

STILL WORKING TO SAVE LIVES 'TOMBED MINERS

JACKSON, Cal., Aug. 30.—One hundred feet of earth this morning separated the rescue party working in the underground depths of the Kennedy mine from the entrance to the 4800 foot level in the Argonaut mine, where it is believed at least a portion of the 43 men who have been entombed in the burning mine since midnight Sunday are trapped.

Remarkable headway has been made within the past 24 hours in the work of attempting to cut through from the Kennedy mine. Over 500 feet of loose rock have been cleared away by the rescue party, and this morning with but 100 feet yet to go, it is expected the lower level of the Argonaut will be reached some time during the day or night.

In a statement to newspaper men this morning Time Keeper George M. Downing and Underground Foreman St. Clair of the Kennedy mine said that everything depends on the unknown character of the rock ahead. If hard surfaces are encountered, the work of the rescuers will be delayed. If the same character of loose rock in which the rescuers have been feverishly working for the past 24 hours lies ahead, the Argonaut will be entered during the day.

One Hope Remains
The rescuers are working in six hour shifts, 16 men to a shift, and are cutting through the 3600 foot level of the Kennedy mine.

This will tap the 4800 foot or lowest level of the Argonaut.

"Practically our only hope," said Downing, "lies in finding the men in air pockets in the lower levels formed by bulkheading the entrances to drifts, to prevent gas fumes from the burning mine from reaching them."

"If the men had the strength and presence of mind to bulkhead themselves in they could live for several days and we may find them alive."

Ernest Miller, one of the entombed miners, accomplished a similar feat in Butte, Mont., some years ago, when he saved himself and 25 companions from death through sheer courage and presence of mind. In the Butte horror, Miller consorted with his comrades and they bravely set to work, walling themselves in, chinking the cracks with mud and effectively cutting off the gas fumes. On the fourth day rescuers reached them.

Conditions at the scene of the Argonaut disaster appeared much more cheerful this morning as the third day of suspense dawned. It is believed that the fire in the main shaft of the Argonaut has been checked. Gas fumes have ceased to issue from the Muldoon air shaft and rescue parties have descended this shaft, hoping to gain entrance to the main workings of the Argonaut below the point where the flame have been raging.

Marshal Joffre Sees U. S. Legion Delegates

PARIS, Aug. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—Marshal Joffre at the Invalides palace yesterday welcomed a group of members of the American Legion who came to France some time ago to visit the battlefields.

"You are my comrades," said Marshal Joffre to the legionnaires, to whom he was introduced by Colonel Harry Ayres, editor and owner of the Anniston, Ala., Star.

"God bless you," the marshal added. "We shall never forget you."

The legionnaires left Paris last night for Brussels, where they will be received by the King and Queen.

JOHNSON RENOMINATED

Johnson 104,534; Moore 74,819.

State Treasurer Friend W. Richardson was giving Governor William D. Stephens an unexpected tussle for the republican gubernatorial nomination, 2321 precincts reporting Stephens 88,281; Richardson 85,838.

No changes were disclosed in the candidates' respective strongholds by the additional early morning returns. Johnson continued to hold a lead in northern California and Moore's pluralities still were in southern California counties.

The latest statement from Johnson headquarters claimed victory by an undetermined, but assertedly ample plurality.

Moore headquarters contended the result was still in doubt, that in any event the backbone of what was described as "Senator Johnson's machine" was broken. Richardson stood by an earlier statement which declared that the vote indicated economy was wanted in state government, economy having been Richardson's principal basis of appeal and added that the work of newspaper men throughout the state "had made victory possible."

WIFE STANDS GUARD WITH REVOLVER WHILE RAIL STRIKERS HUNT HUSBAND

Mrs. Julia Gebel and the revolver with which she held a mob of strikers away from her home in Chicago, after her husband, a loyal worker, in the Illinois Central shops, declared that he would stick to his job. "My husband isn't a scab," Mrs. Gebel said. "He has been working in the Illinois Central shops for twenty-eight years and he's worked every day of his life except when he was sick."

350 CARS PEARS HAVE BEEN SHIP'T. OUTLOOK BRIGHT

The 350th Pacific Fruit Express car loaded with Rogue River Valley pears left the valley last night. Thirty-two cars were shipped yesterday for eastern markets and for canneries north and south. One hundred and ninety-seven refrigerator cars ready to be loaded are on the division between here and Eugene, according to Mark Montgomery, local agent, and ten cars per day from California, which have been promised by railroad officials, guarantee the car supply for the next eighteen days at least, after which Mr. Montgomery states that he anticipates no shortage.

Due to the rush of packing and shipping fruit from the valley J. E. Eger of Roseburg, trainmaster of this division of the Southern Pacific, is in the city and has been for several days looking after the shipments. I. T. Sparks of Eugene, traveling freight and passenger agent of the same railroad, is still here looking after the fruit and other shipping matters. Mr. Sparks declared this forenoon that the fruit situation is rather satisfactory considering the strike situation, and that the valley and this city is rather fortunate in this situation.

DEMURRERS IN KU KLUX CASES SET FOR SEPT. 5

Arguments before Judge F. M. Calkins on the demurrers filed in behalf of the six local men indicted by the special session of the grand jury for alleged participation in the night-riding outrages last spring, has been fixed tentatively for next Tuesday, September 5th. Judge Calkins will return from his vacation this week, and will hold court at Grants Pass next Monday according to the present schedule.

The demurrers to the indictments which charge extortion, riot, and assault attack the right of the grand jury to probe the alleged crimes charged, the alleged non-compliance of the Oregon laws covering grand jury investigations, the charging of more than one crime in an indictment, failure to place the names of all witnesses on the indictments, and minor technical points.

The indictments are directed against J. P. Hilton, Howard A. Hill, Dr. J. J. P. Bray, J. Alexander Norris, Bert L. Moses, and Thomas E. Goodie, the first three of this city, the last three of Jacksonville. They will be represented in the demurrer arguments by Attorney John A. Jeffry of Portland, and Attorneys George A. Coddling, H. A. Canaday, and O. C. Boggs of this city. The state will be represented by District Attorney Rawles A. Moore, and Assistant Attorney General Liljeqvist. If he can arrange his Portland legal matters satisfactorily.

Statement

Republican County Central Committee, Medford, Oregon.

Gentlemen:

This is in answer to your inquiry as to my attitude relative to the Independent Voters' League.

I was placed on the ticket without my solicitation, and, inasmuch as Mr. Cowgill and myself were both nominated by the republican party I do not feel that I can run on the independent ticket which might raise a question in the minds of the republican voters as to my loyalty to the other republican candidate or to the party which nominated me.

I believe it is needless to say that I shall support the republican ticket.

Respectfully,

JOHN H. CARKIN.

Turn State's Evidence.

G. JURY TO PROBE PRECINCT NO. 179

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 30.—Grand jury investigation of the counting of votes cast in the May primary in precinct 179 here will be undertaken, District Attorney Stanley Myers announced today, as a result of the discovery in the recount instituted by John B. Coffey, candidate for the republican nomination for state representative, that Coffey had been given five fewer votes than were cast for him, and R. J. Kirkwood had been allowed two more than he had received. Kirkwood's lead over Coffey was cut to 33 votes this morning. In precinct 76 Coffey gained one vote and Kirkwood lost one. In precinct 95 Kirkwood gained one. More than 400 precincts remain to be counted.

W. W. Banks who is contesting the republican nomination for joint state senator with W. J. H. Clark, had a net gain of three this noon, the morning's count having given Clark an addition of two votes. A total gain of 140 is necessary to place Banks on a tie with Clark.
