 6 per cent will be paid by the company on the amounts paid in until complete payment for the stock has been made.

It has been decided to sell this stock through the sales effort of the members of the organization who have indicated their confidence in the company by subscribing fully for the issue of stock recently made, practically 100 per cent of the organization now being stockholders of the company.

It's toasted. This one extra process gives a rare and delightful quality—Impossible to duplicate.
