BOB SHAWKEY IS SHOCKER'S MASTER 11-INNING GAME

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Superb pitching of Bob Shawkey for eleven innings, enabled the New York Yankees to defeat the Browns 2 to 1 and lengthen their lead over the St. Louis men to a game and a half. The victory gave the Yankees the series, three games to one, Urban Shocker, who won the first game of the four for the Browns, opposed Bob and had good control, but the Yankee punch, delivered at the right moment, prevented him from carrying his club back into the lead.

The Athletics and the White Sox divided honors in a double header at Philadelphia. Host's wild throw in the fifth helped Chicago to its victory in the first game, 5 to 3. Home runs by Scheer, the Philadelphia third sacker, and Miller, Mack's right fielder, were big factors in the Philadelphia triumph in the second 7 to 2. Brooklyn lost an 11-inning tilt to the Pirates, 4 to 3, when Catcher Miller heaved wildly to the outfield in an attempt to catch Carey stealing. Higbee's hit, following, secured the winning run.

Max Carey of the Pirates, leading base stealer of the National league, was very much the whole show in the 11-inning 4 to 2 victory over the Dodgers. Max bagged three hits in five times at bat, one of his blows being a double. He scored the winning run through his daring base running. After singling, he stole second and raced to third on Miller's wild throw. A minute later he scored on Higbee's hit. His work in the field was great and his throw to the plate which cut off a Dodger run was one of the best ever made on Forbes field.

Ball Players Now Carry Bibles in Their Hip Pockets

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Hip pockets of major league baseball players' uniforms are being put to a new usage. Many of them now carry a pocket edition of the New Testament. W. S. Strouck, a representative of the businessmen's council of the Pocket Testament league, appeared at Shibe park yesterday afternoon and presented each member of the Chicago White Sox with a testament. Each in turn signed a pledge to read a passage of scripture every day. An added condition is that each carry the testament while at work.

15 Year Old Boy Tennis Champ. BOSTON, Aug. 29.—David O'Loughlin, a Pittsburg boy, not quite 15 years old, became national boys' lawn tennis champion today when he defeated S. M. T. Hill, Jr., of Newton in the final match of the boys' tournament.

3000 Meter Record Broken. ABO, Finland, Aug. 29.—In the international athletic meet here, Paavo Nurmi of Finland ran 3000 meters in eight minutes 28.2 seconds. This beats the world's record of eight minutes 7.10 seconds, made by A. Zander in 1917 at Stockholm.

EASY MARKS FLOCK TO GRAFTER'S CELL

DENVER, Aug. 29.—Victims in many parts of the United States are coming to Denver to attempt to identify among the 35 prisoners taken in the recent raid here, confidence men by whom they were fleeced. Philip Van Cise, district attorney, announced here today. Some are coming at the request of prosecution and others merely to extend their aid, the district attorney said. Officials of federal penitentiaries at Atlanta, Ga., and Leavenworth, Kan., are among those who have started Denverward. Part of the million and a half dollars which was taken from the public, the authorities allege, by the confidence band, through fraudulent stock exchange and other schemes, belonged to Herbert J. Gray, Exeter, England. Van Cise said today. Gray, the district attorney said, was fined $25,000 in a false stock promotion here last August.

Medford Man's Invention Stirs Interest of the Mining World

The Sunday Oregonian gives E. G. Trowbridge of Medford a splendid write-up on his recent invention, a small quartz mill, for use by small operators at small cost. Mr. Trowbridge is making the mill at his new manufacturing plant in the north part of the city which he and H. D. Mills are conducting with great success. The write-up follows:

GOLD HILL, Ore., Aug. 26.—(Special.) The problem of operating the small and isolated quartz mine in this region has been solved by E. G. Trowbridge, a Medford mining engineer. This problem has been the troubled dream of the small mine owner and prospector ever since gold was discovered in quartz veins on the Pacific coast. The invention is a portable quartz mill with the capacity of an ordinary three-stamp quartz mill. Assembled it weighs 1800 pounds. Dismantled, the heaviest piece weighs only 185 pounds, which permits its transportation where ever a burro can scale a mountain trail. The inventor has recently patented this mill and is manufacturing it locally at an expense of $270, while the ordinary quartz mill weighs several tons and costs several thousand dollars. Its daily capacity is seven tons of the ordinary gold-bearing porphyry vein material of this region, while less of the harder type of quartz. The simplicity of the mill is unique. Mounted it has the appearance of an ordinary barrel. The staves and heads are made up of cast malleable iron. The staves are one and one-half inches thick and three feet long. They are bolted on the cylinder heads, which are 30 inches in diameter. Enclosed and unmounted are two four-inch high-tempered steel rollers, the crushers, which are set in motion with the revolving of the cylinder.

The staves, which also serve in the capacity of screens, are placed on a bevel, and adjustments in bolting them to the cylinder heads regulate the fineness of the mesh. The crushed ore is deposited on a concentrating table and the gold is recovered with amalgam made up of quicksilver.

The shaft holding the cylinder is cast on the cylinder heads and the feet four inches in diameter is through one end of the shaft, while the gearing is attached to the other end. The jar and motion of the mill in operation are so slight that a framework of 4x4-inch timbers make a sound and sufficient bedding. A one and one-half horse power gas engine or other motor power operates the full equipment, including a jig for the feed and concentrating table.

FATE OF HIRAM JOHNSON BEFORE VOTERS IN CALIF.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Generally fair weather, a record registration and a sharply contested race for an important nomination, were factors combining today to indicate a heavy vote in California. The posts for which nominations are to be comprised everything from United States senator to justice of the peace inclusive.

The registration is overwhelmingly republican, 527,043 persons—a plurality in every county and a majority in most—having signified their allegiance to that party. The recorded democratic strength is 395,658; the socialist 22,511 and the prohibitionists 21,250.

Those who declined to state their political preferences when registering numbered 172,799 and the remainder of the total of 1,452,292 were classed as miscellaneous in the official record.

The contest attracting chief interest is that between Hiram Johnson, incumbent and C. C. Moore, for the republican nomination for senator. Upton Sinclair of Pasadena, writer, is unopposed for the socialist senatorial nomination and the democrats also have a candidate in the field without opposition.

The races for the republican gubernatorial nomination and for the lieutenant governorship on the same ticket also are receiving much interest. Those were contested vigorously by W. D. Stephens and Friend Richardson and C. C. Young and Joseph A. Rominger, respectively.

Mattison B. Jones, Los Angeles attorney and Thomas L. Woolwine, district attorney for Los Angeles, are seeking the democratic gubernatorial nomination. Alexander Herr of San Francisco is unopposed for the socialist nomination. U. S. Webb, attorney general and a republican, is the only candidate without opposition.

W. B. BIDDLE TO ADDRESS FORUM TOMORROW NOON

No member of the Medford Chamber of Commerce interested in the immediate prosperity of the Rogue River valley can afford to stay away from the forum tomorrow as W. B. Biddle, who for many years was actively engaged in railroad management, will analyze the present railroad situation from the view point of a fruit shipper. "The Railroad Situation as to the Movement of Present Fruit Crop" will be the subject of his talk and every business man should be present to get first hand information on what may vitally affect his prosperity this year. The signing at the forums does not appeal to some of the members and in order that they may have an opportunity to attend without the annoyance of this means of enthusiasm, the signing at the forum tomorrow will be dispensed with.

As usual the forum will be held at the Medford hotel at noon, it being the one hundredth and twenty-sixth consecutive forum held since the chamber was reorganized two years ago last March.

PROHIBITION ISSUE MONTANA PRIMARY

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 29.—Candidates' attitudes on prohibition and on Governor Joseph M. Dixon's taxation policies have figured largely in the campaign which will end at noon today when the polls open in Montana's primary election. Several candidates for nomination for members of congress as well as aspirants to lower offices have declared themselves in favor of modification of the Volstead act to permit sale of beer and light wines. Against these candidates the Montana Anti-Saloon league has waged a vigorous campaign.

The term of the governor does not expire this year, but approval or rejections of his policies by the voters will be expressed in their choice of members of the legislature who have opposed or supported the governor's policy.

Candidates are to be nominated today for United States senator; two congressmen; chief justice, assistant justice and clerk of the supreme court; member of the state railway, commission, members of the legislature and county and township officers.

Tom Mix Coming in Mystery Tale

Tom Mix is due at the Rialto theatre tomorrow for a run of four days in his latest picture, "Trailing," and Max Brand, the well-known author, has provided a story baffling in its mystery, it is said, up to the very last scene.

Pretty Eva Novak is the leading woman and Sid Jordan is the "bad man."

Tom Mix as a "rough tenderfoot" has ample riding and fighting space for his extraordinary energy.

Play Shows Boy Life

Wesley ("Freckles") Barry is the star of "School Days," the photoplay on irresistible boy life, which opens today at the Page theatre. It is no reflection on the ability of Wesley Barry's past performances to say that in "School Days" he is seen in a part that will undoubtedly endear him to his countless admirers.

In "School Days," Barry is first seen as a small town youngster in love with a wistful little girl, played admirably by Arline Blackburn, and the old swimmin' hole and his dog, Hippy. His love for nature's playground is so great that a wealthy uncle has considerable difficulty in persuading him to go east for his education. Now Speck is an orphan, and his stern guardian makes life unbearable. So off to the city goes Speck.

He meets the youngsters of wealthy parents. Always with the untamable heart of boyhood he performs pranks, but somehow he fails to win his way into the hearts of his wealthy young friends.

The resulting climax of "School Days" is too good to reveal here, for the feature in its entirety is one of the most wholesome and entertaining offerings that is truly a credit to the screen.

WILL ANSWER ANY WOMAN WHO WRITES

Woman Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Makes This Offer

Cumberland, Md.—"My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was between thirteen and fourteen years old and was going to school, because I suffered with pains and could not rest. I did not have any more trouble after that until I was married, then I always was troubled in my back while carrying a child and could not do my work until I took the Vegetable Compound. I am strong, do all my washing and ironing and work for seven children and feel fine. I always have an easy time at childbirth and what it did for me it will do for other women. I am willing to answer any woman if she will write asking what it did for me."

—Mrs. JOHN HEIER, 63 Dilley St., Cumberland, Md.

During girlhood and later during motherhood Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought relief to Mrs. Heier. Her case is but one of many we constantly publish recommending our Vegetable Compound. She is willing to answer your letter. Write to her.
