WHEREAS, A LADY BACKS UP (Siskiyou News)

To the people of Siskiyou Co. 1 wish to correct the false statements made during the recent cam-paign in regard to the charges made me by John E. Turner, as they are an injustice to him and without foundation.

Mr. Turner did not overcharge me and the amount was nowhere near $500.00 or $700.00 as reported for my husband's funeral, although Mr. Turner risked his life, at that time of the year, coming for the body. It was over two and one half years before he was paid in full and he never even sent me a statement of account and when did make a final payment a dis-

CAN ALL YOU "CAN."

HE PRESENT situation in Jackson county shows the great need of more or larger canneries on one hand, and increased old storage facilities on the other.

Tons and tons of excellent fruit of all kinds are going to waste cause the local canneries have all they can handle with their presant facilities and the shortage of labor, and unless there is an improvenent in the refrigerator car shortage, more will go to waste, because of the limited cold storage.

The value of irrigation has been strongly demonstrated by the tremendous increase in fruit and produce production. But such an increase is valueless unless the produce can find a market. Fruit and produce going to waste now, if put in cans, could be turned into good aoney, some time in the future, and with increased cold storage, late pears could be held until the market is ready to receive them.

Here are two pressing practical problems, which the people of Southern Oregon might well unite upon for their proper solution.

Meanwhile, the suggestion that all residents of Medford and Jackson county, proceed to take advantage of the low price of fruit. and produce and "can all they can" is an excellent one. Concerted effort in this direction will not only mean money for the fruit pro-ducer, but money for the fruit consumer. Here is a bit of commu-for coronation services? Ans. Roufort in this direction will not only mean money for the fruit pronity service, which the housewives can put over, if they will only take prompt and united action.

When in doubt, vote "No."

THE FATAL CROSSING.

HE fatal railway crossing! Grim death still functions there, with locomotives tossing their victims in the air. In vain the signboards glisten with warnings wide and high, for men won't look and listen, and consequently die. Each day we order caskets for people killed by trains; the coroners, with baskets, pick up the strewn remains. Along the highway's edges, and from the stumps and stones, and from the trees and hedges, they pick the collarbones. It ought to be a warning, and yet, alas, alack! The prudent signboards scorning, we cross the railway track; and now an engine busy comes whooping up the rails, and hits our priceless Lizzie and through the air it sails. A spark plug and a piston is all that's left of Liz; we will not look or listen as merrily we whize The coroner is keeping his tab on our remains; our stricken aunts are weeping and cussing railway trains. Some gent will read these verses, I have no doubt, today; and, thinking not of hearses, he'll scoot along his way; he'll strike a gait that's dizzy, that's neither safe nor sane, and presently his Lizzie will hit a railway train. We'll gather up the pieces, and as we toil we'll wail, "The death list still increases! No warnings will avail!"
