Ye Smudge Pot By Arthur Perry.

The New Brunswick, N. J., murder unique, because it has nothing at all do with bright lights and chorus irls, hightoned Sin, and metropolitan ayety, cabarets and rum, but concerns nly unstanding citizens, who went to hurch on Sunday, and prowled around te community's Lovers Lane on week ights. There are no skulking under orld figures in the picture, but the nots that snuffed out the lives of the reacher and the choir leader, flushed covey of spooners who were fondling ands, and voices that yelled "Amen" ie loudest were cooing softly when ie crash came. The latest to be routl out of the shadows is the basso of the choir—a Godfearing man on a byride with the soprano, who is nov ellowing bullfully against the resulint publicity. The authorities, so far ave no clues to the assassins, and ave discovered nothing except lintly collection of hypocrites of roantic tendencies.

Information comes to light that the smo-Klano candidate wears suspeners, which is just what is needed in governor, stooping over to blow the res of bigotry, when not reducing the ixes, by the wind method. If his impaign managers follow up this artling clue, it will be revealed that acrobatic fourflusher wears ritches, like the rest of the farmers.

"THE CITY OF HONOLULU."

N SPITE of the parlor pessimists we live in a wonderful world. L Today in many directions the pendulum is swinging back, but in due time it will swing forward again, and reach a farther outpost of human advancement than was ever reached before. For this, after all, is the immutable law of Nature,

Meanwhile it is well to note an amazing blessing of comparatively recent advent, which in the hurly burly of everyday affairs, is too often taken as a matter of course, or jn a sense, entirely forgotten.

But for the wireless, the newspapers of America today would be ignorant of a frightful tragedy at sea, a passenger ship burned to the waters edge, and 300 human beings reported among the missing.

But thanks to the radio, and the fine traditions of these "telegraphers of the sea," no tragedy is chronicled but the thrilling story of a merciful rescue,

"Everyone on board safe and well" was the cheering message projected over the waves through 300 miles of space last night. In youth we marvelled at the potency of the magician's wand, but nothing in Grimms could surpass in its sheer dramatic wonder, this defiance and mastery of what were the accepted laws of nature only i dozen years ago.

And so the world progresses, and becomes, in spite of periodic fits I the gloom brigade, a safer and better and finer place in which to

Civilization today, to many thinking people, appears tottering on the abyss. Well civilizations have tottered before, empires have fallen, but if one can withdraw from the immediate scene sufficiently to secure a perspective of history's stage as a whole, it will be found that the human race, the lot of the average man, has through all the ages maintained a steady ascending betterment.

Expert's Views on the School Bill

The bill proposing an amendment tion is very interesting. With the purpose of it 1 am in entire accord. believe, however, that it goes altogether too far. It seems to me to violate fundamental rights of American citizens with regard to the educa-tion of their children. It is quite true that the public schools would be supported liberally.
