

MEDFORD DAY AT COUNTY FAIR IS RECORD BREAKER

Thursday was Medford Day at the Jackson County Fair, and there was a great outpouring of the citizens. They poured out from the marble topped kiosks and the cool creek bottomed, the gas flume ranges and the sticky districts, from the silent places and genial spots, and all seemed to enjoy their respective solaces most unreservedly.

There was 1100 people in the grandstand, close packed, and three times that many on the ground enjoying to get on the fence, in spite of the efforts of traffic directors to shove them from their perilous perches. Finally the G. D. A. became interested in events, and let nature take her course.

Early arrivals in the grandstand were treated to a sample of efficiency and engineering wisdom. A pure white Fordian tractor, duly labeled as such, snorted up and down in front, pulling a homemade drag, upon which was stationed Councilman J. W. Dressler, in the full glory of his 119 pounds with all his clothes on. A 225-pound dignitary of higher rank viewed the smoothing out process with a critical eye.

The opening number of the afternoon was motorcycle polo. This is a good game. Then came a horse race, followed by a motorcycle race against time, followed by another horse race, and then another motorcycle race. Two of these speeding vehicles came right to entangling hind wheels near the grandstand, by a hair, and a red one.

Item of news was sent me, Sept. 8th. There was a good sized party went from here to Ashland on Labor day to attend the celebration and enjoy a picnic dinner in the beautiful park. The landlady of the Sunnyside and our daughter, (they don't like to see their names in print) and our son-in-law and daughter Ed and Millie from Fort Klamath, and Jud Edsall were among those who went from here, and for me to say they had a good time would be useless for they always have a good time on such occasions.

Court News

Oscar Meivin Shepard and Lela Bohland, et al. vs. J. A. ...

Notice to all Landowners in Medford Irrigation District and to all whom it may concern. You are hereby notified that: T. J. Hamlin, L. and W. B. Carpenter, A. M. James Estate, J. P. Roberts, Abigail Smith, J. W. Berrian, E. H. Melling et al., B. H. Alberts, Ida Alice Parsons, L. C. and Ethel J. Mack, Bert Stanchiff, A. W. Short, H. F. ...

Mr. and Mrs. Eud Hildreth and Mr. Hildreth's mother took dinner at the Sunnyside Monday on their way home. They had been taking a vacation down in northern California combining business and pleasure.

The Sunday, Sept. 3 guests at the Sunnyside were Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Brown and Mrs. Carl Taylor and a friend from Portland, Mrs. Carl Taylor's husband, a son of Mrs. R. G. Brown by his first husband, and Mrs. Taylor and friend have been here visiting the Brown family.

John Haak, Jr., and wife of Portland came in Sunday afternoon to visit their uncle, L. K. Haak and family and to spend Labor day with them.

Rudolph Weidman reports that they have about fifteen hundred boxes of pears picked by himself and wife and that the pears are A-1, finishing up the job Saturday afternoon, Sept. 2. When it comes to working in an orchard Mr. and Mrs. Weidman will make a full team any where.

The foregoing items were sent to me from home by a friend, and now I will resume my journey on the railroad to Williams where I took the stage for Wilbur Hot Sulphur Springs.

When we left Tehama there was little to be seen until daylight and we were riding over one of California's noted prairies covered with fine farms where we could see crops of different kinds, but, of course, owing to my poor eyesight I could not tell from the car window what it was but I was told that it was alfalfa and rice principally but there were also other products in some places. There were orchards and vineyards. There is a large canal running through the valley that affords water for irrigating purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dunnington returned Monday from a trip to Portland.

Mr. Hollis Parks was a business visitor in Medford Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were doing business in Medford Monday evening.

Uniontown school opened Monday with an enrollment of fifteen pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Weston went to Ashland Saturday and Mrs. Weston remained to visit.
