Ye Smudge Pot By Arthur Perry.

It has been six years since the Adams bill was passed for vote getting purposes, during a railroad strike, and the country ought to get over it by 1927.

September 17 has been set aside as Constitution Day. The Constitution needs a thorough going over by a committee of amateur nation builders, who are not afraid to use a lead pencil.

ADMIRABLE FRANKNESS (Ad. CatEvePost)

William de Mille has produced the photoplay in a manner which demonstrates that a halt must be called.

Schoolmarm's are setting forth for the rural schools, but it will be the middle of October before their districts get to fighting with them, in a whole-souled manner.

This is the night the Galsheviki over-dance themselves, and are unable to stand the sight of a household implement, between shindigs.

Diplomatic matters in the valley are rapidly getting back on a whispering basis.

"BIRDS OF A FEATHER" (Albany Democrat)

A week ago Saturday J. J. Caswell, F. M. Powell, Marshall Powell and O. B. Marshall's mule Jack, made a trip to the huckleberry patch in J. Caswell's truck. The four reported a good time and came home Monday with twenty-one gallons of huckleberries.

Considerable interest is being manifested in the radio broadcasting at the co fair. The radio will endeavor to beat a bit of malicious gossip to Ashland, three times daily.

American flappers are reported to be driving young men of Chicago, "into the ministry," but in this vicinity the stampee is in the other direction. Care should be exercised that the drive does not run them clear through the pulpit, with its yellow-legged chicken, and pants button donations, into political fields.

A BARED LIMB (Coos Bay Times)

LOST—Sunday at Coos, one patent leather slipper and lady's pocketbook containing tickets. Finder please return to Times office, North Bend.

Fri. eve just before sundown, Bill Bates killed a five point buck within four ft. of his barber chair.

"ARIZONA POLITICIAN GOES INSANE" (Hillside SF. Examiner).

Whatever was he indicted for?

Rev. Wilson occupied the pulpit at Lowell Sunday with a good audience. (Eugene Guard). Why pews are empty.

The Japanese immigration restriction bill will soon be up before the august seedsenders, and, when passed ought to put a stop to the present depopulation of Europe of anarchists and hungry hellraisers. The Japs ought to cook themselves up on a soap box and be immune from legislative pestering.

Jim Grieve of Prospect has gone to raising and selling fancy cats. This industry is second only to the Rogue River fish industry.

Many tourists will remember the good roads of Oregon in their wild dash for Canada.

Helped His Back Backache, rheumatic pains, dizziness, and blurred vision are symptoms of kidney trouble. "My husband had a bad back," writes Mrs. M. McCullough, Easton, Pa. "When he sat down he could hardly get up and then he would be drawn over to one side. He tried Foley Kidney Pills and they cured him." Foley Kidney Pills quickly relieve kidney and bladder trouble, sold everywhere. Adv.

DAUGHERTY, THE BLACK SHEEP.

ATTORNEY GENERAL DAUGHERTY has been considered the black sheep in President Harding's cabinet. He may be. But the speech he delivered in Chicago yesterday, when requesting his anti-strike injunction, will remain a white spot in his record.

It was a good speech. It was strong and to the point, and at the same time fair.

"Tomorrow," said the Attorney General, "it will be said by some, more malicious than truthful, that this proceeding is intended as a death blow to the unions. In my judgment this movement is necessary for the preservation and protection of the unions themselves. There are many who believe, on account of the arrogance of certain officials of labor unions, that the unions themselves should be destroyed. I do not think they should be—I think they should be corrected and regulated."

"If the acts of violence and murder are inspired by the unions, then it is time for the government to call a halt. No labor leader nor capitalistic leader, nor organization nor association of any kind, will be permitted by the government of the United States to laugh in the faces of a furnishing people, without prompt prosecution and proper punishment."

That doctrine will meet with hearty approval by an overwhelming majority of the American people. Public patience has long since passed the breaking point. The issue is in brief, whether law and order backed by the government is to prevail, or whether lawlessness and violence, backed by the radical labor element is to prevail. The answer is obvious; the just and proper outcome certain. Daugherty, black sheep or white, has in this instance, done well.

Quill Points

When in doubt, vote "No." The initials on the door mean that it is his first ear.

Lots of people would like it better if it read: "Give us this day our daily cake."

Not all of the street-corner sports are bluffs. Some of them will shoot the whole nickel.

It is just as well that the good die young. If they lived, they probably wouldn't stay that way.

These people who think the movies rotten might stay away and let somebody else have an end seat.

With styles as they are, it may be that man tells Satan to get behind him because the old boy is obstructing the view.

You can't expect foreigners to understand a language that says a man is down and out when he is hard up and all in.

Each European nation would be glad to have peace if it had some assurance that peace wouldn't benefit the other fellow.

A feminine writer says it isn't fair to place all the blame on the flapper. Well, it's a good idea to have something on her.

A French scientist says the jaws grow weaker as the brain grows, and we print the information for the benefit of politicians.

Our physician has violated the ethics of his profession. He has a magazine in his waiting room that is only three months old.

Mud baths may be good for the skin, as that doctor says, but a politician's hide is so thick that mud-slinging doesn't affect him much.

Rippling Rhymes by Walt Mason

LOCKED UP LADIES.

THROUGH the prison with the jailer, I went snooping t'other day, and my face and soul were paler when at last I came away. For 'twas full of females queenly who took murder as a sport, waiting grimly or serenely for their hearing in the court. "Here is Madge," remarked the warden; "she grew weary of her man, and she poisoned him, according to th' Mary Blandy plan. Here is Clara, people damn her as a savage, without end, for she bought a ten cent hammer and with that she slew her friend. With her face against the easement there is Laura, gentle dame; and she buried in a basement one who tried to queer her game. In this dungeon—let us pass in—Hannah sits, in discontent; she engaged a cheap assassin to remove a tiresome gent. Over yonder we discover Jane, who once got down to tacks; she grew weary of her lover and suppressed him with an ax. I believe with Poet Ruddy," said the keeper of the jail, "that the dame, in doings bloody, is more deadly than the male." So I viewed the Sues and Sadies, pacing up and down their cells; what's the matter with the ladies, that they are not wearing bells? Every morning comes the paper, with a story drear and dun, how some lady cut a caper with a cleaver or a gun.
