

MUNDY NEEDS AID IF TRIGONIA WELL WORK IS TO KEEP UP

Prospects at the Trigonia Oil well are excellent, according to Col. J. F. Mundy, manager, who states that steady progress is being made.

Col. Mundy is one of the best sticklers in Jackson county and southern Oregon have ever seen, and the persistence he has shown in carrying on the work is unshakable, but he states that work will have to be discontinued unless further aid is given.

Since the colonel and his associates took over the well a good deal of drilling has been done. They were compelled by necessity to lower a new string of tools into the well when the work was first resumed a few weeks ago, and since the installation of the new tools the well has been made 115 feet deeper.

When the colonel and his associates started their work several weeks ago the well was 1225 feet deep, now it is 115 feet closer to oil or 1435 feet deep. The drill is cutting black lime and oil sand at present and gas issues from the opening of the casing in large volume.

The colonel's spirit of perseverance is still strong, but spirit alone will not get the well no deeper. Material aid is needed and it is hoped that it will be forthcoming in time to make the discontinuance of work on the well unnecessary.

DIVORCE RULES DENOUNCED

Tennessee, presiding at the meeting of the deputies said:
"The canons should be made more strict rather than loosed. When a man and a woman stand before God and declare that they take each other 'until death do us part,' they should live up to their word."

Bishop Irving Peake Johnson of Colorado remarked that Dr. Grant "can either play the game according to the rules, or not."

"It's up to him," he said. "Personally I do not think the laws of the church will be changed. I cannot express my personal position too strongly. Conditions in the country today are worse than they ever were in Greece or ancient Rome."

A notable spectacle has been planned to precede the opening of the convention next week, according to announcement made by Right Rev. Walter Taylor Sumner, bishop of Oregon. It is planned that all bishops, fully robed, shall march in a procession just before the session is called to order.

OREGON CAVES BEING MARRED BY SIGHTSEERS

PORTLAND, Sept. 1.—The garden of paradise, the bacon room, Joaquin Miller's chapel and all other wonders of the Oregon caves are being marred by irresponsible youths who are scratching their initials on the walls and smoking them with acetylene torches, according to District Forester George H. Cecil, who has just returned from a trip through southern Oregon.

"Each guide takes 15 or 20 persons through the caves at a time," said Cecil, "and he cannot keep an eye on all of them. There are generally some children. While the caves, as a national monument, are protected by act of congress, and it is a penal offense to mar them, we probably would not want to send a man up for a year or two, but we have got to do something."

"If we had the appropriation from congress for lighting the caves, we would abandon the use of torches, and thus remove some of the incentive for marking the walls."

Cecil reports the portion of the road between Diamond lake and Crater lake within the Umpqua national forest, complete and in good shape. The forest service is building the road around the lake, and has finished the stretch on the east side, and is pushing north toward the summit and Crescent lake. Fifteen out of the total 30 miles between Diamond and Crescent lakes will be complete this fall, unless weather conditions prevent. This road is a link in the future Skyline highway.

"Road work around Bend is progressing steadily with the use of graders and heavy tractors," said Cecil. "Through the lodgepole pine country the forest service is building roads at a cost of $100 a mile."

Plans Road
Commenting upon the Oregon Skyline, Cecil stated that next year he expected to start upon the section between the McKenzie highway and the Santiam road, and to finish the section on the south from Crescent lake to Odell lake. This will leave only the Mount Jefferson country and the region west of the Three Sisters without roads in the entire Siskiyou route from Mount Hood to Crater Lake. The Waldco lake section of the Skyline will not have been built, but it will be possible to connect up Odell lake with Elk lake by means of the Century drive on the east side of the range.

N. Y. Stocks

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Considerable irregularity developed in today's brief and dull session of the stock market, oil, equipment and railroad shares showing a reactionary tendency while chemicals, tobacco, motors and several specialties moved to higher ground. Bulls offered stubborn resistance to talk of a general strike. Reading and New Haven receding a point each but the other active issues showed only nominal changes.

Mexican Petroleum, after an early show of strength dropped 2 1/2 points below yesterday's close with losses of one and a half points being shown by Phillips Petroleum and Producers and Refiners. Baldwin and Pullman were each down a point. New high records for the year were made by Pneumatic Tool, American Smelting, General Cigar and Allied Chemical, common and preferred, with gains of one to more than five points.

The closing was steady. Sales approximated 550,000 shares.

Mrs. Sherman Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lake, Michigan.—"About one year ago I suffered with irregularities and a weakness and at times was obliged to stay off my feet. I doctored with our family physician and he finally said he could not understand my case, so I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After I had taken the first bottle I could see that I was getting better. I took several bottles of the Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and I am entirely cured of my ailments. You may publish this letter if you wish."—Mrs. MARY SHERMAN, Route 2, Lake, Mich.

There is one fact women should consider and that is this. Women suffer from irregularities and various forms of weakness. They try this and that doctor, as well as different medicines. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, and Mrs. Sherman's experience is simply another case showing the merit of this well-known medicine.

If your family physician fails to help you and the same old troubles persist, why isn't it reasonable to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

BATTLING FRICK TO MEET DAW AT ASHLAND MONDAY

A fight card which promises to draw most of the Labor Day crowd at Ashland will be pulled off at the Lyric theater in that city at 8:30 in the afternoon of Labor Day, Monday, September 4th.

The main event on the card will be a battle between Battling Frick and Lawrence Daw who fought several weeks ago at the Medford Athletic club.

This event promises to be a hummer as both boys have been working hard and according to Bob Brown, one of the managers of the fight at Ashland, are in tip-top shape.

Daw lost the decision at the end of the last four round tangle between the two but he has been working at the Elk Creek construction camp of the Copeco for the past several weeks and is hard as nails. In addition to Daw's good condition another factor which is expected to count heavily is the fact that the Labor Day bout is scheduled for ten rounds. There will be four good preliminaries.

COMMUNICATIONS

The Situation in China.
The Editor:
In Wednesday's paper you give a picture of Mrs. Denby and little girl wife of Mr. Denby, secretary of the navy. Mrs. Denby and little girl are riding in a Chinese conveyance. What seems a strange coincidence, today I got a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Derward Williams, cousins of mine, that are doing missionary work in China Teaching. Like work that Miss Young of Ashland is doing now in Korea. Mr. and Mrs. Williams were teaching a summer school in Shanghai this summer. Denby and wife were having a few months' outing in the Orient, and happened to spend a couple of weeks in Changhai and strange to say, another cousin of mine, Fred Davis, from near Blackstone, Illinois, who belongs to the navy, was with Mr. Denby on the same vessel, U. S. Henderson. Mrs. Williams spoke of the fighting among the Chinese. Said they had been fighting on both sides of them at Yenching, where their principal work is, but they were protected from harm. A sort of bandit warfare. They captured two of their students while on their way home, but released them again without harm.

NAME KLANSMEN IN $50,000 LIBEL SUIT

PORTLAND, Aug. 31.—Fred L. Gifford, exalted cyclops of the Ku Klux Klan, and Luther I. Powell, king klogale, were cited Tuesday as co-defendants in a suit brought against R. R. Coster, Charles Hall and the Ku Klux Klan by Tom Garland, attorney, who charged criminal libel and asked $50,000 damages. Presiding Judge Stapleton admitted a motion to file an amended complaint, which cites the two new defendants, to the original complaint filed several weeks ago by Garland. Garland accused the defendant of injuring him by asserting publicly that he voted illegally in the recent primary.

A record breaking attendance from over southern Oregon is predicted for this opening affair next Wednesday night.

Local Seed Co. Installs Feed Mixer

The Monarch Seed & Feed company, who have been manufacturing mixed poultry and dairy feeds for the past five years, and who are pioneers in this work in the Rogue River valley have recently completed the installation of a perfected type of feed mixer to be used in the manufacture of egg producers, scratch and chick foods as well as dairy, pig and hog feeds. In striving to produce mixed feeds of the highest quality the Monarch Seed & Feed company learned that the proper blending of ingredients entering into a mixed feed was as important as the quality of each ingredient. It was therefore necessary in order to insure their customers perfectly uniform feeds at all times to secure efficient mixing machinery which this company has done. They will be prepared in the future to put out properly blended feeds of the highest quality at prices that are right.

The installation of this modern type of mixer will place the Monarch Seed & Feed company in a position to compete with manufacturers of prepared feeds in other sections of the coast with a quality product at the right price. They intend also to do custom mixing for those poultry men who mix their own feeds and who wish their mashes and scratch feeds properly blended.
