A JOINT PRAYER MEETING BAPTIST CHURCH THURSDAY

will be a joint prayer meeting of all the churches at the Baptist church on North Central at 3 p. m. on Thursday the 19th. The meeting will be led by Cash Wood, the county C. A. secretary. We hope for a large attendance from the various churches. Each church is laying its plans for fall und winter, and in order that their work may count for the most we need a deep earnest spirit of cooperation and praper.

The Ministerial association has set Sunday, Oct. 29 as "Go-to-Church" Sunday when every one in the city, men, women and children is urged to attend the church of their choice and make the resolution to be found in the house of worship every Sunday during the months following. The greatest financiers and statesmen of our nation have reiterated over and over again the great need of the country at this time for a widespread revival of the old fashioned religion of reverence and devotion to God and His Son, Our Savior, and the church which He has established. Another joint prayer serfor a widespread revival of the old established. Another joint prayer service will be held next week also at the Presbyterian church on Thursday afternoon at 3 p. m. Plan to be present at one or both of these meetings.

Medford City Tax Levy Talks

NUMBER I.

Figures are said to be dry and uninteresting, however in these times f heavy and increasing tax burdens, the tax levy of Medford is not unineresting reading.

teresting reading.

For four or five years prior to the war (1913-1917 just prior to the Gates administration) Medford tax levies like those of other towns, school districts and counties had remained fairly stationary, with an average tax levy for the period of about 14½ mills.

Then came the war with its galaxy of cost plus contracts, trebled wages and other inflation and taxes increased generally.

Tax levies in the ten other cities in Oregon of about Medford's size all showed an increase, increasing in the case of Bend to more than double the pre-war figures, the average increase being approximately 40 per cent.

Yet Medford's tax levy for the last six years (the six years of the Gates administration) still averages the same as it did for the period before the war, 14½ mills.
