RISK TAKERS IS SUBJECT OF TALK AT ROGUE RIVER

ROGUE RIVER, Aug. 23.—At the regular meeting of the Rogue River Community club last Monday evening, F. S. Bramwell, a prominent business man of Grants Pass, gave a most interesting and instructive talk on "risk takers." Many of those present were enthused with a determination to put into practice the splendid suggestions set forth for the development of the agricultural possibilities of the community and for the prosperity of its property holders. "Unless there is concerted effort on the part of the citizens of a town or community," said Mr. Bramwell, "success cannot be realized."

Rev. Howard, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Jacksonville, Ore., visited friends in this city on Tuesday of last week, upon his return from Oakland, Oregon, where he occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church the Sunday previous.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Laws and their four children left for Newport on Thursday of last week, where they expect to spend at least two weeks.

On Friday of this week the Women's Civic Improvement club of Rogue River will have a picnic dinner in the park, at which the husbands and families of the members are invited to be present.

On Thursday evening of last week a crowd of young people of the community enjoyed a wienie roast at the Savage Rapids dam, given in honor of Miss Eileen Murray of Merrill, Oregon, who has been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hatch for the past few days.

Mrs. W. S. Cary and her mother, Mrs. Aldrich, who have been visiting relatives in the northern part of the state for the past few weeks, returned to their home in this city on Tuesday of last week.

Mrs. Wm. Ferns and her mother, Mrs. Ella Patterson were visiting with Mrs. Everett Beeson Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Denham of Talent returned from their trip to Los Angeles and other southern points last Sunday. They have had a very enjoyable time during their southern tour.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Foss of Talent, returned from a ten days stay at Newport, Oregon where they went for a summer's outing. They drove in their car and found the roads in fine condition.

We regret to chronicle the death of Rev. A. J. Stephens, father of S. S. Stephens of North Talent, at his home near Cottage Grove, Oregon. Mr. Stephens formerly lived near Talent, on the place now owned by Ed Jacobs.

At that time he was pastor of the Baptist church at Talent. He afterward moved to Medford where he built two nice homes and lived in Medford several years. Later he moved to Cottage Grove where he died. He was the father of a large family and was a kind and loving husband and father. S. S. Stephens of North Talent and George Stephens of Ashland, are sons of Mr. Stephens. Rev. Stephens was a man of sterling worth and beloved by all who knew him.

Thus far this week the municipal budget has been augmented by nearly $100, proceeds in the way of fines. Assessed against those who indulge in the cup which leers while it incinerates.

A moonshine sinking fund would almost meet the expenses of one of the minor city departments. Plus the penalties exacted for speeding. Volstead might be able to redeem a good share of the Hancock obligations.

A dual water system has been suggested for this city, proffered by the Talent Irrigation District, the plan applying to irrigation purposes only. The line would be high enough above town to cross Ashland creek at the intake of the old Anderson ditch, that waterway to be reconstructed. It is figured that this system could supply Holleville district also, through which territory it would pass on its way westwards.

Estimates are in the neighborhood of $100 per acre, the relative cost which ranchers assume in patronizing the Talent project. The problem would be one of distribution within city limits, to meet the demands of small holdings as well as acreage proprietors. The city council is considering the matter.

Walter M. Pierce, speaker here at the monster picnic on Labor Day, is a rancher on a big scale in northern Oregon, his home being at LaGrande. He is a member of the executive committee of the Farmers Educational and Co-operative Union of America, representing Oregon and Idaho on the board. Moreover, he is candidate for governor of this state on the democratic ticket. Mr. Pierce has informed the local committee of arrangements that he will be on hand at the appointed time.

Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Mills are having a vacation with friends and relatives in the vicinity of San Francisco, planning to be away until about Sept. 1.

Leslie Price, confectioner, who conducts that department in the Ebers store, has moved into the Way residence on Almond street, at the intersection with Laurel.

V. V. Hawley has returned home happy, beloved and successful, while others drag out a negative existence of no use to themselves or anyone else? Except in a few cases, the answer is to be found in a state of freedom from the troubles known as "female." The well woman radiates cheerfulness and serenity while the ailing one reels because of her lack of these qualities. It is not necessary, however, to harbor aches and pains, and the "blues" that make one a detriment to society. The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought relief to such women, and given them a new lease on life.

SALVATION ARMY STARTS DRIVE FOR $1000 IN ASHLAND

ASHLAND, Aug. 25.—One thousand dollars is the local quota needed in behalf of the Salvation Army drive now under way, a movement which is endorsed by the chamber of commerce, the Elks and other orders favoring the project. The Jackson county quota is $3500. The field here is being personally canvassed, both business and residential districts systematically visited by about half a dozen workers, among whom are Envoy Graves from Portland; Mrs. Anderson, Eugene; I. V. Rederfer, Roseburg; Lieut. Yates and Grindie, Grants Pass; Capt. Briggs of Medford. It has been proposed to establish an auxiliary of the army in Ashland, but this will depend upon circumstances, the success of the present drive being a factor in determining the matter. The army most successfully affords phases of both moral and spiritual assistance in behalf of many where other efforts fail to function, while its material aid is proverbial the world over, not either grudgingly or wastefully bestowed, but economically with the view of substantially bettering the condition of the deserving, thousands of whom have been reclaimed from distress and want through agencies of the army's moral, social and financial uplift.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Peil here returned from a visit over in Klamath and Lake county regions.

James Yeo, of Corvallis, has been here of late, visiting numerous friends and relatives. His presence is familiar and "Sunny Jim's" countenance is as genial as ever.

Charles C. Sater, of Bandon, left for home last week, after investigating conditions throughout the valley, including this city where he stopped a week or so. He has a brother at Medford, and contemplates locating in this county as soon as arrangements can be made.

A vivid reminder of the Passion play at Oberammergau will be afforded at the Methodist church, Sunday evening, Aug. 27, through the agency of splendid pictures as shown by Dr. Wilkinson, of Los Angeles.

No clue as yet to cause of the fire last Monday which burned up the residence of Ed Moore, about eight miles south of town. The destruction was complete, neighbors having had hard work to save property adjoining the house. No insurance, the loss being nearly $2000.

Thus far this week the municipal budget has been augmented by nearly $100, proceeds in the way of fines. Assessed against those who indulge in the cup which leers while it incinerates.

WILLOW SPRINGS STARTS HARVEST OF TOMATO CROP

WILLOW SPRINGS, Aug. 24.—The warm weather of the past few days has helped to ripen the immense crop of tomatoes in the Willow Springs vicinity. The tomatoes are large and of splendid quality. The Field brothers are hauling them out by the truck loads from their tract. Herbert Harris is supplying the merchants of Central Point and also the catsup factory in Medford.

The well at the Willow Springs school is being cleaned and the school buildings put in order for the opening of school on the 6th of September.

The Joe Hoagland family, who have spent the summer with relatives here and camping at the different resorts of southern Oregon, left for their home at Chico, California, Friday morning.

Billy Peninger has rented his farm for the coming year and will move his family into the Henry Pomerene residence.

W. B. Harris has disposed of his broom corn, which he has had in storage for a number of years, at a very advantageous figure. Roland Birkholz is assisting in the sorting and baling for shipment.

Helen M. Brophy, who has been visiting her parents for a few days, returned Monday to the camp near Chiloquin where Mr. Brophy is working.

One car of Bartlett's has already been sent from the Seven Oaks siding and the second car is being loaded. These pears are from the Feltenheimer orchards and the first two carloads are being shipped to Portland.

Miss West, daughter of the United States agent at the Klamath Indian agency, has been visiting her friend, Lola Blackford. The girls both graduated from the academy in Medford this spring.

The Hugh Porters entertained a party of friends at a jolly watermelon feast on Wednesday evening.

Residents in the community have been much annoyed of late by loose bands of horses and cattle. Owners are evidently not aware that there is a county as well as a state law against the running of stock at large on public roads. Members of the vicinity are taking steps to have a corral built where such stock may be confined until "hauled out."
